Employee Assistance Program legal services

Peace of mind for your legal concerns

The law can be confusing. And a legal problem of any kind can cause worry, fear and stress. That's why your work-life service offers a program to help you understand and work through the confusion of legal issues.

Why call?

Your EAP legal service has experts available to talk to you about a variety of legal topics. They can help you with:

- Divorce and custody issues
- Adoption
- Real estate
- Personal injury
- Landlord/tenant issues
- Small claims
- Estate planning
- Criminal matters

Your EAP will set you up with a legal expert who can offer help and advice. It can save you time, too. But, the most valuable thing that your EAP offers is peace of mind.

How your legal service works:

- The program gives you and your household members access to expert legal help by phone or in person, depending on what you need.
- Consultations are a free, half hour session per issue per year with a lawyer who is trained in your concern.
- This service is available anywhere in the United States.
- If you need a lawyer, you can get a discount on attorney fees.
- Attorneys can't self refer by phone, which means you get unbiased advice.
- Other helpful legal resources are also online as part of the work-life website.
