

Skee-socks

This game is similar to ski ball, but it only needs items from your home. For this game, you will need some floor area to play, a pair of rolled socks, and tape, string, boxes, or baskets as well as at least one player.

Create a playing space in your home by arranging your tape or string in this pattern to make a goal zone. (The numbers represent how many points each zone is. You can label the zones with sticky notes, scraps of paper or by writing on the tape.)

(If you don't have tape, you can use boxes or baskets lined up behind one another.)

The goal of this game is to toss the sock ball into different sections of the goal zone to earn different amounts of points.

If you are taking turns, each person gets two tries each turn and then they add up their points to see how they did. If you want to make it more competitive you can play 5 rounds of this and see who earned the most points at the end of the round.

(You can adjust the point values to match your child's math abilities and make adding points into math practice)
