Class History

Whee! 1947 and Seniors (at last). Those innocent little Freshmen of '43 have become the worldly wise Seniors of '47.

How terrified we were at the thought of initiation to which we were led like innocent lambs to slaughter.

Our advisors were Miss Tannenhause and Miss Hall. Our class officers were: President, Richard Beatty; Vice President, Edwin Bentley; Secretary, Phyllis VanDerSluys; Treasurer, Richard Cast; Reporter, Ida Phillips. Our activity that year was a movie held in June.

We entered our Sophomore year with huge confidence and great ideas. Our advisors were Miss Cloutier and Mrs. Shaw. Our class officers were: Catherine Atanasoff, Frank Porter, Edwin Bentley, Phyllis VanDerSluys, and Audrey Sanford. Our activities were a stage show featuring the "Pals of the Saddle" and the sale of notebook paper.

Our Junior year began with us feeling very grown up and sophisticated. Now we really began to work to raise money. We still had the same advisors. Our class officers were: Edwin Bentley, Jim Cloutier, John Washburn, Charlotte Fletcher and Frank Porter.

What! Is this a dream or are we really Seniors? Initiation, Senior Play, New York trip and Senior yearbook were worth our four years of struggle.

Our years in B. H. S. have been very happy ones. Now as we leave it we will always cherish the memories of our "school days", with fond happiness.

We wish to thank those who have made possible our graduation and hope that the future classes receive the same satisfaction from High School that we have.

SENIOR PLAY

EVERYBODY'S CRAZY

Three nearly broke college fellows, namely Herbert Stanley, Tommy Wilkins and Elmer Sneed, in seeking to make some money bought a summer hotel on notes from Mr. Bates. They really had a whale of a good time. The audience got some good laughs watching the way in which the trio met up with Old Man Adversity and polished him off with much eclat.

Business was terrible—so very bad it became necessary to give the inn a reputation as a haven for ghosts and the hiding place for an old miser's gold. Then came the paying guests, including Mrs. Spooner, a widow who was just a funny bundle of nerves; Adam Pottle, a farmer bachelor, who is subject to nightmares; Katura Katt, an old maid who dabbled in spiritualism and her niece Julie Mather, who also happened to be Herb's fiancée; Godfrey Van Gordon, a sleep-walking Romeo; Caroline, his always-on-hand hypochondriac wife; and their gumchewing daughter, Celia. Libby Ann, a cockney cook was afraid of spooks and brought laughs along with Gladiola, the colored maid and Jasper, the bellhop.

During the play Elmer Sneed was forced to impersonate a doctor and treated the guests for all sorts of fancied ailments, while Tommy assumed a female character role and played fast and loose with many a palpitating masculine heart.

BASKETBALL WRITE-UP

A colorful and speedy Broadalbin Quintet again has wound up the current season of play with a fairly excellent won-lost record of eighteen wins against three losses: The three setbacks were suffered by B. H. S. at the hands of St. Mary's of Amsterdam by eight points, Fort Plain by two points, and Gloversville by one point.

Over a span of eleven years Broadalbin has amassed a total of ninety eight wins against five losses in Tri-County League play. As a result of winning the Tri-County League, Broadalbin for the third straight year met Kinderhook in the sectional play-offs, winning by four points.

This year the team was ably captained by Co-Captains Jim Cloutier and Jim Pelcher, who also achieved the majority of the points, the former with 346 and the latter with 253. Mike Dobrowolski, Dick Beatty and Harold Smith displayed excellent defensive and offensive playing by handling the setting up of plays and continually breaking up the opposing teams offense. Edwin Bentley, Frank Porter and Dutch Holt were ready on reserve to take over if any of the starting five failed to click.

At the start of the season only two of last year's regular varsity members had returned. Coach Stillman proceeded to build around these two men a team, which would be capable of producing victory. There were a number of likely prospects from the preceding year's Junior Varsity team. Those to make the grade were Dutch Holt and Dick Beatty.
