We Dedicate . . .

It is altogether fitting and proper that we dedicate the 1964 KENNYETTO KRONICLE to Paul Chase. After 18 years of devoted service as a custodian, Mr. Chase will retire this year.

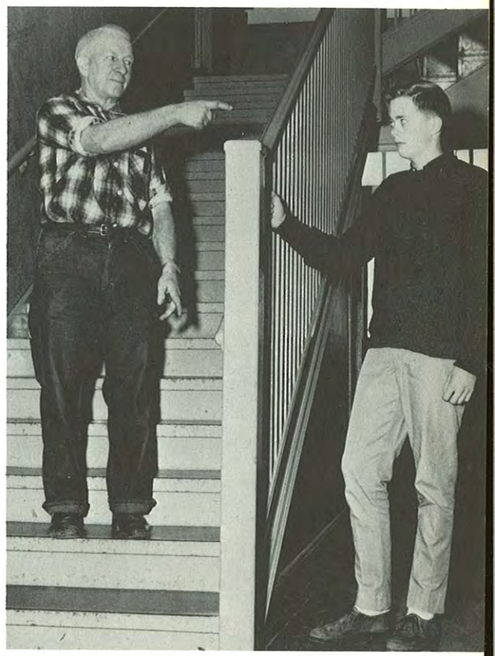

During his years at B.C.S. Paul became our symbol of dependability. It was he we turned to whenever we needed a bus driver, whenever we wanted something fixed, whenever the paper or chalk supply was low. Paul proved his loyalty by never missing a home basketball game in all the years he's worked here.

We know how much we will miss Mr. Chase . . . and we bet he'll miss us too. However, we are sure he will find the pleasure he deserves in retirement as he pursues his hobbies of gardening, hunting, and fishing.

Best wishes, Paul, from all of us, for a long and happy retirement.

Looking forward to a happy retirement.

"Once is enough."

"One, please."

Broadalbin Central School . . . Our School

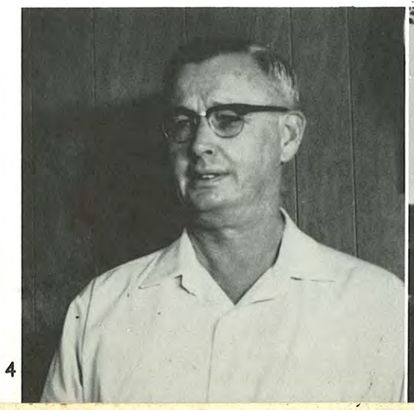

We Celebrate Our 30th

Thirty years ago, the first Kennyetto Kronicle was published. As we celebrate our 30th anniversary, we enjoy recalling and observing the many changes that have taken place.

Then Broadalbin was a small, noncentralized school. Today, our staff and student body have increased many times. New courses, clubs, and activities have been added. To meet the increased demand, a new school was constructed on the hill in 1934.

The world into which our graduates are going has changed too! Our nation is engaged in a constant struggle with those who oppose our democratic system. Modern science has provided us with new techniques that challenge man's ingenuity. We still face the same social problems.

We are confident, however, that Broadalbin will continue to produce graduating classes able to meet today's challenges. We also look with hope to the future. As our needs increase, the school system must grow to meet them. There will be a need for more classroom space, more areas of study, and above all, more dedicated students and teachers to meet the challenges of an automated society, and to carry on the traditions set by their predecessors.

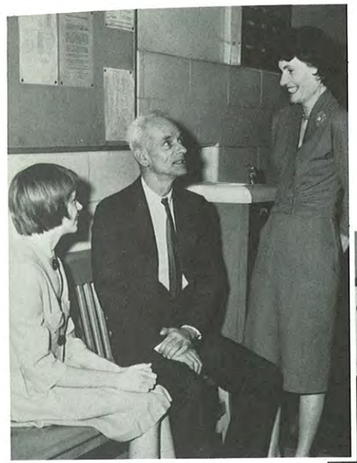

We are lucky to have these faculty members with us still: William Stillman, and Mrs. Jeffords who, though retired, substitutes for us occasionally.

Below, some 1934 graduates come back to pose with their offspring who are at school today.

Faculty and Staff

Administrators Speak to '64 Class

Education is a lifelong process of development and growth. It is an essential part of every culture. The success of American civilization depends on the capacity and desire of the people to maintain democracy, which is "Government of the people, by the people, for the people." As the future leaders of our country, I charge you to contribute your talents and abilities to make our country and the world a better place in which to live.

James C. Murray

JAMES C. MURRAY,
Supervising Principal

As high school seniors you are aware of the changes (especially in the scientific and technological fields) that have occurred since the first Kennyetto Kronicle appeared 30 years ago. Most of these changes were made since your birth.

A comparison between the '34 and '64 Kronicles shows considerably more than an increase in size. The format is modern, the photos candid. Thirty years hence, when you thumb through your Yearbook, the memories of classmates and past events will be made more vivid by this record.

Michael Chouse

MICHAEL CHOUSE,
Secondary Supervisor

It has been your good fortune to have inherited as a legacy the contributions of a splendid institution. Not only have the instructors and the Board of Education given you their best, but every member of the community has left, in some large or small way, an imprint upon your character.

May this early training from Broadalbin Central School inspire and motivate you to meet the important crises and experiences of everyday living so that each of you will in some way help establish an even greater America and peace throughout the world.

B.H.S. Faculty Leads the Way

As the educational needs of Broadalbin High School have grown, so has the size of the faculty. Today there are 40 teachers, a notable hike over 1934's six-member teaching staff.

In addition we have two part-time specialists, a psychologist and a speech therapist, who give particular attention to those who need it.

The laboratory facilities, attractive textbooks and audiovisual aids that we take for granted were not available to the students of 30 years ago.

Hillbilly Weddin' Nets Rave Reviews

"Hillybilly Weddin'," by LeRoma Rose, was the hilarious mountain comedy the Seniors chose to produce. It concerned Paw Belsnickle's problems in "Marrying off," in a hurry, his three older daughters. Directed by Miss Barbara Hendrix, the play was a rousing success.

Seniors Take Over

The Seniors took over one day for their annual fling at teaching. They got a first-hand taste of what teachers put up with day in, day out. Hopefully some will like it enough to consider becoming teachers.

Administrators Rockwell and Lester consult.

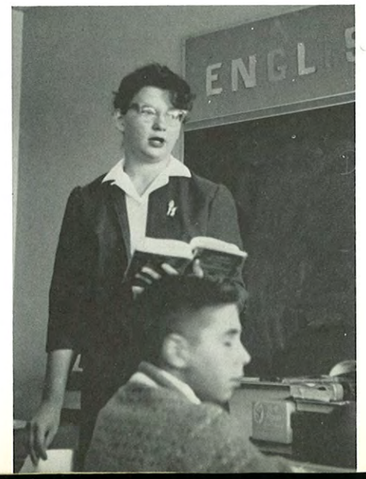

Social Studies stumps Mr. LaRonca . . . just temporarily.

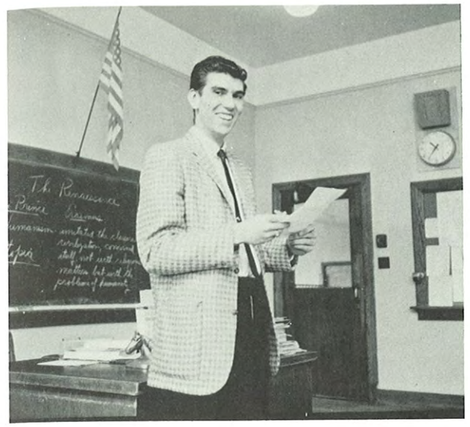

Teachers Hoyt and Clute relax between classes.

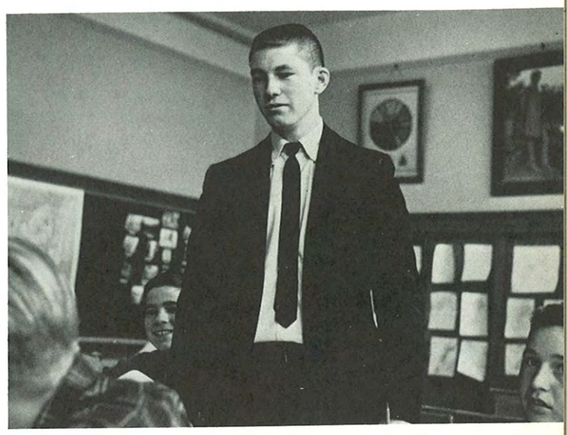

Mr. Kortz considers a student's question.

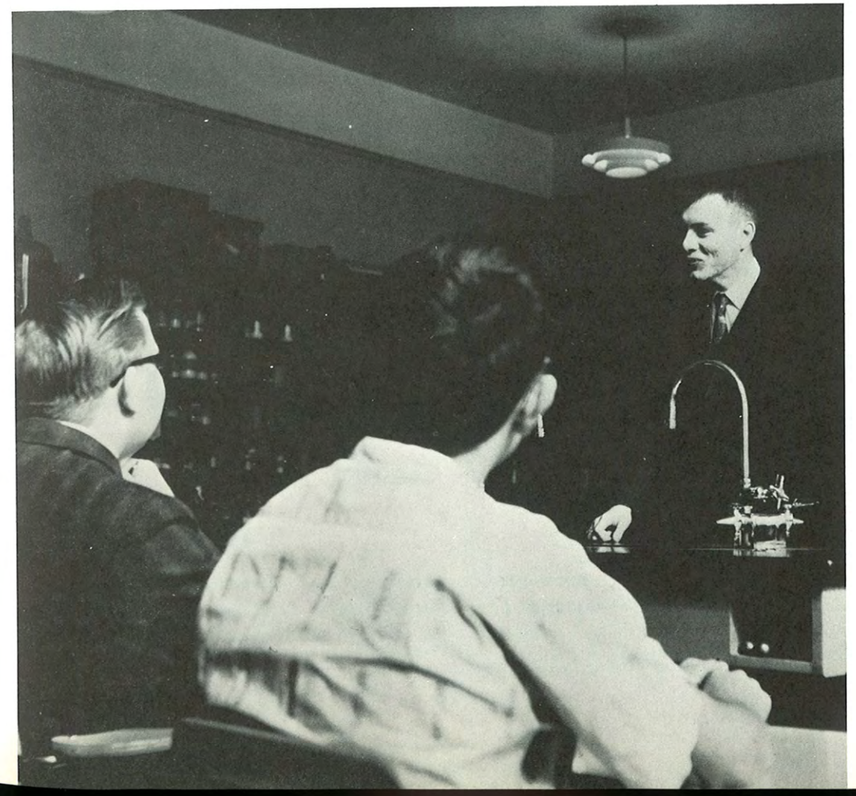

Miss June tackles parts of speech.

Mr. Sullivan enjoys his history class assignment.

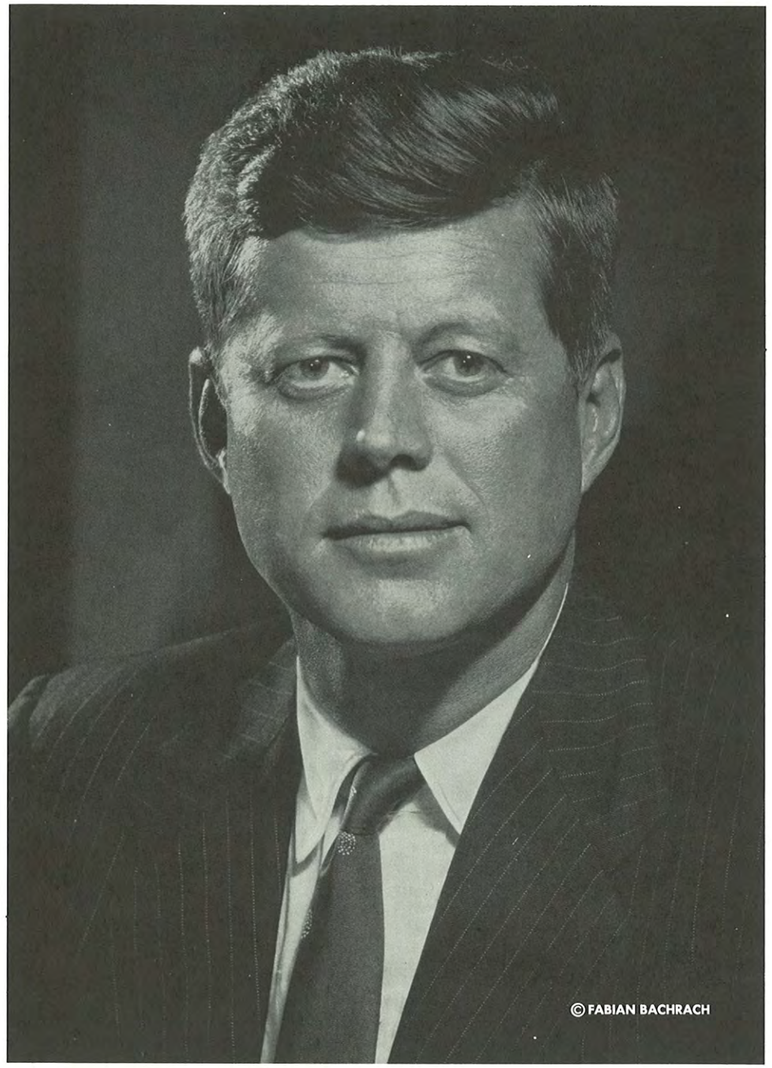

Mr. Calder finds eighth graders somewhat noisy and trying.

Science is the forte of Prof. Connelly.

The Late President John F. Kennedy

@Fabian Bachrach

"Ask not what your country can do for you . . . ask what you can do for your country."

These words, perhaps more than any other, characterized the philosophy of our late president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy. These words, more than any other, lit a flame of dedication in our hearts, urged us to great deeds for our school, for our community, for the world. Hopefully we never will let that flame be extinguished.

Yearbook Staff Sets Record

The first issue of the Kennyetto Kronicle was created by seven stalwarts. The 30th Anniversary issue boasts a staff of 25. For the first time, the Seniors were aided by Junior trainees.

The first assembly of '63-'64 was a lively promotion skit put on by the entire staff. Their combined efforts have produced the largest Yearbook (in number of pages and ads) in the school's history.

Record-Making Panel Rings the Bell

For the first time in school history, a panel of four contestants participated in the WRGB television show, "Little Red Schoolhouse." Our team retired UNDEFEATED after appearing four times and setting a record by tying the score on its first appearance. Mrs. M. Machold advised the winning senior team.

More than 200 teams have competed on the show during its two-year existence, and only six other school teams have retired undefeated. We were very proud!

Mrs. Machold takes a bow.

The undefeated champions.

Board of Electors Monitors Primaries

To learn first-hand how a presidential candidate is chosen, Mr. R. Horwitz's history classes conducted a primary election in which the entire senior high participated. First a Board of Electors was elected. They in turn circulated petitions to assemble a slate of candidates (all Republicans) for the office. Then those who wished to vote had to register. Finally, Primary Day arrived, and all registered voters were taken by bus down to the Firehouse to vote on regular voting machines. Broadalbin's choice for president: John Cabot Lodge.

Mr. R. Horwitz (standing) checks registration lists with members of the Board of Elections.

"Voice of Democracy" Echoes

Once a year Juniors and Seniors who wish to may participate in the "Voice of Democracy" contest sponsored by the National Assn. of Broadcasters and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Students deliver 5 minute speeches based on a democratic theme suggested by the sponsors. The contest winner is "taped" and the tape sent to compete with other winners throughout the country. The national champion wins a college scholarship.

This year the theme was "Your Role as a Citizen," and seven contestants competed under the guidance of Mrs. L. Cohen. The winner was Irene Bishko.

V of D winner I. Bishko poses with last year's victor, A. Halloran.

They Print the News

The Kennyetto Breeze is published four times a school year under the direction of Miss R. Fellows. The reporting staff is divided into senior and junior high students, with the junior staff advised by Mrs. M. Morse. Each issue is based on a central theme, such as Christmas, literature, spring, or school-closing.

Youths Go to Youth Conference

For the first time, a group of Broadalbin students attended the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth. The purpose of the conclave is to give young people a chance to discuss problems youths face concerning health, family, work, recreation, schools, and the law. Representatives attend meetings held at both the state and county level. The 10 Broadalbin students who represented our school were: Irene Bishko, Martha Brownell, James Connelly, Russ Dettenreider, Richard Fountain, Alexandria Halloran, James Murray, Karen Nellis, Barbara Steffek, and William Wright.

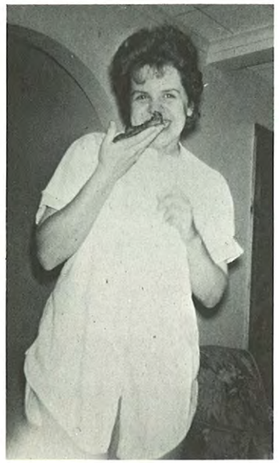

A Lesson in Democracy

Each year two boys and one girl are chosen from the Junior Class to represent the school at Empire Boys' and Girls' State, an event sponsored by the American Legion, Rotary Club, and Legion Auxiliary. Young participants from all over New York State spend one week at a college campus creating and running city, county, and state governments so that they may learn the processes of democratic action.

This year Boys' State was held at Colgate University, and Girls' State at Cortland. The students chosen to represent Broadalbin were: Barbara Steffek, Lawrence Frank, and Darryl Ferguson.

Senior Drums Go Bang - the Cymbals Clang -

The 45-member Senior Band had a busy year. It performed at parades, in exchange assemblies with other schools, and in statewide competitions. In addition, the musicians provided the school with outstanding entertainment at Christmas and Spring concerts.

To prepare for various band events, the members meet with conductor Rishel, behind soundproof doors, three periods weekly.

Sluggers at Bat

One of the prominent sports of the time is baseball. At Broadalbin boys in grades 9-12 are eligible to try out for our team. This year our team's score consisted of 9 wins and 6 losses which was an average year's score. We hope to better the average next year.

1934

Without a good start in the Elementary Grades none of us would become Seniors. These students will soon have a chance to carry on our traditions.

1964

Elementary

The Twirlettes strut smartly in a county Veterans' Day Parade.

K to Six Keeps Up

"More of everything" applies to the Kindergarten through sixth grade classes more than to any other school group. The student body has almost tripled from 225 in 1934 to more than 600 today. Student activities have grown apace. Today they include two student councils, a band, basketball teams, and a Tonette ensemble. In addition, a number of the K-3 children are members of the Twirlettes, an independent Broadalbin organization that performs at various school functions such as the Scholarship Fund Basketball Games.

Grade schoolers are joyful participants in school activities, whether it be the Thanksgiving Day Play (above) or a "pause that refreshes."

Mrs. P. Stillman holds an informal meeting with her 4 to 6 grade teacher associates. In Front, Miss B. Frederick and Mrs. R. Hoshlyk; directly behind, Mrs. M. Towne, Mrs. G. Opdyke and Mrs. L. Burr. Top Row, Miss N. Maneth, Miss A. Cassaro and Mrs. J. Crannell.

Elementary Faculty Sets Pace

The largest grade school faculty in our history shepherds the growing school population. This contrasts markedly with 1934 when there was no Kindergarten and the elementary faculty numbered nine.

Faculty for Kindergarten to grade 3 are: First Row: Mrs. L. Leslie; Mrs. P. Rishel; Mrs. A. Flanagan; Mrs. D. Konieczny; Mrs. J. Wilkinson; Mr. L. Hickok. Second Row: Miss T. Argotsinger; Mrs. G. LaBahn; Miss H. Wyzykowski; Mrs. C. Loveless. Third Row: Mrs. C. Prussien; Mrs. D. Davis; Mrs. H. Sabatis; Mrs. G. Stewart. Top Row: Mrs. M. Griffin and Mrs. W. Michaluk.

Snacks for faculty or students are all in the day's work for Mrs. L. Stanley, Mrs. G. Steele, Mrs. R. Brooks and Mrs. M. Crawford.

Staff Members Meet School Needs

Eager to lend a hand are teachers' aides Mrs. E. Hayes and Mrs. E. Nellis.

Our bus drivers act as "substitute parents" on the buses. Whoever envied them their jobs? Kneeling: R. Reed; J. Crannell; F. Ferguson; L. Jeffords; P. Chase; R. Trevett; L. Pearo. Standing: F. Brooks; H. Johnson; L. Jeffers; J. Rose; H. Fletcher; A. Tyrrell; W. Boraski; S. Steele.

Miss A. Cassaro, advisor to the 4-6 Student Council, works out rules of conduct with representatives. First Row: L. Hoshlyk; B. Lambdin; P. Tanner; J. Carpetner; C. Crannell; T. Ruberti; K. Crannell. Second Row: J. Mockry; D. Anderson; D. Sniezyk; J. Richards; T. Christopher; D. Benware. Third Row: B. Klymkow; R. Holt; S. Husvar; T. Pearsall; D. Christopher.
