"Friendship is a sheltering tree."

We cannot remember being at Perth without Stell. You have been more than a friend in a sea of friends, more than an adult in a world of adults. We all have our favorite reminiscences of some favor you have done for us. We dedicate our book to you, but more important, we take cherished memories of your smile and understanding with us . . . wherever we may go.

. . .180 days of giving and gaining - knowledge, friendship, and responsibility. . .

John hustles for a loose ball.

The opponent breaks up Ray's bid for a goal.

Bernie "heads it."

Dave D'Addio rushes in to help Ray out of a rough situation.

Drama Club

This year's Drama Club presentation--"The Devil and Daniel Webster"--gave the Scene Stealers some practical experience in the skills they have practiced under the guidance of Miss Ruggiero. Applying make-up, stage movements, voice control, and stage management are some of the arts mastered by the group this year.

Annie-Marie have a good time this summer always remember the fun we've had this year. I hope next year will be more of the same. R.S. you're really a good kid.

Library Club

Book Fair! This was the password for the 1963-64 Library Club. Hundreds of books were sold by Mrs. Whipple and her aids in an attempt to instill the student body with a fondness for books and reading. Besides this the Library Club members spent most of their spare time stamping and repairing books in order to make the library a pleasanter and more attractive place.

Archery

Archery was a new feature at Perth this year. Mrs. Gennett led her girl "bows" into competition with Mayfield and various other schools--making this a popular and permanent activity at Perth.

The voices of Judy Frasier and Calvin Vickers penetrated the sound waves of radio station WENT as they gave their weekly report on the activities and recent happenings at Perth High. Each Thursday - promptly at 12 noon - the students in the cafeteria turned their attention to the familiar voices of Judy and Cal as they related the top ten tunes at Perth and a schedule of important events taking place there.

Monday evenings the student body eagerly turned to the Teen Scene page of the Amsterdam Evening Recorder where they found a column devoted to the occurrences at Perth High and often a picture of their fellow students. Joining the troop of reporters from other area schools were Lynne Johnson and Mary Simeone - whose lively column accurately depicted the "goings on" at Perth.

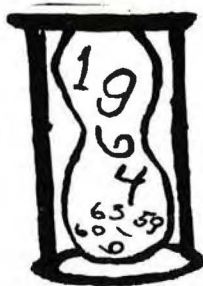

BUZZ! There's the dismissal bell! In a headlong rush, school empties. Those that are left may be drifting down to cheering practice, basketball practice, drama club meeting, or other organized activities. But school isn't over yet. Second-trip couples get a few more minutes of relative quiet with each other. Teachers are here to give extra help on those tough homework assignments. Invariably, there are small faculty meetings. There is always work to be done in the library. And as the kids' high-pitched, excited voices display a relaxation of the day's regimen, so, too, it is the time for the faculty to relax, talking shop or relating the day's humorous events.

Evening Activities

Strictly Formal

The ageless teenage dilemmas of dating and match-making provided a hilarious evening for the sellout crowds that attended both performances of the senior class presentation of Strictly Formal. The long evening hours of rehearsal by the cast, the unseen, unsung dedication of the stage crew, and the patient, understanding direction of Miss Ruggiero was well rewarded by the loud and long applause of an appreciative audience.

Informal Dances

These cats are terrible!

PEOPLE . . . I can't hear you!!!

This stuff? Are you kiddin'?

Shucks . . . you're o.k. yourself.

Meanwhile--backstage . . .

These are just a few of the exciting dances sponsored by the various classes and organizations to finance their extracurricular activities: "THE BIG DANCE IS ON--PART I," "HOOTENANNY," and "WASHINGTON SQUARE." Highlighting the dance season was the much speculated appearance of the surprise D. J. at the cheerleaders' dance, "D. J. King." Throughout the year local D. J. 's and bands provided us with many evenings of dancing and social fun.

12 wins, 6 losses

Timmy controls the tap.

Keep number fourteen off the boards, Mike.

Sectionals

Having avoided the necessity for a playoff by winning their last league game, the "Big Red" team stormed to the semi-finals before being stopped by the tall, aggressive Lake George quintet. The underdog role seemed to suit our boys as they upset both Milne and the highly regarded Voorheesville aggregation with a crowd-pleasing display of hustle and teamwork. A hard-fought defeat to the taller Lake Georgians does not mar the pride we share with the team that never quit, the Perth Red Raiders.

Perth	66	Milne	48
Perth	60	Voorheesville	56
Perth	72	Lake George	80

Faculty Game??

Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!

To the dismay of the proud j. v. basketball team was the shellacking administered them by the combined power house of varsity and j. v. cheerleaders. By the way, the boys wore boxing gloves! Regardless, the outcome would have been the same.

This year's added attraction was the appearance of the fabulous Beatles.

UunnnH!!

May I cut in?

The final game was a well-played, enjoyable contest pitting the Broadalbin faculty against the Perth faculty. The score?--unimportant. The results were a hilarious evening of entertainment and a substantial increase in the Faculty Scholarship Fund.

Boop Boop Bi Doo!
