HLPAC Culinary Students Show Off Their Skills!

On Thursday September 19th HLPAC Culinary Students worked the Shamrock Food Show at the Anaheim Convention Center. The students spent the day working with different food vendors, cooking steaks, chicken, and making salads, handing out samples and giving information about products. Partnering vendors were very impressed and raved about the student workers. HLPAC is proud of their professional behavior and work ethic. This was a fantastic and highly successful work-based activity for the culinary students!
