

Scott Otsuka and his wife, Ronda, have lived in Roseville since 1994 and came to the community specifically to reside in the Dry Creek attendance area. Their two daughters both attended district schools. Scott has enjoyed a 30+ year career in finance and currently owns a mortgage brokerage in Roseville, Infinity Home loans, Inc. Mr. Otsuka served on the Quail Glen School Site Council, a number of district committees, and was the Treasurer of the Measure E campaign which passed in February of 2008.

Active in the community, Scott served eight years on the City of Roseville Parks and Recreation Commission, is Past President of the Rotary Club of Roseville, and coached youth soccer and softball for 20 years. He is a 2005 graduate of the Roseville Chamber of Commerce's "Leadership Roseville" program and a Chamber Ambassador. The Otsuka family regularly volunteers their time with the Salvation Army, the Placer County SPCA, the Tommy Apostolos Fund, and the St. Baldrick's Foundation. Mr. Otsuka is committed to education and the community. "We believe that the best way to communicate to our girls the value of their education is to show them how important it is to us."
