Students tracked their reading on a log. On average, each class maintained reading habits developed during the year and read hundreds of pages!

Congratulations, Class of 2018 and 2021!

The Class of 2021 will have a CP free day on Friday, September 22 (excused from CP for recreational time.) After checking in with your CP teacher you will be called to the blacktop.

Class of 2018 will have a free CP day (excused from CP for recreational time.) on Monday, September 25, 2017. (Tentative)

Student feedback about HMSA Reads, Semester 2

- ▶ Let your CP8 teacher sign the log also (Done!)
- ▶ Offer better prizes (We are working on this by soliciting donations from the community.)
- ▶ Challenge people to read a book that is translated from another language. (yes! Complete the “HMSA Genre Passport” for additional prizes!)
- ▶ Consider making a video instead of only written reviews (Digital “book trailers” will now also count as reviews)
- ▶ Is there a grade level recommended reading list? (We offer recs by teacher since many have mixed classes.)
- ▶ Have students set a reading goal (Great idea! You can also set a bigger goal in the 2017 Goodreads Challenge.)
- ▶ Can we get monthly updates on the class competition?
It’s a possibility. It would require students and teachers being willing to update a Google doc monthly.

Student recommended books

We asked students for their favorite books from Semester 1. Here are their top 5 recs; all are available in our school library!

- ❖ Wonder by Raquel J. Palacio
- ❖ The Giver by Lois Lowry
- ❖ Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children by Ransom Riggs
- ❖ The Martian by Andy Weir
- ❖ Hamlet by William Shakespeare
