

Grade Placement

Did you know? Your "class of" date may be different than your grade level. This is to signal to you where you stand regarding graduation. If you are passing most of your classes, your "class of" date, also called your "cohort", is probably the same as your grade level. If you have failed multiple classes, they may be different.

"BUT I WANT TO GRADUATE WITH MY CLASS!
WHAT CAN I DO?"

Depending on how far behind you are, there may be ways to make up the credits that you need to get caught up. See your school counselor to create a graduation plan. In the meantime, be sure to work hard and study for the courses you are currently taking, because you cannot afford to fail one of those too!
