

SETTING UP AN IN-LINE TEST

If a testing booklet is attached to the materials list of an Illuminate test that has not been created for a traditional on-line administration, an in-line testing option may be possible. This testing situation allows the student to view the test booklet in the left panel while they mark their answers in the right panel.

To set up an in-line test, find the appropriate test from the list, and click on the title to get to the overview screen of that test:

Select the "online testing" option under the "administration" tab:

Click on the "+Add Roster" button to set a roster in assigning the test to students:

Establish the testing options appropriate to assigning the test, and then you will need to attach the in-line booklet. To do this, expand the "online testing-administration settings" section by clicking on the "show" button:

Set the "time of day window" option to "daily window," set the "student pauses" option to 0, and select the testing booklet from the "inline booklet" dropdown field. Be advised that the document must exist in the materials list for the specific test. If it is not in the materials list, it will not appear in the drop-down:
