

Rising Junior Kindergarten Summer Work

summer
2023

Parents,

It is summertime! We encourage you to enjoy the slower pace of these months playing outdoors, swimming, sleeping late, and most of all, spending precious time together with your family.

Please continue to read to your child daily, if possible. Reading to young children promotes brain development, stimulates curiosity and imagination, increases focus and concentration, and encourages healthy social skills.

You may choose books listed on our suggested books page, books you have at home, or books from the library that are of interest to your child. Our main objective is to help cultivate a love for reading at home!

Please know that your family will be in our prayers as we anxiously await the time to welcome you into our JK classrooms in the fall. We pray for relaxing nights, safe travels, and abundant opportunities to make memories with your family.

Blessings,
The Junior Kindergarten Team
