

In 2022, Challenge Charter School received the NASET Exceptional Charter School in Special Education award. This award is the highest honor a charter school can achieve through the NASET (National Association of Special Education Teachers) professional association. This recognition is bestowed on charter schools that meet rigorous professional criteria and have demonstrated truly exceptional dedication, commitment and achievement in the field of special education. Amongst other criteria, Challenge Charter School is proud to be recognized as having the ability to meet a range of student disability needs by employing special education staff with appropriate licensure, having a well-rounded curriculum designed to meet the needs of individual students, providing access to appropriate related services, and seeking to provide a multicultural environment.
