

Advanced Placement

Summer Assignments Ms. Papazian-Moravec

The Advanced Placement Studio Art Portfolio course is a college level studio class. In this class, we will explore different techniques and media together, but the most important ingredient is YOU. AP takes a commitment beyond the classroom for you to grow technically, creatively, and aesthetically. By signing up, you have indicated that you are ready for the challenge, and I am here to help you!

Over the summer work on the following assignments for our first class meeting in September. Keep your failures as well as your successes. Just as the athlete must exercise each day to play well, so must the artist.

Summer assignments will be group critiqued so it's important that you complete them prior to the first day of class. Please bring your work with you for our first class.

A drawing sketchbook 8x10" or larger

Drawing pencils (HB, 2B, 4B, etc.)

Assignments:

1. A couple of times a week, draw what you see in your sketchbook... it shouldn't be empty when you arrive to class. :) Try to draw mainly from life/observation (not photos). Try contour line, gesture line, completed value drawings with strong darks and lights. Consider picking from the following categories:

People – your family, friends, strangers – try drawing them sitting still (watching TV) or capturing movement (like an athletic event or people walking the mall).

Still life – an arrangement of inanimate objects like dishes, apples, etc. Keep your set up for several sittings. Do several views of the same still life and finish with one beautifully rendered piece after you do several views. Your bike, the family car, and children's toys are good subjects.

Landscape – observe and record your surroundings.

2. Choose three of the following assignments to complete over the summer. These should be done outside your sketchbook, on good quality paper that you may take from the art room. You may use any media you like – charcoal, pencil, pastels, paint, digital photos, etc. Render in the style you feel most comfortable with, but don't be afraid to try a new or more advanced material or technique. And please, don't judge yourself - practicing advances your skills!

Illustration 1 Kitchen table or counter set up with objects that involve pattern, and surfaces that reflect. This drawing should focus on correct perspective, a broad range of values, and a strong composition.

Illustration 2 Set up three to five eggs on a bath towel. Concentrate on the round forms of the eggs in contrast to the texture of the bath towel. Take time to place the eggs and develop a strong composition.

Illustration 3 A self-portrait that tells the viewer something about you. Avoid the straightforward, smack dab in the middle of the paper solution, unless you can do something unusual with it. Consider your expression and your head angle. A wide range of values and line quality in the hair is important in this drawing.

Illustration 4 Looking in or out a doorway or window. Both interior and exterior space should be clearly pictured. Try to show depth in your work. The viewer should be able to “walk” into the drawing and feel the physical space.

Illustration 5 A landscape that shows both near and far. This must be done from observation, so consider your backyard a landscape.

Good Luck... and have a great summer. See you in September!!
