ABOUT

Cardinal Newman High School (CNHS), located in West Palm Beach, Florida, is a grade 9 – 12 college-preparatory Catholic school with a strong 60-year tradition of excellence. The expansive forty-five-acre campus consists of two classroom buildings, gymnasium, cafeteria, alumni building, athletic fields, and other facilities. Through the efforts of the President and in collaboration with all stakeholders, the student body at Cardinal Newman High School receives almost $2.4 Million in tuition assistance.

History

In September 1961 a core faculty of Adrian Dominican Sisters, priests from the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, and lay men and women relocated from St. Ann's Catholic School to the new, one-building Cardinal Newman High School.

Numerous additions and improvements began almost immediately. Over the years a second classroom building, cafeteria, gymnasium, athletics building, and stadium were added. In the 2000's, new science labs and a music program were introduced, and numerous security enhancements were added, including fencing and security cameras. Athletics saw the addition of practice fields, a softball diamond, and a track and field complex. The school cafeteria was completely renovated in 2010 and in 2012 a new Performing Arts Studio was completed in the north building. The Emily and Joseph Partyka Elevator and the Stockard Family Bridge linking the north and south classroom buildings were dedicated in 2014.
