

School Board Recognitions

September 2019

Check under “Kudos” at fcps.net for more details about these and other awards and honors.

The boys' track-and-field team from Edythe J. Hayes took first place in the 2019 Kentucky Track and Cross Country Coaches Association's Middle School State Championships.

Fayette County Public Schools sent two high school students to the 2019 Governor's School for Entrepreneurs: senior Will Hands of Lafayette (pictured) and junior Khalid Rashad of Paul Laurence Dunbar.

Five students from Bryan Station High School participated in the 2019 Governor's School for the Arts this summer.

Lafayette High School sent nearly three dozen students to the 2019 Governor's School for the Arts.

Paul Laurence Dunbar High School had four students to participate in the 2019 Governor's School for the Arts.

The 2019 Governor's School for the Arts participant from Bates Creek High School was Sitara True (center).

The 2019 Governor's Scholars Program honorees from Bryan Station High School were Brendley Nathaniel (pictured) and LaMargaret Johnson.

The 2019 Governor's Scholars from Frederick Douglass High School were Alyssa Gebhardt and Paige Hensley.

Henry Clay High School had a dozen seniors selected for the 2019 Governor's Scholars Program this summer.

A total of 20 rising seniors from Lafayette High School completed the 2019 Governor's Scholars Program.

Fifteen seniors from Paul Laurence Dunbar High School were among the 2019 Governor's Scholars.

Four students from the STEAM Academy were chosen as 2019 Governor's Scholars, including Nathaniel Ainslie and Anjali Gardella.

Tates Creek High School boasted a dozen rising seniors in the 2019 Governor's Scholars Program.

The Superintendent's 212 Degrees Award went to Beth Brockman, a special education paraeducator at Liberty Elementary (third from left). In late August, Brockman performed the Heimlich on a student who was choking in the cafeteria -- remembering the maneuver from her safety training videos. "Any of us would have done the exact same thing for our babies," she said. Principal Lisa Kear called Brockman a true hero.