At the start of the meeting, the school board welcomed February's honorary board members: teacher representative Sara Merideth of SCAPA at Bluegrass (left), student representative DeMarius Wilson of Bates Creek High School and Locust Trace AgriScience Center, and classified employee representative Steve Collins from Plant Operations.

Kevin Jing of Paul Laurence Dunbar High School was elected governor during the fall's Kentucky Youth Assembly conference.

Angela Zhang, Ayush Kumar, and Lynn Ye of Winburn Middle School made the national Honor Roll of Distinction after the AMC-8 math competition.

Eighteen high school seniors in FCPS are among this year's Presidential Scholar candidates.

Cheerleaders from Paul Laurence Dunbar High School earned first- and second-place honors in the KHSAA state championships.

More than a dozen teachers across the district have recently earned National Board Certification.

The superintendent's 212 Degrees Award went to Lawrence Weathers, director of Law Enforcement (center with certificate), for his exemplary service. Weathers is leaving FCPS to be chief of the Lexington police force.

Carrie Paul, principal of Bates Creek Elementary, received the superintendent's 212 Degrees Award. When police found a child wandering the streets in the middle of the night, Paul didn't hesitate to go straight to the station to comfort the child and help authorities find his family – even though he wasn't a Bates Creek student. She has a heart for all our kids!
