

USER AGREEMENT FOR GRAPHING CALCULATORS 2022-2023

Henry Clay High School is pleased to offer students the at-home use of graphing calculators. Students under the age of 18 must obtain parental permission while students 18 and over may sign their own forms.

Students are responsible for using this equipment at home with care, just as they are in the classroom. The calculator is provided for students to assist them in their academic work. Access to the equipment is given to students who agree to use it in a considerate and responsible manner. Parent permission is required. This use is a privilege, not a right. This entails responsibility.

Individual users are responsible for the calculator while in their possession. The calculator will be returned to the library at the end of each semester in the same condition as when checked out. In addition, the student/parent shall be held financially responsible should the calculator or calculator charging cord become lost, stolen, damaged or not returned.

Students are responsible for AAA batteries for TI 83 and 84 calculators; there will not be any batteries in calculators when checked out. Students are more than welcome to take their batteries out before returning them. Students must turn in the calculator assigned to them.

If students are loaned a TI-84 Plus CE (Python) calculator, they will also be loaned a USB charging cord. If the cord is damaged, lost, or not returned, a $5 replacement fee will be assessed.
