SELECTION OF INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS AND SENSITIVE ISSUES

Policy

It is the policy of the Barre Unified Union School District (BUUSD) to provide students with a broad variety of instructional materials to support student learning.

Materials

Instructional materials will be selected by professional staff in accordance with the following criteria and procedures:

1. Instructional materials should enrich and support the current curriculum, taking into consideration the varied interests, abilities, and maturity levels of students served.
2. Instructional materials should stimulate growth in factual knowledge, literary appreciation, aesthetic values, and ethical standards.
3. Instructional materials should provide a background of information which will enable students to make intelligent judgments in daily life.
4. Instructional materials should present opposing sides of controversial issues so that, with guidance, young citizens may develop the practice of critical thinking.
5. Instructional materials should be representative of different racial, religious, ethnic, and cultural groups, emphasizing their valuable contributions to American heritage and should be free from sex-role stereotyping to the extent possible.
6. Books and instructional materials should be chosen for values of interest and enlightenment of all the students of a community and to encourage students to read regularly. A book will not be excluded because of the race, nationality, or the political or religious views of the author.
7. Since books and instructional materials are selected to provide for the interest and needs of the school community and the school program, they may be selected cooperatively by teachers, principals/directors, and librarians, sometimes with the assistance of students and parents.
8. In the selection of books and other instructional materials, consideration should be given to factual accuracy, authoritativeness, balance, and integrity. Aesthetic values also must be considered in selection of materials.
9. Books and instructional materials will be viewed by members of the staff to assure their timeliness and continued appropriateness.
10. The superintendent has ultimate authority under 16 V.S.A. §563 (14) to preview and approve instructional materials.

Instruction

Controversial and sensitive issues are defined as those problems, subjects, or questions about which there are significant differences of opinion, for which there are no easy resolutions, and discussions of which generally create strong feelings among people. Although there may be disagreement over what the facts are and what they mean, subjects usually become controversial and sensitive because of the different values people use in applying the facts as known.

1. Controversial and sensitive issues shall be handled as they arise in the classroom and shall not be avoided in order to restrict or restrain the academic freedom, as defined in the master agreement, between the teachers and board of school directors, of either the teacher or the student.
2. Teacher initiation of controversial and sensitive issues should have direct relevance to the topic being discussed.
3. In handling a controversial or sensitive issue, the teacher shall not suppress a student's view, value and/or belief on that issue as long as the expression of that view, value, or belief is not derogatory, malicious, or abusive toward any student and/or their views.
4. Instructional materials should present differing sides of controversial and sensitive issues.
5. The purpose of classroom teaching methodologies shall be to present differing sides of controversial and sensitive issues so that teachers guide young citizens in the practices of critical discussion, thinking, and reading. Teachers shall remain unbiased in their presentation of and response to questions/discussion regarding controversial and sensitive issues.
6. In the course of a student's education in the BUUSD, topics may be presented which could cause discomfort in light of a student's or families' personal beliefs. If this occurs, students and/or their parents/guardians may request an alternative experience. This request should be made to the student's teacher or administration.
