

Right to a Free Public Education

Orange County Public School students who have failed to graduate or who have failed to achieve the number of verified credits for graduation have the right to a free public education until they reach 20 years of age. Students for whom English is a second language have the right to a free education to age 22. Students with disabilities have the right to a free education until they are 21 years old. If you have any questions, please contact the Orange County High School Principal or Counseling Office.
