

We believe a school for girls is better than a school with girls.

Here's why...

LouisvilleHS.org

The Louisville Advantage

A girls' school is a place where girls take center stage.

Without boys in the equation, all opportunities are for the girls. Every spot on the Mock Trial team, every position on the field, and every role in student government is filled by a girl. Louisville students follow their passions boldly and without hesitation.

The Louisville Advantage

A girls' school is the best environment for girls to learn, grow, and develop.

Whether a girl wants to be a computer engineer, author, financial manager, or teacher, a girl needs to know—really know—there's nothing that stands in her way. That's a powerful message that we deliver to each student every day so that she can follow her ambitions.

The Louisville Advantage

A girls' school is a place of incredible innovation.

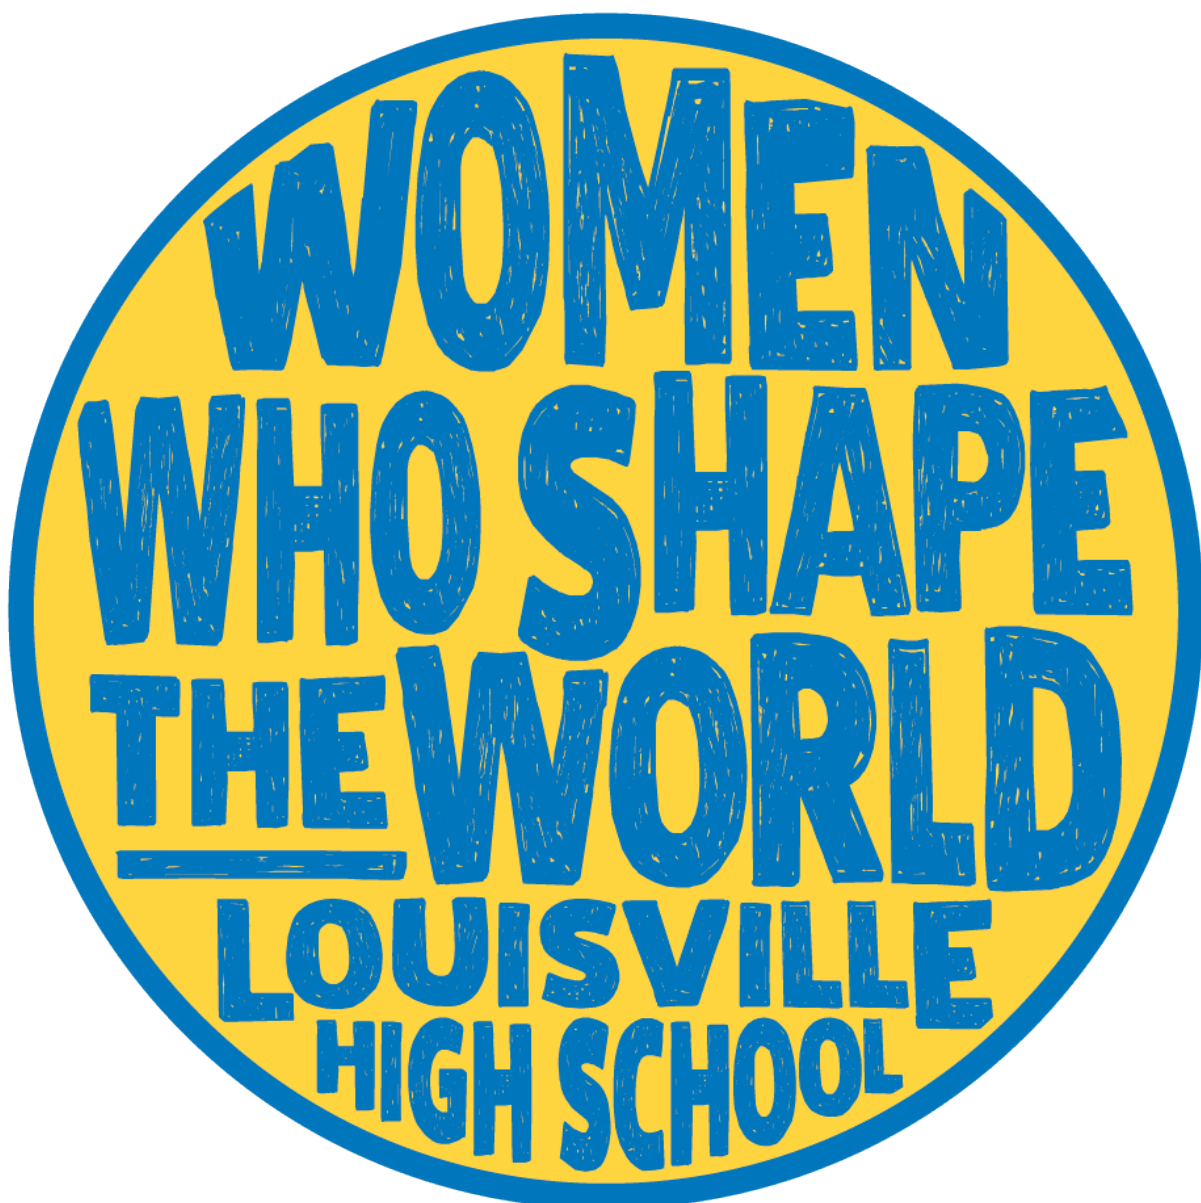

Louisville is a place where community and collaboration, agency and self-efficacy flourish. Our state-of-the-art Innovation Lab is a cutting-edge workspace where students engage and succeed in complex problem solving, critical thinking, risk-taking, and creative design. They imagine, explore, dream, design, and do.

The Louisville Advantage

A girls' school educates girls to become global changemakers—the women we need to help solve the world's biggest challenges. Our vision statement is Women Who Shape the World. We wholeheartedly embrace this and encourage our young women to be informed and engaged agents of change in big ways and small.

The Louisville Advantage

A girls' school does all this and still prepares young women for coed life.

We believe in the numerous benefits of a girls' school, but also provide extracurricular activities with our Crespi brothers like football games, dances, spring musical, and Exchange Days. Louisville students have a level of confidence and poise because they know their worth in society, in the classroom, and in the work force.

The Louisville Advantage

And research backs us up...

A national survey found that nearly 87% of girls' school students feel their voices —their opinions— are respected compared to 58% of girls at coed schools.

Louisville faculty promote an open and safe exchange of ideas where students are comfortable to speak their minds, without interruption.

The Louisville Advantage

Nearly 96% of girls' school students report receiving more frequent feedback on their assignments and other course work than girls at coed schools.

That means that support isn't just a feeling, it's a real action that is laser-focused on student success.

93% of girls' school grads say they are offered greater leadership opportunities than peers at coed schools and 80% have held leadership positions since graduating from high school.

Louisville graduates lead with confidence, integrity, and faith.

The Louisville Advantage

Nearly 80% of girls' school students report most of their classes challenge them to achieve their full academic potential compared to 72.3% of girls at coed independent schools and 44.3% at coed public schools.

Louisville faculty are supportive and attentive, but also raise the bar and push students to do their best.

The Louisville Advantage

Nearly 50% of all women graduating from girls' schools rate their public speaking ability as high, compared to 38% from coed schools. Over 64% of girls' school graduates assess their writing ability as high, compared to 58% from coed schools.

Sources:

Richard A. Holmgren, Allegheny College, "Steeped in Learning: The Student Experience at All-Girls Schools"

Dr. Linda Sax, UCLA, "Women Graduates of Single-Sex and Coeducational High Schools: Differences in their Characteristics and the Transition to College"

Goodman Research Group, "The Girls' School Experience: A Survey of Young Alumnae of Single-Sex Schools"

Louisville has been preparing young women to shape the world since 1960. We are a community, a home, a sisterhood, and a place of incredible learning and self-discovery.

We invite you to come visit our beautiful campus and experience the Louisville Advantage for yourself.

LouisvilleHS.org