

What does Investigative Learning look like? Typology

Within Investigative Learning there is a range of different learning experiences that are created. They organize into four distinct categories – all valid and compelling. Choosing which type of experience to design depends on what is being taught, the children involved, and the inclination and comfort of individual teachers.

Typology of Learning Experiences

