COURSE DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE
The fifth year student will continue to develop his/her proficiency through reading, comprehension and interpretation of original Latin. Students will read Vergil's Aeneid. In conjunction with refining his/her skills in the basic functions of the language, the student will polish his/her command of Latin with composition in a variety of styles, employing multiple sentence structures and a variety of grammatical constructions. In addition, the course will include the study of the cultural, social and political context of the literature including, but not limited to, Roman religion, government, art, architecture, military aspects and the role of women in ancient society. This course may be taken for dual credit through University of Minnesota's College in the Schools Program (CTS). WEIGHTED GRADE
ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS	ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
Students will understand that...	Students will keep considering...
Comparing and contrasting one's own and other language and culture enables individuals to gain new insight about self and the world.	What is the importance of reading an original source compared to reading a published translation?
Language learning provides opportunities to uncover big ideas about languages, cultures, and other disciplines.	In what way does the study of epic poetry develop an individual's critical thinking skills?
Speaking, listening, reading and writing skills are developed by using the interpersonal, interpretive and presentational modes of communication.	Why isn't a dictionary or an online translator enough in a poetry course?
Culture and language are inseparable; they influence and reflect each other.	How do language and culture influence and reflect each other? How do people, time and place affect language and culture?
The study of world languages enables individuals to participate in multiple communities and enriches their experiences.	How will studying Vergil enhance my life and open doors of opportunities?
PRIORITY STANDARDS
Students will know and be able to...
Standard 1 Interpretive Communication:
Students use the target language and cultural knowledge to interpret, analyze, and demonstrate understanding of authentic speech, texts, media, or signed language on topics relevant to their lives and broader communities.
