Saying No in Risky Situations

2nd Grade: Module 8: Safety and Accident Prevention:

Dear SISD Families,

The Texas Essential Knowledge Skills (TEKS) for Health: Grade 2 requires the teaching of certain sensitive topics related to child abuse and family violence, including practicing refusal skills in unsafe situations.

We will be using QuaverHealth•PE for our curriculum this year as we cover the required Health TEKS. The lesson covering this topic, "Saying No in Risky Situations," will take place between November 6 – November 17 of this academic year.

The "Saying No in Risky Situations" lesson will address:

1. Discussing common unsafe or risky situations
2. Explaining why assistance from a parent or another trusted adult is important when making decisions about personal safety
3. Demonstrating refusal skills during risky situations

Texas state law requires you to give written permission for your student to participate in "Saying No in Risky Situations" lesson. The permission form you will receive must be signed and returned to your student's campus in order for them to participate in these lessons. If you do not give permission, your student will not participate.

Because the QuaverHealth•PE curriculum is online for teachers, we can send links to the lesson detailed above. Please indicate on the Request to View Elementary QuaverEd Form if you would like to receive those links and look over the lessons your student is eligible to study.

In Partnership,
