

Graduation Outcomes

In order to be successful in university studies, as well as in life, graduates of Juan Diego Academy will:

- participate in the faith life of their church – particularly in service to the least favored – in an active and informed manner;
- apply Roman Catholic teaching to the critical analysis of personal and social issues;
- speak and write English clearly and fluently for formal and informal communication;
- listen to and read English critically and thoughtfully, evaluating the validity of spoken and written arguments;
- utilize available technologies (computers, calculators and other data devices, the internet) as tools for research, word-processing, data management, multi-media presentations, and reference;
- communicate (orally and in writing) in a language other than English;
- use critical thinking skills, problem-solving skills, and scientific methods to form conclusions and apply them in real-life situations;
- apply a comprehensive understanding of our world - its geography, cultures, histories, and the natural and social processes that govern it - to the analysis of current events;
- conduct research, synthesize it, and evaluate it across disciplines;
- model the principles and techniques of proper fitness, wellness, teamwork, and good sportsmanship.
