"To me, there are three things we all should do every day... Number one is laugh. You should laugh every day. Number two is think. You should spend some time in thought. Number three is, you should have your emotions moved to tears, could be happiness or joy. But think about it. If you laugh, you think, and you cry, that's a full day. That's a heck of a day. You do that seven days a week, you're going to have something special."

“Our individuality is all, all that we have. There are those who barter it for security, those who repress it for what they believe is the betterment of the whole society, but blessed in the twinkle of the morning star is the one who nurtures it and rides in it in grace and love and wit, from peculiar station to peculiar station along life's bittersweet route.”

When I was young whizzer and the DVDs were still the way things were just a lot simpler.
snapper to watch movies

As I started to grow taller, I realized that not every thing is going to turn out perfect.

Somewhere along the road, I found the drive of my parents, and keeping them in mind, I went about doing the crazy for the happiness of it.

Of course, family has changed. I still try to myself as less and naïve, and I've yet to finish growing remember superficial.

I get discouraged when I make faces at the lunch of today, because it reminds of when food was and how nice everything was. free

Music? Art is the two reasons we are still people of common sense.

I can't say everything has changed, but I'm counting on getting to the college place in the next year.

Nostalgia is wonderful, but sometimes I feel like I could drive or laugh and not deal with the homework stuff. forever

I'll never forget my friends because when I heard about going to I couldn't imagine for anyone else. college leaving them

I never thought about student loans until it was time for college

I don't regret how life has turned out so far

When I think of highschool and how tall I was, and all the trouble I might have been in, I want to lol.

Youth is a word and you shouldn't underestimate it.

But if I had to make a general conclusion about it, I'd say that Ryan Gosling is always going to take my to an away, and no one will ever really appreciate Oggy Betty breath place

If I had to do high-school over again, with the same, I think I would change the order, if not the senior lounge peeps (a place is rather!)

Memory is not forever, and as I say adieu I feel things are finally coming to a better place.
