POTTSGROVE JR.-SR. HIGH SCHOOL, POTTSTOWN, ROUTE 18, PA.

OCTOBER 20, 1967

Pottsgrove Welcomes Six Students From Ursinus

Once again this year Pottsgrove welcomes six student teachers from neighboring Ursinus College. The four women and two men, who began their teaching assignment on October 11, will be here until the end of December. Most of them are members of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and are quite active on the college campus.

Miss Diane Widman, assisting Joseph Dori, is from Philadelphia and is president of the sorority, Omega Chi. She is also Vice President of the Inner Sorority Council. On October 28, at the Ursinus Homecoming game, she will be seen as a fraternity queen. In her spare time, Miss Widman enjoys knitting and sewing.

Peace Corps Plans

Majoring in physical education and planning to enter the Peace Corps after graduation is Miss Ruth Hamburg under the direction of Mrs. Jacqueline Flamm. She is a member of the sorority Phi Psi, the girls' hockey team, and women's athletic trainer. She is from Hatboro, Pennsylvania, and enjoys horseback riding, music, drawing, and playing the guitar.

From Royersford, Pennsylvania, working with Ralph Murgia is Miss Loretta Lee, a social studies major. She is a member of the P.S.E.A. and the Messiah Chorus. Miss Lee's favorite pastime is singing.

Daniel Greulich is privileged to

Edleman Receives Semifinalist Honor For National Merit

Barbara Edleman, an active senior, has become a Semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. She is the vice president of chorus, secretary of National Honor Society, and treasurer of Student Council. Also, she is student director for the senior class play and a member of the "It's Academic Team." She was a member of district chorus and played a lead role in "Oklahoma" last year. For the past two years she has been a member of F.T.A.

Three seniors who took the same test as Barbara are Commended Students. They are Miriam Theis, co-editor of the Falcon, Thomas

Moser And McClurken Co-Star In Senior Play — "Pillow Talk"

Jim McClurken and Patt Moser.

A three-act comedy will be presented by the senior class this evening and tomorrow evening in the school's auditorium. The play is based directly on the original screenplay, "Pillow Talk," which starred Doris Day and Rock Hudson. Directing the play is Earl J. Boehmer with Barbara Edleman as student director.

Featured Roles

Patt Moser and Jim McClurken will co-star as Jan Morrow and Brad Allen. Jan, a young attractive interior decorator shares a party line with a songwriter, Brad Allen, who spends most of his time on the telephone singing to girls. Also appearing in the play will be Amy Bressler as Alma, Jan's eavesdropping maid. Douglas Gibble will play the part of Jonathan Forbes, a client and admirer of Jan. Mitchel Hummel will act as Pierot, Jan's partner.

United States Army Calls Two Pottsgrove Students

This year, Pottsgrove has been selected to attend the Junior Science and Humanity Symposium for Students and Teachers. Representing Pottsgrove will be Chrys Kline and Thomas Theis.

the Messiah Chorus, Miss Charity Finkbiner from Royersford, Pennsylvania. She is a member of the Alpha Sigma Nu sorority and the P.S.E.A. After graduation she plans to teach in Virginia. Miss Finkbiner plays the piano and the organ and likes to sew and knit.

Biology and German

Robert MacFarland, a biology major, has the privilege of being under the instruction of Clyde Dry. Mr. MacFarland is a biology major and plans to enter the Air Force after graduation. He is from Phoenixville and is on the yearbook staff at college.

Majoring in German and working with Mrs. Yvonne Davidheiser is James B. Farr. From Towanda, Pennsylvania, he plans to teach in a Philadelphia school after graduation. He is manager of the college wrestling team, and a member of the Meister Singers which is a traveling choir. Also, he sings with the Messiah Chorus and is a member of the Bible Fellowship, a Christian organization. In his spare time he enjoys skiing, bicycle riding, and hunting.

ball team, and the other Falcon co-editor, Richard Pell. These students scored in upper two percent of those who will graduate in 1968.

Seniors Conduct Elections; M. Kozel Named President

During the second week of school the senior class elected class officers. Those chosen were Michael Kozel, Robert Logan, Karen Remp, Jackie Schaeffer and Mitch Hummel.

Serving as the senior class president will be Mike Kozel. Mike's duties are to supervise class projects and lead the class meetings. He is a member of the football team, student council, Varsity Club, and vice-president of National Honor Society.

Vice President Named

Assisting the president, will be vice-president, Robert Logan. A manager on the football team, Bob is also a member of the Varsity Club and National Honor Society.

Karen Remp, who was elected as secretary, will take the minutes of class and executive meetings. While active as a member of the tennis team and co-captain of the hockey team, she also finds time to participate in National Honor Society, Varsity Club and Pep Club.

Treasurer and Assistant Chosen

Elected as treasurer was Jackie Schaeffer. Jackie will be responsible for collecting dues, balancing the class books and making receipts. Basketball, hockey, Pep Club, chorus, Varsity Club and National Honor Society are the activities in which Jackie is a member.

Assistant Treasurer, Mitch Hummel, will assist Jackie with the responsibilities of treasurer. Mitch is the president of senior high chorus. As a thespian, Mitch participated in this year's senior class play. He also finds time to belong to the tennis team, cross country, Varsity Club, Pep Club, and Future Teachers of America.

The symposium will begin on November 5, and it will continue through November 7. Clyde A. Dry, head of the science department, will supervise this excursion.

Since it is run by the United States Army, the symposium is financed by the U. S. government. Directing the symposium is Dr. H. Seymour Fowler.

Well Known Seniors

Chrys and Tom, two very popular seniors, are both in the academic curriculum. Chrys, a cheerleader, and Tom, the captain of the football team, will not be journeying alone. Traveling along with them to Penn State will be Richard Houck of Boyertown and Edward Newbald of Bechtelsville, and, of course, Mr. Dry.

Heading the guest list will be several top figures in science, whose names haven't been disclosed.

Other members of the supporting cast are Linda Frey as Mrs. Walters and Dennis Mayberry as Tony Walters. The three girlfriends, Marie, Eileen, and Yvette are Mary Jane Jenkins, Edith Tevelson, and Margrit Doerk. Employees of the telephone company will be played by Janet Basile, Dolly Gephart, and Rebecca Overholtzer. Robert Fink portrays a policeman; Chrysee Kline is Bessie the maid; Cheryl Moser represents Mrs. Frost; Karen Nowakowski, Mrs. Ames; David Himes, Graham; Florence Zachmann is Tilda; Kathy Ellwanger portrays Ann. The melodious voice of Barbara Edleman will be used as the unseen telephone operator.

Kathy Swartz Reigns At Homecoming Day Game

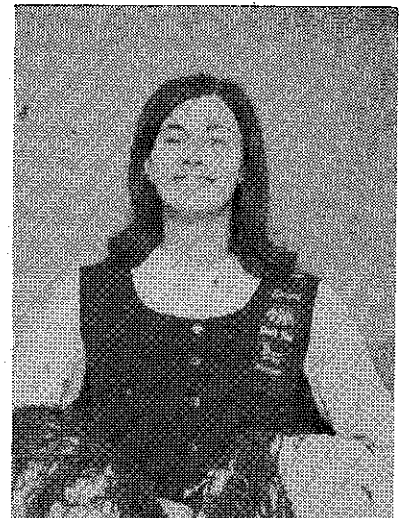

Kathy Swartz was chosen to reign at the annual Homecoming Day football game. She was crowned by last year's queen Kay Drumheller. Kathy is captain of the Varsity cheerleaders, secretary-treasurer of chorus and secretary of the Varsity Club. As her first royal duty, Kathy presented the game football to the official.

The royal court included: Dawn Trout, Chrys Kline, Michelle Brilla, and Lynn Pitchford.

Included in Dawn's activities are: hockey, basketball, tennis, Pep Club, FTA, and Varsity Club. Chrys finds time to be co-captain of the Varsity cheerleaders, president of FTA and National Honor Society and treasurer of the Varsity Club. Michelle is the Associate Art Editor of the Pottsgrovian and a member of Pep Club. Lynn is also a member of the Pottsgrovian staff, Pep Club and a participant in intramurals.

Seniors Escort

Escorting and assisting the girls in their royal tasks were: Craig Strunk, Joseph Bielecki, Rick Moyer, Gene Koch, and Dale Colgan.

Fall Fashion Trends Include Kilts, Culottes, Knit Dresses

While skirts here at Pottsgrove promise to be slightly longer than those being shown in Paris and New York, students will still be keeping pace with the latest fashion trends. Styles sold in the area and worn by our pupils may not be the most expensive or original, but they do reflect good taste in choosing what is best from what is new.

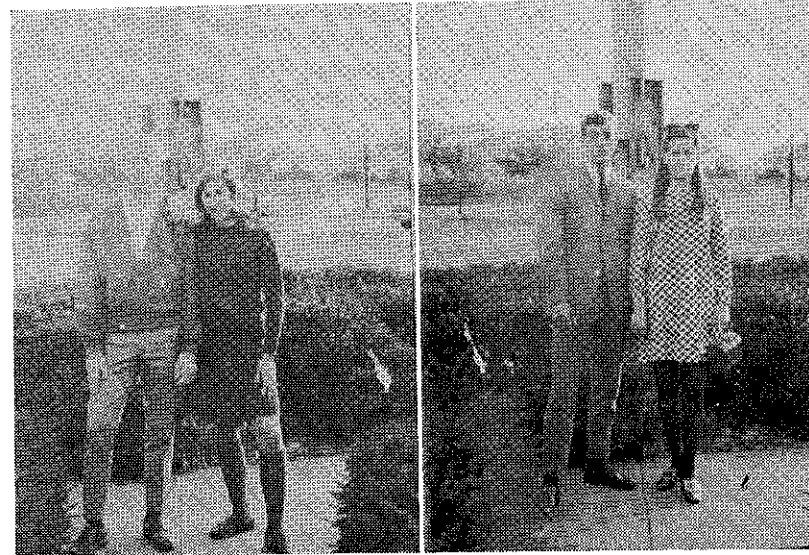

Clothing for Study

Average school attire, for the girls, includes a collection of dresses—shirtwaists and shifts. During colder weather, sweaters and skirts will take the scene, while wool suits and knit dresses will complete the wardrobe. Kilts, as seen in the hockey team's uniforms, will probably be the most popular of the latest rages. Hairdos are worn both long and short, with variations between.

Pottsgrove boys, not to be outdone by the girls, will also be wearing the newest in apparel. Current men's fashions include continental styled slacks topped by solid, striped, or paisley shirts. Popular sweaters will be crew or V-necked pullovers.

Weekend Wear

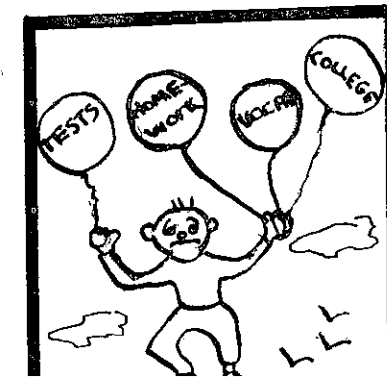

Out of school, the color and style range widens. Football games and hayrides call for coordinated slacks and sweaters. Dances bring on the Student Council Meeting Observed; Reporter Discusses Impressions

In 1776, young, brave Americans fought for a free and democratic way of life. This example has been carried over to our day. One phase of this system is the student council at Pottsgrove High School. The council is patterned after that of the United States Senate.

Problem Solved

Discussion in these meetings is directed towards improving and augmenting the students' opportunities. Each meeting, new ideas are brought up and the council discusses them. For example, the student body wanted to have music in the cafeteria. This suggestion was brought up at a council meeting. The representatives decided to approach Mr. Radel with this idea.

Basco, Keene Find Scandinavian Families Friendly And Different

They have arrived. Orientation is over and their bags are unpacked. They have met their "families" and their new house is home. They recognize familiar faces; they have started school.

How is life treating Pottsgrove's first two exchange students, Sharon Basco and Dennis Keene? How did they feel just before their plane landed on that eventful first day? Are they homesick? Are they having fun? Are they having trouble with the language? Do they have many friends? Here are some letters from abroad.

"Hans Christian Sode, my second oldest brother, met me at Copenhagen Airport with a bouquet of roses," writes Sharon, who is spending the coming year in Denmark. "He took me for an hour's ride through Copenhagen and then to lunch. When we got home, Mrs. Sode had coffee and cakes ready for us. The family was just great from the start! After dinner I unpacked and Peter, the brother my age, took me to a sort of school party. I met his friends and all the kids are really nice . . ."

Every Man's Home, A Castle

Denny says, "My house is a castle! It has everything, including a three foot deep bathtub. Really cool. Have I said anything about my "mother"? She's terrific and so very kind. She wakes me each morning with a cup of coffee brought to my bed. That's class."

"My home is really neat!" writes Sharon. "It's 350 years old, and the furniture is antiques and stuff. It's all very different from ours, stained glass windows and all . . ."

"Colored television? Are you kidding? There are no color shows to watch, anyway. TV is only one channel and that is on from around 5:30 P.M. until 10:30 P.M. What a change from America's choice of channels from morning to night! But the quality of the programs is high and there are no commercials. You know, it's strange, I really miss those commercials!"

Classroom Capers

WATCH! A Phantom walks. With a strange mysterious force suddenly—Jim Decker was compelled out of his seat, down the hall, out to his waiting car. He started the motor and drove off. The time: 1:25 p.m. The reason: Unknown. WATCH! A Phantom walks.

FLASH . . . The biggest catastrophe since the French and Indian War has just happened. Tragedy has struck! After many years of long, hard work all treasured records of that great newspaper, The Falcon, have been burned by an innocent janitor. What should we do? Never fear, for the daring Falcon staff will come through again.

Come on, Mr. Thomas Moyer, the pressure isn't that bad. Don't let those bells get you down! Even if they do bother you, hanging yourself wouldn't be the way out.

Remember Silly Season? Barb Edleman ran out of gas . . . again!

The second trip students hosted Mr. Murgia, Mr. Burkert, and Mr. Dori in a football game on the in culottes on weekend dates. No matter what the occasion, Pottsgrovians will be well prepared fashion-wise for the upcoming season.

Advanced Education Poses Problematical Perplexities

For Perplexed Pottsgrovian, a senior sorrowfully settled in the yearly grind of school, life is a bundle of joyous hours filled with vocabulary workshops, alcohol discussion questions, and class play practices. To the academically inclined Perplexed, the everpresent threat of term papers and unit tests is supplemented by the immediate problem of filling out college applications.

Colleges Ask the Darndest Questions!

Colleges must have a special group of sadistic men who think up monstrous questions to frazzle Perplexed. A sampling of these infamous inquiries is: "Tell how you first heard of the college," and "Discuss your greatest achievement." The classic of them all is "Give an autobiography in ten words or less." When confronted with a question like, "Summarize your medical history and list medicines you are taking now," it is very difficult for pranksome Perplexed to resist answers like Phisohex, Clearasil, and Dr. Scholl's foot pads.

After deluging members of the English department with essays crying to be corrected, Perplexed heaves a sigh of relief as he entrusts the precious documents to the mailman. Now he only has to watch the calendar for four months. After all this, he will have $50 in the red, writer's cramp, and, hopefully, a full scholarship to the college of his choice.

if the student council took care of the arrangements for the music. A schedule was set up so that every-day, before lunch, a council representative enters the office to remind the office secretaries to turn on the radio.

The student council is slowly but surely becoming an effective organization in our school. It merits support from the entire student body.

POTTSGROVE MANNER

Students Face Multitude of Perils During Coming Academic Year

Another academic year is now under way, and, for many students, it is also a year for facing a multitude of obstacles that are necessary to get a high school diploma. The returning PHS student must first manage to survive the initial days of chaos caused by mixed up schedules, rooms that are scheduled for classes but are not yet in existence, and several new sets of steps which he always forgets about until he is lying flat on his face at the bottom of them.

Next The Firing Squad

For the college bound juniors and seniors, the next barrier is the battery of aptitude tests administered by various college-related organizations. These horrifying experiences may last from three to four hours and come posed as innocent sounding things like PSAT's, NM-SQT's, SAT's, and college board achievement tests. By making full usage of this arsenal, the colleges are able to make even the most gifted student wonder why he decided to take the academic course in ninth grade!

If At First You Don't Succeed

As April and May finally come around, those students who have successfully surmounted all the cleverly positioned setbacks of secondary education are just beginning to relax when they discover that they are failing four major subjects. Oh well! Back to the drawing board.

Murgia booted a high punt to receiver Mr. Burkert, while Mr. Dori officiated. Best luck, team!

Look, It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's a messquito, or is it a mosquito? Only our beloved French teacher, Miss Crockett, knows for sure. She has recently observed an epidemic of these flying bugs while trying to explain to her students the art of speaking French. Au revoir for now!

RICHARD PELL

"The kids are very nice, but the clothing!!!" This from Denny. "To school, boys wear jeans, sneakers, shoes, sandals, sweatshirts, and vests of wild colors. They are allowed to wear their hair as long as they want and are also allowed to wear beards and mustaches. Girls, some pretty, some not. They wear slacks, jeans, shorts, culottes, dresses, or skirts. And the dress lengths are very, very, very short."

"School? It's a panic! I don't understand 90% of what the teachers or students are saying. I am going to teach my gym class to play football, however," writes Dennis. "Oh! I forgot to tell you, I have four languages — English, Swedish, German, and French."

Sharon writes, "This afternoon I'm making an American meal for the kids I go around with. You'd never guess what I'm going to make—what could be more American than spaghetti?"

Manners Thru The Ages

PATT MOSER

Courtesy is defined by Webster as a polite act or remark. In today's fast moving world we must take time to be polite in order to keep our sanity. Manners are not confined to the young or old but should be used by all.

In our school there are certain common courtesies which are frequently being ignored. For many years it has been the custom to hold a door open for someone behind you. Now the "cool" thing seems to be to allow the door to swing into someone's face. Even when you happen to remember to hold the door, it is very rare to hear those magic words—"Thank you."

Since our school is more crowded than ever it is most important to use the utmost courtesy in the halls. Going the wrong direction on the stairs forces students going in the right direction to one side and causes a major traffic jam. Running to class and weaving in and out of students causes unnecessary bumps and bruises. To stop and talk to friends between classes creates a major obstruction and may cause others to be late to class.

Many of us attend teas given by various organizations. Standard procedure is to wait for the guest to be served, to get seconds only after everyone else is served, and to thank the home economics sponsor. Unfortunately many students are not aware of this procedure.

Perhaps the most irritating thing to endure is someone talking loudly during a study hall or during a test. We all like to talk with our friends, but for those who are seriously trying to work it is very distracting.

Manners should apply to all ages, but do they?

Defense Stars In Opening Game James Tops Falcons In Scoring

The Pottsgrove High School football team opened their 1967 season by traveling to West Chester. The final score turned out to be a 6-6 stalemate with neither team able to generate an offense. Following a scoreless first half, the Birds struck paydirt initially as John James picked a West Chester fumble in mid air and galloped 40 yards to give the Falcons a 6-0 lead. Later in the third period a Tom Psota punt was blocked by an onrushing lineman and was recovered in the end zone for a Warrior touchdown. Neither team scored in the fourth quarter, thus the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

Nipped By The Whippets

The following week saw the Falcons play their first home game of the year against the Downingtown Whippets. The Birds spent a frustrating day on the field as they outplayed the visitors everywhere but on the scoreboard. The final score was 13-0 as the visitors scored in the second and fourth quarters. The Falcons just could not break off that one big play needed to keep a drive going.

Overwhelmed By The Trojans

The Falcons next invaded Franklin Field for their encounter with the Pottstown Trojans. This seemed to be one of those nights when the Birds just could not do anything right. John James was held to only 41 yards rushing, while Jeff Jackowski tallied four touchdowns

SPORT TALK

Well, it is that time of the year when all the sports fans have their eyes on one thing, the World Series. This year the series had the Boston Red Sox, a long time second division team, against the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards were heavily favored, but the series went right down to the seventh and final game before St. Louis managed to topple the Red Sox.

62 Point Average?

Can you imagine a college team averaging 62 points a game while holding their opponents to a mere 3 point average? Well, it is true. Waynesburg College, near Pittsburgh, is doing just that. In their first five games of the year, they have scored 311 points and have held their opponents to only 12.

It may be a little early for basketball but for twenty boys it isn't.

"RUN JOHNNY RUN"

Phoenixville Exceeds Milers; Triumph Over Meet 28-29

The Cross-Country team started its fall season at "The Hill" in Boyertown. The Bears handed the Falcons a loss which the Falcons tossed away in the experience file.

Traveling to Downingtown, "The Woods," the Falcons were upset by 4 points, losing two places going down the hill. Norristown was not a league meet but a morale building meet. Norristown has had cross-country for 40 years and today have a well established team; the Falcons in their third year came within 13 points with a 21-34 score.

Lose By A Point

Next day Coatesville placed five men in a row for a 15-48 score. The

Falconettes Break Three-year Streak; Defeat Boyertown

The 1967 hockey season got off to a great start when the Falconettes met with Governor Mifflin. Although the game was a scrimmage, the girls rushed in 5 goals as opposed to Mifflin's none. Martha Davis, Janet Petrilla, and Pat Chaback each contributed one goal and Sue Bernhart pushed in two. In JV competition, the Falconettes again won by a 2-1 score.

Break 3-Year Streak

Boyertown was the first league game of the season. The girls were in high spirits and determined to beat last year's Ches-Mont champions. And beat them, they did! The Lady Birds broke a 3 year championship streak by a 1-0 score which was a moral as well as physical victory. Not to be outdone by the Varsity, the junior Falconettes delivered a crushing 5-1 defeat over the marked opponents. Jean Mauger led the scoring with 3 goals, assisted by one from both Sue Miller and Betsy Moyer.

Phoenixville was the girls' next victim. In pouring down rain, slippery grass, and drenched uniforms, the Falconettes seemed to be determined to win as they well did, which was disastrous to the Falcons, was 41-0.

Tripped Up By The Bears

The 1967 Homecoming game pitted the Falcons against the Boyertown Bears, but the boys just could not please their pretty queen as they met defeat by a score of 19-7. The visitors scored before the Falcons could get their hands on the ball. But when they did, it didn't take long before John James tallied from the two and then kicked the point for a 7-6 lead. Boyertown, however, scored twice before the game was over and finished with a 19-7 win.

Topple To Phantoms

The Falcons, still seeking their first win of the year, next traveled to Phoenixville. The Phantoms had other ideas as they defeated the Birds by a score of 37-13. John James, the workhorse of the Falcons, scored all of the points for the Birds. He tallied on runs of one and three yards and also kicked an extra point.

J.V. Games

This year the senior high Junior Varsity has recorded one victory against four losses. The boys have crushed Pottstown, 31-19, and have lost to West Chester, Downingtown, Boyertown, and Phoenixville.

Paul Favinger, Randy Reber, Jim Leh, and John LaPish are the captains. This gives an opportunity for many boys to gain some experience in basketball.

James—Leading Falcon

At the mid point of the season, John James is leading the team in both rushing and scoring. So far John has amassed a total of 408 yards in 102 carries for a 4 yard average and he has also tallied 26 points for the team leadership in scoring.

General Wayne Overcome By Jr. High School Gridmen

Sparked by freshman halfback Gary Ludwig, the Junior High Varsity coasted to a 20-0 victory over General Wayne, on a drenched Pottsgrove field.

The skippy halfback ran touchdowns for 15 and 20 yards. His first came when he scampered 15 yards off tackle for the score. The second encounter came on a 20 yard pass from quarterback Bill Binczak.

Binczak Sparks

Bill Binczak, who already threw for one touchdown, ran one this time good for 20 yards and another Pottsgrove score. The two extra points came on passes from Binczak, one to Mike Yonkovitch and Gary Ludwig.

Boyertown Edged

With a 1-0 log the Junior Birds went into their 2nd game hoping for another win. The game started as if it would be an all offensive game but it was the other way around. There was only one score in the game and the Junior Birds scored that on a 5 yard run by Gary Ludwig (he has already scored 3 touchdowns in two games this year). The extra point was good on a pass from quarterback Bill Binczak to end Mike Yonkovitch. The Falcon defense held and the Junior High won their second game 7-0.

The team might have won the third game but they lost their first string quarterback, Bill Binczak, for the entire season when he broke his thumb.

Birds Smashed

The Junior High, looking for their 3rd straight victory, got smothered by the Phoenixville Phantoms 19-0 on the losers' gridiron. The team's defense, which was fantastic on their first two encounters, fell apart in this game. The team has had much experience from last year and will try to come back off their first loss when they travel to Pottstown to play Central, Saturday morning, October 21. The team's next home game will be the 28th of October when they host Pottstown Northern at 10:15.

Kathy Swartz heads this year's squad. Other members of the Varsity are seniors Vena Arnt, Chrysee Kline, and Monna Levengood. Juniors are Pam Salvatore, Kathy Gingrich, and Margie Nettles. Sophomores June Matthews, Debbie Reed, Jill Kline, and Darlene Sekelick round out the squad. The Junior Varsity squad, headed by Donna Testa, consists of Christi Miller, Barbara Stein, Karen Basile, and Paula Lengyel. As in past years, Mrs. Bixler will sponsor the girls.

Something New

This year the Parent-Teacher Association donated raincoats for the cheerleaders. Along with cheering at the football and basketball games, they will cheer at all the girls' hockey games.

Junior High

goals, led the attack and Sue Bernhart also contributed one. The rain shortened the JV game to only one 20-minute half which resulted in another Pottsgrove victory, 2-0. Jean Mauger scored both goals.

Win Over O. J.

Bucktown was the setting for another game; this time with Owen J. Roberts. Pat Chaback and Martha Davis each scored a goal to defeat the Kittens 2-0. In JV play the Kittens defeated the Falconettes by a slim 1-0 margin.

For their fourth straight league victory, the girls next delivered a 2-1 defeat to Great Valley. Sue Bernhart and Martha Davis were scorers for this game. Sue Panfile scored the only JV goal which resulted in another Pottsgrove victory, 1-0.

Defeat Pottstown

The team next traveled to Pottstown and defeated them rather handily by a score of 2-0. Following this victory, the Falconettes squeaked by Spring-Ford 1-0 as Martha Davis scored the only goal, and then crushed Coatesville 5-1.

KAREN REMP

Do you know a senior girl who enjoys climbing rocks, has made a two hundred foot chain from the wrappers of chewing gum and becomes engaged in ink battles? Anyone in the section 12-A, of course, would know this to be the description of one Karen Remp.

Pottsgrove Activities

Karen takes part in many of the school's activities. These are: Student Council, Honor Society, the tennis team, and Pottsgrovian. Along with all this Karen has found time to become co-captain of the hockey team and secretary of the senior class.

New Pottsgrove Library Opens

Students at Pottsgrove High School will enjoy the facilities offered in our new library this October. The new library will accommodate 126 pupils and will include shelving for 15,000 books. Numerous books have been purchased by local and federal funds and 3,000 books have been added to the collection this term.

A new facility not offered by the old library is a conference room where committees and small groups can meet and discuss their work. Included in the conference room is a record player and tape recorder with earphones with which a total of ten people can listen to recordings of speeches and various additional recordings. The available recordings will be expanded in number throughout the year.

A display case at the entrance of the library will exhibit new books and magazines. Also at the entrance is a depository slot in which one may return books without entering. Added for the storage and classification of magazines, an L-shaped magazine room supplies a new assortment of periodicals and newspapers.

Students will be able to study in a quieter atmosphere with wall to wall carpeting and a well lighted room which includes fluorescent lights and skylights.

State Senator Holl Gives Speech At 2nd P. H. S. Council Induction

Student council held its second annual induction assembly on September 29. Senator Holl, a state legislator, spoke on the topic of student council representatives.

The students who were inaugurated are: Cathy Cook, Laurey Fry, Tim Ludwick, Laurie Weitzenkorn, David Kirk, Marc Nettles and Gary Romie. These are the seventh grade representatives.

The eighth grade council members are Margaret Weir, Steve Freedman, Christine Dry, Patricia Supplee, Dave Martin, Candy Evans, Jeffrey Pierce. Debbie Princinthal is the representative at large. In the ninth grade there are Nancy McClurken, Randy Kozel, Cindy Jost, Phillip Lenko, Alan Levengood, Donald Derrick, Maria Morris and Corky Troyan.

P.H.S. Teams Get New Equipment

The PTA has provided the varsity cheerleaders with new rubberized raincoats for this year. Made in the school colors, they feature large pockets and zipped front. The raincoats are enhanced by the PHS pocket insignia placed there by Mr. Leisey.

Hockey Uniforms

The varsity hockey team is also sporting new attire. The girls' new hockey wardrobe includes pleated maroon kilts, white short sleeve blouses with hockey sticks decorating the pocket, jackets, and matching sweat pants.

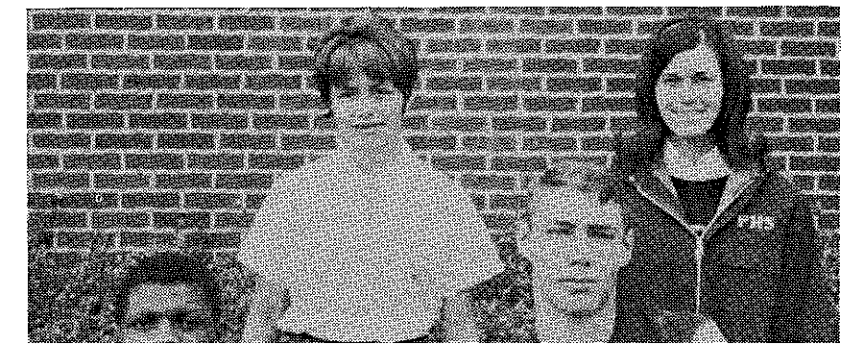

The senior football players were additional recipients of new equipment. They received new practice pants.
