Chemistry Lab and Metal Shop Get Two New Teachers To Fill Vacancies

The metal shop and the chemistry laboratory have received new teachers because of vacancies.

Teacher Leaves for Industry

Mr. Kershner has left room 221 for a position in an industrial area. Taking his place is Patricia Grieb. Miss Grieb is a graduate of Lock Haven College, where she majored in secondary education. Before securing a position at Pottsgrove High School, Miss Grieb had been a laboratory assistant at Drake Chemicals in Lock Haven, working mainly with dyes.

Outside of the chem lab, Miss Grieb enjoys horseback riding and swimming. She was an active participant in college and a member of the Sigma Kappa Sorority.

Metal Shop Vacancy Filled

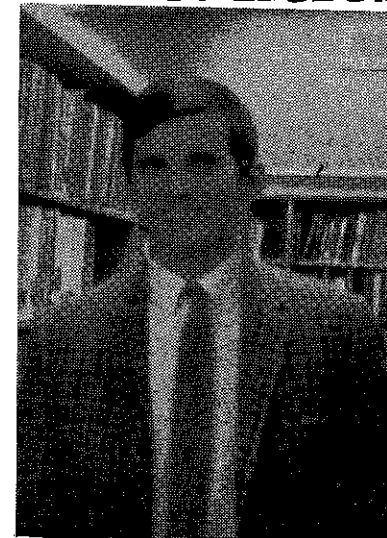

Filling the vacancy in room 401 is Mr. Sickler, who had graduated from Millersville State College. He was a resident of West Chester, Pennsylvania and while at college had majored in Industrial Arts. One of his main interests when away from school is sports.

Junior Class To Present The Musical 'My Fair Lady' To Public On April 10, 11

The Junior class play "My Fair Lady" will be presented in the high school auditorium on April 10, 11, at 8:00 p.m.

Nancy Yarnall stars as Eliza Doolittle, a poor, ignorant, English flower girl; Gene Bartholomew co-stars as Professor Henry Higgins, a confirmed bachelor who, because of a bet with his friend Colonel Pickering (Eric VanHorn), determines to make Eliza into a duchess within 6 months.

King and Queen Reign At Valentine's Dance

An air of romance beset the high school cafeteria Saturday, January 31 when the class of 1972 presented the annual Valentine's dance which was titled "Traces of Love." Providing the musical entertainment for the evening was "Sir Gregory and the Lords." Decorations consisted mainly of a large tunnel. Light refreshments of coke, chips, cupcakes, and pretzels were served.

Returning to crown this year's king and queen were last year's reigning couple, JoEllen Mauger and Gary Ludwig. As the time grew nearer, tensions arose, while

Other characters involved in the plot include Eliza's father, Alfred Doolittle (John Lippert), Harry (John Kalamon) and Jamie (Keith Sharp), friends of Eliza's father, and Freddy (Bruce Roberts), who plays a rich young man who falls in love with Eliza.

Phillip Auerbach portrays Karpathy, an eccentric Hungarian. Debbie Fallon and Stephanie Szakal respectively play Mrs. Pearce, a maid in the Higgins' house, and Mrs. Higgins, Henry's mother. Mrs. Eynsford-Hill, Freddie's haughty mother, is portrayed by Terri Moore, while Debbie Reynolds plays Mrs. Hopkins, a cockney friend of Alfred Doolittle.

Some of the well-known songs from this play are "I Could Have Danced All Night," "On the Street Where You Live," "With a Little Bit of Luck," "Wouldn't It Be

Magazines To Be Sold By Students Once Again

Pottsgrove High School started its annual magazine campaign on February 5. This will last until February 16. To put some incentive into the student body Mr. Clyde Gambler from the Curtis Publishing Company delivered a speech on selling techniques.

Awards

Back again are the Dream Pets and Autograph Pals. The Love Bugs, which are new this year, will be awarded to the person who sells nine or more subscriptions. Also, there will be the usual chart awards from which one may choose a prize. As a special attraction, a portable television set will be given to one of the highest sellers if our goal of $8000 is reached.

Captains

Under the guidance of Mr. Schaffer are Mary Bertoti and Debbie Kopystecki serving as captains.

with wrestling spirit. Given the name Falconbelles, the girls' aim is to do their utmost to help the audience enjoy the matches. They do this by distributing programs at the gym entrance, keeping the books, scorekeeping, and encouraging the guys to do their best.

Seniors Given Awards At Color Day Assembly

The annual Color Day assembly was held on January 30, 1970, in which Christopher Hayer and Cindy Kollar were the honored winners. Students paid tribute to the colors, maroon and white, and emphasized the need for school spirit.

Qualifications Personified

The qualifications for this honor are the best personifications of citizenship, school service, loyalty and spirit. Greatly displaying these provisions were the seniors chosen for the award: June Matthews, Cheryl Francis, Cindy Kollar, Andrew Estock, Kurt Holloway, and Christopher Hayer.

After the speeches, Dr. Jacob Dailey presented the award to Cindy and Mr. Richard J. Radel gave Christopher his award.

BAILEYBALL AND M. POPPINS SIGNIFY ANNUAL FESTIVITIES OF COLOR DAY

Pottsgrove students upheld the traditional colors of maroon and white on January 30, 1970. In the morning the annual Color Day Assembly was held, and in the afternoon the student body was entertained by the antics of several groups of students. Cindy Kollar and Chris Hayer sat in special seats set aside for them as Color Day Winners, and Alan Keifer was Master of Ceremonies.

Look To The Future For A Stable Career

Each student looks forward to the end of school and summer vacation for fun and free time, but this time is especially important to the seniors. It is a time of new experiences; some students will begin their jobs and lifetime occupations, and others will further their education. The eleventh grade students should begin making up their minds as to where they want to work or which schools they would like to attend because the competition is very severe and college acceptances are limited.

le. This year's couple were Jan Matthews and Gary Troyan.

Soccer on Wheels

The senior boys challenged each other to an unusual game of scooterball, and the boys Leader's Club entertained the people to a game of bailey ball. A game played like basketball but with a towel-wrapped tennis racket and a volleyball.

Mrs. Irey's modern dance group performed two dances, one to the music of "Romeo and Juliet" and another to a song from Mary Poppins. The Varsity Club played a successful game of volleyball against the faculty.

tomed to Her Face."

Pops Concert Presents PHS Musical Potpourri

The popular, lighter music of today will be presented by the senior high chorus, junior high band and dance band and the senior high concert band and dance band. The concert scheduled for February 13 at 8:00 will be held in the school auditorium. Admission to the concert is 50 cents and $1.00 for adults. Students accompanied by parents will be admitted free of charge.

Past and Present Music Performed

Featured in the Pops Concert are tunes popular with all ages. The senior high chorus directed by Mr. Eugene Johnson will sing "Up, Up and Away," plus selections from "Oliver!" Musical memories, such as "Star Dust" and selections from "Porgy and Bess" and "Hello, Dolly!" will be played by the senior high concert band. Mr. Thomas Roberts supervises the senior high bands.

The junior high band will perform a stirring march, "Black M," which was written for the University of Michigan, and "Variation Overture," composed by Clifton Williams, a renowned writer of music for school bands. "Little Brown Jug" and "Days of Wine and Roses" is planned as part of the junior high dance band's presentation. Mr. Walker is in charge of the junior high band division.

FLASH!!!

Sometime this month, Pottsgrove students will be seeing another exchange student. Her name will be Gisela Seyler who is seventeen years of age. She will be from Buenos Aires, Argentina and will enter the class of Spanish IV.

Happy St. Valentine's Day

Valentines Day Celebrated By Various Traditions of Love

Cards, hearts, and the colors red and white are some of the signs of Valentine's Day here in America. Did you ever stop to think of the way this day is celebrated in other countries? Let us look and see what Valentine's Day is like around the world.

Bridegroom

In Sicily the young unmarried women get up before sunrise on this day. They sit at the window, sometimes for hours, waiting for a man to pass. The girl believes that the first man she sees, or a man who looks like this man, will be her bridegroom within the coming year.

Great Britain's celebrations are much like our own. The children sing songs and play special games on Valentine's Day. The housewives bake Valentine buns for their families.

A basket of gifts left on a doorstep is not an uncommon sight in Norwich on Valentine's Day. A young suitor will leave this basket, ring the doorbell, and then run away. The young lady is then left with the task of deciding who he was.

As Valentine's Day arrives, let us remember that we are not the only ones who celebrate it, but so do many other people, in many different ways!

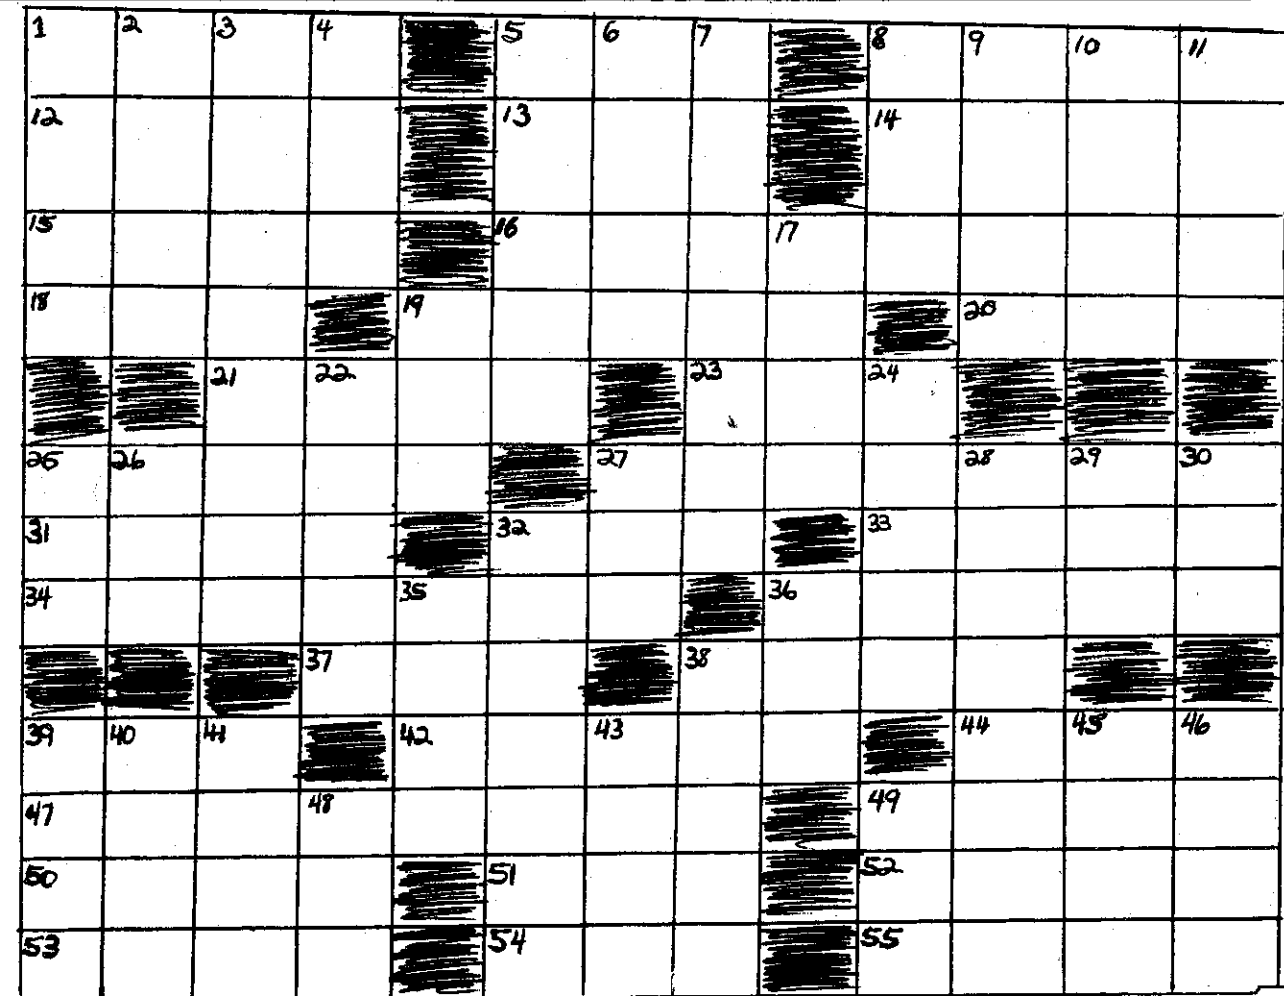

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

If you let it be the way it was going to be, everything will be okay.

Give of yourself and you will find it easier to obtain what you desire.

Classroom Capers

- Maybe someone ought to straighten out Mr. Winterbottom on the difference between East and West. It seems every time he goes to an away game, he gives Mr. Dori a tour of Coatesville.
- Has anyone noticed? Mrs. Gerhart pulled a fast one on her homeroom. The other morning they pledged allegiance to the front blackboard.
- At the present, many new games are being devised. The Am-Vo-Techers have been original too. They have devised a way to have pillow fights in 107!! (Any comments?)
- It seems Mr. Rutter has his own device for fighting the cold. He closes the door and the windows and lights the bunsen burner.
- Did anyone know that Ron Nace might enlist in the army? Then, ten years from now if you're ever stopped for speeding, it might be Ron giving you a ticket.

Love Opinions Given; Cupid Strikes Us Again

When that Roman priest, Saint Valentine, suffered martyrdom during the persecution of Emperor Claudius, he apparently did not realize what his name would come to represent.

Come the middle of February, the beautiful people of the world celebrate the pagan Roman festival of the Lupercalia, nowadays, Saint Valentine's day. It is the day when cupid shoots the arrow through the sky and lands in the soft heart of an unaware passer-by, but not always in the best of light for some students.

Comments

According to Dennis Bush, "I think it's stupid because one always sees some midget running around with a bow and arrow trying to hit somebody."

But not everyone is as hypercritical as Denny. There are many romantics roaming the halls, who when asked what St. Valentine's day means would say, "Telling someone special that you love him," as Kay Hoffman stated, or quite simply, as Kathy Halteman said, "It's something nice."

Some people became emotional over the Valentine idea and others don't quite know what to say, for Paula Shaner said, "It's a day to be nice, I mean, you know, a day to be kind, wait. The wearing of red, giving of valentines. I mean, more like a play day." Or frankly as Daniel Lenko said, "It's all heart!"

PENTANGLEatSUNRISE PENTANGLEatSUNSET

Two or three summers ago, five individuals with unique talents joined forces to form one very unique and different musical bag, The Pentangle.

Pentangle consists of Terry Cox, drums and glockenspiel; Bert Jousch, acoustic guitar; Jacqui McShee, vocals; John Renbourn, acoustic guitar; and Dowy Thompson, double bass.

Of all groups now in existence, Pentangle is the first one I have heard that incorporates just about every type of music into their being—folk, blues, jazz, and classical. Their first and only album as of now, Sweet Child, has gone past the "group idea," giving each member a chance to break down all musical barriers and live the music.

Sweet Child, recorded live at the Royal Festival Hall in London, is a complete musical book. It contains numbers like La Rotta and The Earle of Salisbury, 14th century dances, and blues numbers such as "Turn Your Money Green," and "I've Got a Feeling." Pentangle does some very solid arrangements of Traditional English and Scottish ballads like the unaccompanied song by Jacqui, "So Early in the Spring." They also get into spirituals and jazz. Two of the best jazz cuts on the album are Haitian Fight Song in which Danny solos on bass, and Moon Dog.

Bert, John, and Danny go into some very beautiful instrumentals based on other songs or original pieces. "Three Part Thing" is probably the best of all the instrumentals contained in Sweet Child.

Pentangle isn't five people, it isn't people playing music . . . Pentangle is a sound and must be heard to be appreciated. They start out within the musical patterns, and without fail, go beyond these limits, surpassing goals they themselves thought impossible to reach.

The Pentangle repertoire is moving and a must for all music lovers.

Well Nourished But Starving

Valentine's Day is a rather frivolous holiday based around the concept of love. However, love of one's fellowman is not one to be regarded too lightly. Throughout the world today there are many people who actively and seriously express their love for mankind. One fine example of a group united by this principle is the Peace Corps. It is also interesting to note that each of the world's major religions is centered about the Golden Rule which in itself is simply a guide to developing and maintaining love among men.

It is fine to discuss love in such a lofty, idealistic and distant manner, but talking about it will not bring people an inch closer if no action is taken. Open your eyes and see for the first time the people you go to school with 180 days each year. In every classroom there is some person who is starving for the love and acceptance of his classmates. This person may be a clown, smart-alec, or a withdrawn shy type. Don't judge him. Pay him a sincere compliment; recognize his talents and abilities. Very soon you may find a very sensitive, pleasant individual underneath this usually defensive and often deceiving surface.

We are all guilty, teachers as well as students, of judging and criticizing a person rather than making a sincere effort to help him. By showing some genuine interest in this individual, you may supply him with a bit of the love we all need so badly, a need of which few will admit. The results of a small effort can be striking. You may discover someone who is much better than you expected.

Pottsgrove Senior High Wrestlers Defeat Perkiomen Valley Vikings

Coming off with an impressive tie with Coatesville, the Pottsgrove wrestlers visited Owen J. Roberts. They pulled six wins, all in the low and middle weights, but lost by a score of 25 to 18. John Pitchford, 95 lbs.; Don Sutton, 103 lbs.; Dean Sutton, 112 lbs.; Chris Hayer, 120 lbs.; Tim Moses, 154 lbs.; and Barry Moser, 165 lbs., all decisioned their men. However, Owen J. won three of the other matches by pins, one in the first period, to win by 7 points.

Against West Chester the Falcons lost 9-34. Chris Hayer remained undefeated by decisioning Steve Glazier 8 to 0 and Don Sutton won by a forfeit. Tom Kochel lost to Andy Traines, last year's 120 lb. sectional champ, by a close score of 6 to 4.

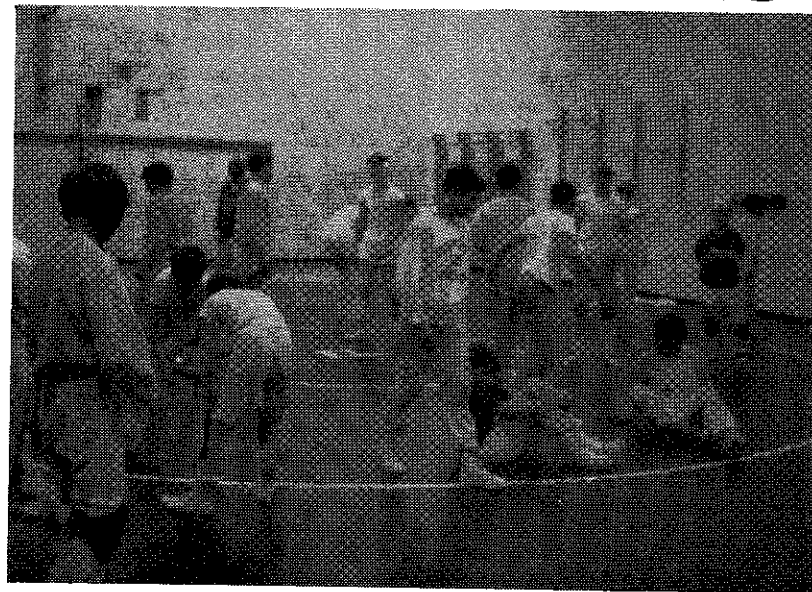

Bad Losses

The Falcons were wiped clean by Great Valley by a score of 47 to 0. Chris Hayer lost his only match so far this season to Steve Drant by one point. Each individual match was close although the score did not show it. Barry Moser joined Dale Gresh on the injured list after this match.

Facing the Trojans, the grapplers won three of twelve matches but lost 9 to 38. Winning by decisions were Tom Kochel over Donald Erb, Chris Hayer over Reggie Aikens, and Tim Moses over Dave Drumheller.

At Downingtown, Pottsgrove lost 42 to 6. Chris Hayer decisioned Steve Feters and Tim Moses decisioned Paul Harter.

Drawbacks

The junior high basketball team this year is suffering from the lack of height and sharp shooters. Marc Nettles is the team's high score man with an average of 9.5 points a game and also grabbing 50% of the team's rebounds. Means is second highest, averaging five points a game.

In their opening game the junior high ball handlers hosted Perkiomen Valley Vikings.

SPORT TALK

By JAMES EGELSTON

Arthur Ashe Denied African Visa

Arthur Ashe, American Negro tennis star, has been refused a visa permitting him to compete in South Africa in the South African Open Tennis Championship in March. The announcement came not unexpectedly since South Africa had been banned from the Olympic Games and international sports as a result of their race segregation laws which forbid white and non-whites to compete together.

Opinion against South Africa's ruling in the Ashe case arose quickly after the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association issued a strong-worded statement citing "a clear case of racial discrimination."

The U. S. State Department had involved itself in the case by supporting Ashe's visa application through Secretary of State William Rogers. The State Department said, "We greatly regret the refusal of the visa to Ashe and we believe that it would be in the best interest of South Africa in terms of its international posture with other countries in the sports field to admit Ashe."

Sportsmen throughout South Africa fear that the visa refusal will not only lead to South Africa's expulsion from Davis Cup competi-

The Falcons used a 22-point fourth quarter to overcome a tough Boyertown five. Bob Gingrich and Bob Kurtz paced the winners to a 61-50 victory with 19 and 18 points respectively.

Phoenixville

In one of the most exciting games of the season, the Falcons edged the Phantoms 57-56. Going into the fourth quarter, the Falcons led 48-43. Phoenixville fought back to within one point, but time ran out as the Falcons prevailed. Bob Gingrich had a career high of 30 points.

Pottstown

The Trojan-Falcon game was scheduled for the Pottstown gym, but a power failure made it necessary to switch the game to our home court. Pottstown's "panic press" worked effectively as the Trojans forced the Falcons into numerous turnovers. Down 38-25 at half-time, the Falcons sparked by Alan Kifer fought back to within three points but could not capitalize on the Trojans' mistakes. The Falcons finally fell 67-62. Bob Gingrich paced the Falcons with 21, and Bob Kurtz and Lenny Smith had 12 each.

Owen J. Roberts

The Falcons travelled to Owen J. Roberts with anticipation of an easy game. However, the Wildcats roared to a 29-24 halftime edge. Bob Kurtz's 12 points in the fourth quarter spearheaded the attack as the Falcons escaped with a 64-59 victory. John Silknitter paced Owen J. with 29 points.

West Chester

Valley 43-17 in our gym achieving their first victory. Dean Sutton, Chris Hayer, Don Green, Rich Miller, Glenn Hessler, and Bob Sherman pinned their men. Don Sutton, Tom Kochel, and Craig Brendlinger turned in decisions. As worried Falcon boosters looked on, lightweight John Pitchford also was pinned.

The Falcons' present record is 1-5-1. The grapplers still have matches at Boyertown, Phoenixville, and Spring-Ford to anticipate wins.

To Stimulate Spirit

Coaches Stanley Friedman, Robert Meko (both new), and the Falconbells continue to work hard to promote interest in the sport of wrestling at Pottsgrove.

Palestra?

As of Tuesday night's defeat to the Warriors of West Chester, Pottsgrove needs to win its remaining two games to qualify for the District I class B playoffs.

A Ches-Mont League rule states that each representative for the playoffs must win more than half of its league ball games.

The team needs the support of the entire student body in its final league game at Great Valley.

the Falcons a 32-25 defeat. They then traveled to Northern Junior High and were again defeated, 64-25. The story remained the same for the team as they were unable to score a win going into the Hill School game. Here, they put together a fine game with Means and Nettles scoring eleven and seven points respectively although the Hill nipped Pottsgrove, 44-40. The powerful Central team then scored a decisive win over the Falcons with a score of 61-33.

New Winter Sport Begun at P.H.S.; Jorgenson to Head

Winter Track is a new sport here at Pottsgrove and is under its first year of direction by Mr. Jorgenson.

This new sport in the senior high is a conditioning program for athletes during the winter who will later participate in spring sports, mainly track. The boys work out each day and have participated in meets at indoor tracks at West Chester, East Stroudsburg, and Haverford Colleges. These colleges have facilities much like that of an outdoor track, such as pole vault, high jump, runways, and a circular track for running events.

Members of Team

The following boys are out for winter track and are pursuing their respective events. Ed Herneison, 440 yd.; Rocco Liott, pole vault; Tom Panfile, shot put; Ken Stauffer, mile and half-mile; Steve Chyka, 660 yd.; Bruce Roberts, half mile; and Terry Yoder, Tim Yoder, Ralph Basile, Jeff Pierce, Frank Newman running in various relay events.

Although the boys have not won any places at any meets, they will have a good start for the season with bright hopes of a prosperous season.

wrestled his last match of the year, for he fractured his leg after the meet during practice. His pin here gave him a 2-0 final record. Meko and Dierolf also scored wins for Pottsgrove.

In their next match with Great Valley, Meko scored a pin while Kern and Baird decisioned their men. Kevin Bender wrestled to a draw, but the final score read 46-14. Mr. Swann and his assistant coach, Mr. Knoll, are looking forward to a win in the near future.

Girls' Basketball Team Opens Season with Win

The Pottsgrove Girls' Basketball team is hopefully on its way to another championship season. In pre-season competition the Falconettes rolled to a 3-1 record with the only loss at the hands of Governor Mifflin. They also had wins over Daniel Boone, Wilson, and the Northern Chester County Vocational Technical School.

The first regular season game was played at Coatesville. The Pottsgrove ball-handlers rolled over the Red Raiders, 38 to 17.

The Falconettes traveled to West Chester anticipating a tough battle. As the game progressed, it looked as though the girls would suffer their first league defeat at the hands of the Warriors. With about one minute to go, the Pottsgrove team rallied to fly over West Chester, 34-33.

Pottstown was the girls' next prey, and the girls played a great game for our home crowd. The Falconettes romped over the Trojanettes, 44 to 23.

First Loss

The Falconettes received their first league loss at the hands of sports, stimulating the campaign to drive race-segregated South Africa out of world sport.

Clearly, South Africa's decision to refuse Ashe's visa was justified in support of their laws. However, it is also clear that their segregationist laws should be challenged. If South Africa wishes to compete world-wide with other countries, she must abide by international rules, and if she doesn't, her expulsion from world sports is clearly justified.

the Downingtown Whippets. The score was 30 to 20.

J. V.'s

The J. V. team has a 2-2 record so far this season beating Downingtown and Pottstown, and losing to West Chester and Coatesville.

Next Win

The Pottsgrove Falconettes played host to the Great Valley Patriots for their next victory. It was a very exciting game as the Falconettes pulverized the Great Valley team for our home fans.

J. V.

The junior varsity team also followed in their big sisters' steps beating Great Valley for their third win. Their record is now 3-2.

2nd Defeat

The Falconettes' second defeat was at the hands of the Boyertown Bearettes.

The Pottsgrove team kept the Boyertown team to a minimum of points but couldn't get its offense started. The final score was 21-36.

The junior varsity won its 4th game by defeating the Boyertown junior varsity 14-11.

year's loss. The Falcons stayed with the Warriors during the first half. The second half was a different story. The Warriors' 25 points in the final period secured the victory, 67-39.

Coatesville

The Falcons travelled to the Red Raiders' court. The Red Raiders had one of their "poorest" teams in years, but the Falcons quickly fell behind 10-0 in the first quarter. The Falcons rallied in the second half, but succumbed to the Raiders, 57-45.

Great Valley

With the Ches-Mont League's leading scorer, Bob Devlin, the Great Valley Patriots visited Pottsgrove. After a sluggish start, Pottsgrove rallied to an eight point half-time lead. This advantage was raised to 50-38 at the end of three quarters. Bob Gingrich and Len Smith tallied 19 for the winners, and Bob Devlin paced the losers.

Phoenixville

Over a month ago in the Pottsgrove gym, time ran out as the Phantoms rallied desperately only to lose by one point. This time the Falcons found themselves on the losing end. After a terrible third period in which the visitors managed only eight points, they rallied for twenty-six in the fourth period, but fell short, 74-69. The Falcons were sparked from the bench by Keith Garlington and Drew Jacob with twelve each. Bob Gingrich, again, led Pottsgrove with 18 points.

Downingtown

The Falcons were looking for revenge from their first-half defeat by the Whippets.

Down by two at the end of the third quarter, Pottsgrove rallied for a thrilling four-point victory.

Drew Jacobs sank four key foul shots to ice the Birds' win.

MRS. KEFFER

"We've got the coach" is a cheer echoed by both junior and senior high cheerleaders but is expressed by the Junior high cheerleaders toward a familiar face to them and known by specific seniors originally of 10C. Many students have seen her as a member of the English department. Mrs. Phyllis Keffer is an energetic member on the football and basketball fields by instructing 7th graders to become very promising cheerleaders.

Expresses Moments

As a member of the English Department, she was asked a question regarding her work. Her answer was, "I like it and enjoy the part of working with students." She likes to help the student in any way possible. She has been an English teacher for 3 years and is very pleased with the response of the students toward her.

Mrs. Keffer is a most versatile individual and enjoys talking with many of her former students. Mrs. Keffer stages one of her many talents by appearing in one of the
