Update No. 106

The referendum renovations are in their final phase. Phase 4 is comprised of refreshing 85 classrooms at Hinsdale Central. Improvements include new flooring, lighting, paint and acoustic ceilings. Most of the classrooms are getting new furnishings.

On Monday, June 12th, demolition and asbestos abatement crews began removing ceilings, lights, and flooring. The Science wing is first in queue, with demolition expected to finish up Friday, June 16.

Left: Every effort was made to re-home existing furnishings, but there was no market for them at auction or as donations. The haul-away contractor was happy to report that over 80% of items could be salvaged for metals.

Right: A typical science classroom with the ceiling demolished and plastic protecting the casework.
