DEDICATION

We, the students of Newport High School, in this time of world turmoil, dedicate this annual, not to one individual, as is customary, but to the Spirit of Democracy: that Democracy which gains or holds its powers through the consent of the majority of all its members. These members are the best guardians of their own liberty and happiness. The fact that self government stimulates initiative and ambition for active participation of the people is Democracy's greatest motivating force.

A perfect democracy is a great ideal that has never yet been realized in any important country in the world. We, the future governing body, knowing that it cannot just be planted but must slowly grow, shall dedicate ourselves to the task of building toward that perfect democracy.

We feel that the moral and intellectual characteristics of the members determine the true value of a democratic government.

We feel that any group, large or small, that forces its indoctrinations upon us against our desires and better judgements, is inimical to the thought implied in Democracy, and that our rebellious forefathers would have us keep intact that heritage of the free speech, a free press, and the right equally to search for happiness that they so solemnly and bravely gave us.

"THE AIM OF A SENIOR"

Life seems but a rolling hill.
At our first steps we start to climb.
Each step displays a value found,
Step after step with the passing of time.

We sometimes halt, as we march along.
We may grow weary, stop and rest,
But over in our minds we hear,
"Keep marching on, you'll stand the test."

Years roll along; as time goes by
The top of the hill seems far away.
In order to reach the peak of success
We must keep marching forward, day after day.

But isn't it best that we struggle to climb?
If the road were downhill, life would go far too fast.
We've all started out, and we'll climb side by side
Until all of the toiling and troubles are past.

The road may be bumpy,
Lend a hand all the time.
Make the most of each moment
And you've won half the climb.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '39

In the year of Our Lord nineteen-hundred-twenty-seven a class was perpetrated on our educational system, perceived with doubt and dedicated to the proposition that all youngsters are created mischievous. It is from this august group, commencing in the dim, dark,distant days of the past, that there has come so much of talent,scholarship, athletic ability,intellectual supremacy, and downright cussedness.

Let us turn for a moment to this past of which we have spoken;--let us review the sequence of events which brings us to this present day,---let us gaze for a moment upon our gallery of past portraits,--look with us, through the wrong end of the telescope, and see us as others have seen us, but can no more. We can recall so many things--some happy--some sad--some gay--some pathetic--and some very amusing.

There was a time when Margaret Campbell, Mary Lee Bell, Alice Shaw, Betty Jean Goodpasture, and Elizabeth Sartin accompanied a friend to her destination during school hours and then went to Sartins' home and played "Fan Tan". Arriving at school some time later that afternoon, our kind-hearted principal informed them they had earned a two-weeks' vacation. A change of heart came over Mr. McNeil. Relenting and deciding he was a bit harsh with first offenders,he told them instead of the vacation they could spend a few weeks of their activity periods in room 304--more commonly known as "The Dog House". Well, at least their assignments were done for awhile. A tip to you girls: don't let any of the faculty see you leave next time and maybe you'll rate a white slip instead of "The Dog House".

And do you remember when Albert Elkins was initiated into the honorable Letter "N" Club? It started with Ernie White getting his name and telling him what to do and wear the day of initiation. Albert winked at all the girls that talked to him, bowed to all the Letter "N" boys and said "Oo-La-La" to them when they said anything to him. He was dressed in girls' clothing with trousers slightly longer than the dress. His hair was done up in curlers and his face had plenty of make-up on it. Then in front of the whole high school assembly he had to play his sax and sing a song dedicated to "a girl". To top it all off he then had to stoop over and get paddled. They certainly didn't remember he was supposed to represent the weaker sex when the paddling took place.

Hulda Gretner should never forget the time in the third grade when our "very kind and sympathetic" teacher, Miss Damrell, made Hulda wash her mouth out with some very nasty-tasting soap, for eating a small piece of candy during school time.

Don't think Miss Damrell too harsh, but she also made Betty Owen write one hundred times, "I will never chew gum again in school." It evidently make little impression on Betty because she still chews gum, and loves it.

There was also a time when "The Green Frosh" always managed to get established in the wrong class room their first day of school. For instance, Nora Swanson very nonchalantly entered a class room, settled down comfortably in a front seat, and proceeded to look around expecting to see the familiar faces of class mates. Instead she was confronted with fixed facial features and the bored expressions of a noisy group of individuals who could not be mistaken. They were the upper class men who bore the dignified title of "Seniors". Nora left immediately and entered the right class a few minutes late. The teacher gave her a knowing smile and nothing more was said.

Remember when Dorothe Rednour as another "Green Frosh" dashed madly down the stairs and slipped on the icy steps outside, and how, falling, she accidently tripped Superintendent Waller. It wouldn't have been so bad, but it was absolutely against the rules of the school to run up or down the steps or in the halls. Oh well, Frosh will learn.

And how can we forget Billy Moss' experience in skipping school? Half-way between here and Priest River he thumbed a car and it turned out to be the Superintendent!! Lucky Bill, he didn't even get kicked out of school for a week!

How can we forget Kenny Mikkelson, our Student Body President? Kenny entered N.H.S. as a Sophomore and has been very active in Student Affairs.

Remember all those track meets at Cusick when our own Ernie White made good and got to go to Cheney. That was a big thrill to Ernie, but when he won at Cheney and was entered in the State Track Meet at Pullman, that was "Tops".

A way back in 1928 there were two shy little girls that walked into the Second Grade room. They were very frightened but through the kindness of our teacher, Miss Maycumber, they lost all their shyness and even now I wonder if they were really Margaret Campbell and Elizabeth Campbell. 'Cause they seem to have lost all that bashfulness.

Jim Caswell said that he didn't know how he would have gotten through Junior English if it hadn't been for the good-looking teacher.

There was also a time when Harold Dahlen and Gesiena Bade were one and inseperable. Remember the time Elaine Harrington was initiated into N.H.S. by a group of senior girls?

Do you remember seeing Ed Adams at two Senior Sneaks and four Junior Proms, and his picture in two "Bruins"?

How can we forget when hunting season opened and June Carter was the first student to get results?

Do you remember our first grade picnic, when it rained and we ate in the school woodshed? That was also the time Roy Graupner ate three-fourths of the Jello.

Ed Khtaian had to write an English theme on "My Most Outstanding School Experience". Of course Ed, being very musical, his thoughts went to music. His deepest regret is that he will not be able to be in the band next year.

And do you remember Francis Guerin telling us about the time their bus went driverless over the bank?

And was Wilbur Fox filled with ecstasy when our "Undefeated Grizzlies" topped off the 38-39 football season by beating Priest River for the first time in seven years!! Wilbur wasn't the only one, however. We must not forget "Chuck" Richards, our tackler, alias the "Man of Muscle". And speaking of muscle, N. H. S. certainly had a big thrill watching Tom Nonke "Mow 'em down".

And how could we forget our "Muscle Women"? Remember when Marion Poirier stamped out of the gym to her home clad in her gym clothes? Marion could probably tell you more of this in detail.

And do you remember the day Alice Shaw, Eilene Zyph, Doris Broten, and Barbara Carpenter could be found at the bridge with a can of paint-remover gracefully removing the masterful art of our spirited Class of '39?

We wonder if Art Guscott has forgotten about the locker full of books that were temperamentally thrown at him?

You should have seen Russ Poirier when he fashioned that air-conditioned girls' bathing suit at Diamond Lake. Speaking of Diamond Lake, remember when our Sophomore class advisor, Miss Carolyn Gearhart, chaperoned a group of girls, and Bernice Vanderholm got up at six o'clock a.m. and walked all seven miles to the lake?

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of Newport High School being firmly constituted and apprehended, having given all testatory to the contrary not withstanding, do hereby and hereinafter, do by all recognized statutes, laws, by-laws and in-laws, fully relate, prostigidate, abolish, anaesthetize, persoverate, and abnegate our last will and testament. We do bequeath, and bequite, and request at our behest, and on good behavior of the aforesaid parties undermentioned, the following items to wit, et cetera, et al., ad lib.

Dorothy Wight wills her good grades to Gene O'Brien. (We know you don't need 'em Gene, but just in case.)

Jim Caswell wills his ability to get around to Elsie Beedle. (Don't go too far, Elsie.)

Hulda Gretner leaves her shy ways to Joyce Carpenter.

George Martin wills to Joyce Jackson his domestic aptitudes.

La Vina Hooper bequeaths her ability to lose fountain pens to Robert Kerns.

Herb Henke wills his slow-motion walk to Elsie Freeman. (Keep it a snail's pace, Elsie.)

Barbara Carpenter wills her ever-loving temper to Eloise Johnson. (Not that Eloise needs it, but--)

Billy Moss wills his ability to stand on his head in all the High School Revues to Peggy Sparks.

Bernice Vanderholm bequeaths her number 9's to Frances Zimmer and Marguerite Gilbride.

Ed Khtaian wills his nick-name of "Choo-Choo" to May Fowler.

Mary Lee Bell leaves to Kathryn Sartin her dramatic technique. (You should be a sensation now, Kathryn.)

Warren Johnson bequeaths his title of "ladies' man" to James Mace.

Alice Shaw wills her pew in church to Rich Emery. (Leave a good impression, Rich.)

Art Guscott wills his knowledge of foreign affairs to Nellie Lear.

Eilene Zyph wills her love for poetic spouting in Speech plays to Burns Wilson.

Ernest Patterson leaves himself to Beulah Jaynes. (Big thrill!!!)

Francis Guerin wills her wavy hair to Yuki Iwata.

Walter Schmelzer leaves his note writing to Clair McArthur. (If you want to see a sample, there's one in the upper-hall waste-paper basket.)

Betty Owen wills her biggest wad of chewing gum to Ted Schwab. (It's in Mac's room--in the third row--and under the fourth seat.)

Charles Richards leaves his ability to keep out of the way of women to the meek Mike Migvar.

Doris Broten bequeaths her interest in that certain college boy to Betty Hoisington.

Russell Poirier wills his talkative nature to Myrtle Dodge.

Harold Dahlen wills his finger-wave technique to Ed Leavitt.

June Carter wills her freckles to Eline Johnson.

Billy Losh leaves his cunning little ways of getting around the Commercial teacher to Margaret Ownbey.

Margaret Campbell wills her dimples to Donna Rednour.

Albert Elkins bequeaths those loving ways that were willed to him last year to Lawrence McKee.

Mary Doherty leaves her speed towards getting through high school in three years to Ed Vannost.

Wilbur Fox wills his "come-hither glances" to Virginia Erdman.

Betty Jean Goodpasture bestows upon Frank Wilson her admired white hands.

Roy Graupner leaves his dynamic structure to Archie Scholl.

Catherine Greene leaves her brother Jimmy to anyone who will have him.

Tommy Henke bequeaths his ability to "put it over" to Dorothy Schwab.

Ed Dumew wills his knowledge of orchestration to Lona Clark.

Elizabeth Campbell wills her loving disposition to Doris Curtis and Lorene Shull.

Kenneth Mikkelsen bestows that handy knack of gum cracking to the quiet Irene Warren.

Elaine Harrington leaves to Amy Bottrel the secret of true love. (Just the secret, Elaine?)

Charles Upton bequeaths his base voice to Norma Kliewer.

Marion Poirier wills her flirtatious ways to Eunice McArthur.

Ernest White leaves to Dorothy Small his collection of girls' hair ribbons.

Elizabeth Sartin wills her place in the Student Council to Pat Hoisington.

Dorothe Rodnour bestows upon Lorene Shull her fiery red curls.

Ed Adams leaves to Margaret Grotner and Joan McIntosh his latest creation in vehicles. (What is it Ed, a 1925 Chevrolet?)

Nora Swanson bequeaths to Ora Richardson all her lilting poetry. (To be used in the moonlight, Ora.)

The Senior Class as a whole leaves to the Class of '40 their loyalty, their school spirit, their determination to get things done, their athletic ability, their scholarship, and all their other good points for the Juniors to put to good use when and if they expect to follow in the mighty Seniors' spirited footsteps.

Not signed and not sealed this 24th day of May.

ANNUAL STAFF

The editorial group for the "Bruin" of '39 was chosen in February and they immediately were busy making plans for the annual. A contract was signed with the Intercollegiate Press of Kansas City, Missouri, for the paper, covers, and photographic reproductions of picture pages. Every member of the Senior Class deserves praise for their cooperation both financial and literary in making this book possible.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Being a past master of the sacred and ancient arts of calligraphy, necromancy, graphology, phrenology, astrology---having seen it in the stars, in the signs of the Zodiac, and in the depths of my crystal ball, I do predict that in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-nine that the following people will be:

Mary Lee Bell will be the president of the Orators' Club in Washington D. C.

Harold Dahlen will be the world's ping pong champion.

Russell Poirier will be America's hottest trumpeter.

Elizabeth Campbell will be the leader of the New Dealers, succeeding President Roosevelt.

Arthur Guscott will achieve the place of first trombonist of the Penrith Symphony Orchestra.

Betty Owen will be the coach of the girls' undefeated basketball team here in N.H.S.

Tommy Henke will be the world's most famous pharmacist.

Ernest White will have achieved fame by growing an odorless onion.

Hulda Gretner will be the dean of a girls' school recently erected here in Newport.

Barbara Carpenter will be the Dramatics Instructor at Vassar College.

Edward Khtaian will be the engineer of the train that goes through Newport daily.

Eilene Zyph will be the head nurse at the Rush Medical Hospital in Chicago.

Walter Schmelzer will achieve the fame of being the world's champion light-weight boxer.

Marion Poirier will have achieved her one ambition of playing her accordian over the radio.

Jim Caswell will be the daredevil driver of the Pacific Northwest.

Gesiene Bede Simpson will be the president of the W.C.T.U. Club of Newport.

Now as I gaze further in my crystal, I see the President of the United States in our midst. I can barely make it out--yes, there it is--Charles Upton.

Nora Swanson will be the President's private secretary.

Wilbur Fox will be the famous Secretary of State.

Francis Guerin will be Mr. Fox's private secretary.

Billy Moss will be the dog catcher here in Newport and his assistant will be Roy Graupner.

Vivian Berg will be the editor of the world's most famous annual.

Bill Losh will be the editor of the New York Times.

Elaine Harrington will become the wife of the world's most famous ping pong champion.

Catherine Greene will appear in Paramount pictures. She achieved her success by her giggles.

Bernice Vanderhelm will be the dancing teacher at Vassar College.

La Vina Hooper will be hostess on her father's boat in Alaska.

Albert Elkins will be the first aviator to break all speed records by crossing the Atlantic.

Ed Dumaw and Ed Adams as P.G.'s will still be going on all the Senior Sneaks and to all Proms.

George Martin, Jr. will be the greatest Metallurgical Engineer in Washington D.C.

Warren Johnson will become the Science Professor at Washington State College.

Ernie Petterson will be the Manual Training teacher here in N.H.S.

Herbert Henke will be the football coach at W.S.C.

Betty Jean Goodpasture will be a model for one of the largest department stores in New York.

Margaret Campbell will be the hair dresser in the Flack Jr. Barber Shop.

Doris Broten will be the surgical nurse at the St. Luke's Hospital in Spokane.

Dorothe Rednour will be the singer in the Oasis Roundup Room in the Desert Hotel in Spokane. She kept her ability a secret while at N.H.S.

Elizabeth Sartin, better known as "Madam Z", will be the world's most famous clothes' designer.

June Carter will be a sales clerk for the removal of freckles.

Mary Doherty and Dorothy Wight will be owning a dude ranch in the western part of Montana.

Alice Shaw will be the coach of the interesting new sport of girls' football.

Kenneth Mikkelson will be the conductor of a great Symphony in New York City.

Charles Richards will be the mayor of Chicago, Illinois.

"SKIDDING"

Presented by the Class of '39
December 9, 1938
Directed by Miss Margaret Schultz

Characters

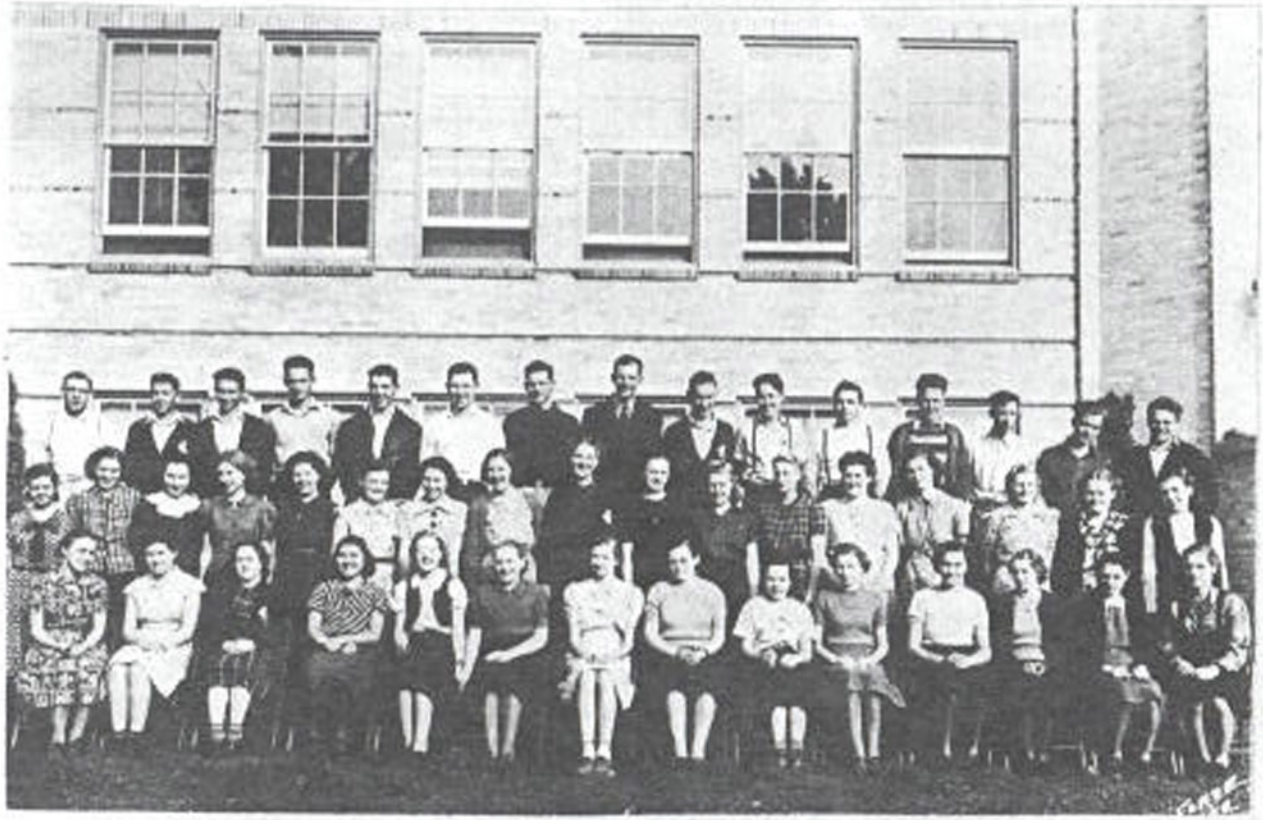

Aunt Milly	Margaret Campbell
Andy Hardy	Kenneth Nikkelson
Mrs. Hardy	Mary Lee Bell
Judge Hardy	Art Guscott
Estelle Hardy Campbell	Barbara Carpenter
Grampa Hardy	Ernie White
Marion Hardy	Doris Broten
Wayne Trenton III	Russell Poirier
Oscar Stubbins	Warren Johnson
Myra Hardy Wilcox	Elaine Harrington

The plot had to do with the coming election of Judge Hardy and the complicated lives of his three daughters and lively son. Marion, his youngest daughter, proved very helpful in the Judge's election which turned out for the best. Through expert trickery, Mrs. Hardy guided the two self-pitying, married daughters back to their frantic husbands in the third and last act.

JUNIORS

The "Proud Juniors" gave the party of the year when they gave their Barn Dance November 11. There were bales of hay here and there to sit on and everyone dressed accordingly. On February 18 was the presentation date of their class play,"The Whole Town's Talking", which was a great financial success. On May 5 they honored the Seniors at the Junior Prom which used Hawaii as a theme of decoration. The officers for the year were: President, Eloise Johnson; Vice President, Peggy Sparks; Secretary, Elsie Freeman; Treasurer, Margaret Ownbey; Student Council Representative, Lawrence McKee. The advisor for the class was Mr. Oaks.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores showed their appreciation of their class early in the fall by purchasing class sweaters in their chosen colors of red and gray with a shield of "41". The class party was held on December 2. On the programs were the clever phrase, "Bubbles of Fun from the 41's". The gym was decorated with many varied colored streamers and balloons.

The Sophomore boys have become quite noted for their basketball team which has progressed very rapidly. The officers of the class were: President, Robert Wyckoff;Vice President, Bob Graham; Secretary, Janet Elkins; Treasurer, Ivan Allen; Student Council Representative,Lois Ownbey. The class advisor was Mr. Mills.

FRESHMEN

The "Greenys" of N.H.S. showed their ability to provide good entertainment when they gave the Frosh Return Party. This class has shown great prospects for the future years of their high school.

The leaders of this group for the current year were: President, Conrad Johnson; Vice President, Lorretta Findley; Secretary-treasurer, Virginia Lee Hall; Student Council Representative, Jack Shackelton.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The leaders of the Student Association for the year of 38-39 were as follows:

Kenneth Mikkelson	President
Lawrence McKee	Vice President
Lois Ownbey	Secretary
Margaret Ownbey	Box Office Treasurer
Catherine Greene	Treasurer
Betty Jean Goodpasture	Advertising Manager
Jack Shackelton	Freshman Class Representative
Elizabeth Sartin	Senior Class Representative
George Martin, Jr. Letter "N" Club	Representative
Mr. McNeil	Advisor

The Student Association ended the year with very little money in the treasury due to the fact that much equipment had to be purchased for the boxers and various other sports during the year.

During the year several interesting speakers and entertainers were enjoyed by the Student Body. They came by invitation of the Student Council.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The officers of the Home Economics Club for the year of 38-39 have been as follows:

Elsie Freeman	President
Frances Zimmer	Vice President
Myrtle Dodge	Secretary
Joy Guscott	Treasurer
Irene Warren	Reporter
June Graves	Song Leader
Barbara Evans	Historian

During the past school year the Home Economics Club held a bazaar and had a St. Patrick's Party. The goods for the bazaar and the refreshments for the party were both made by the Home Economics classes.

A few members attended the Eastern Washington Convention at Cheney which proved very interesting.

They also sponsor an annual Mothers' Tea and it is always well attended.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The officers of the Girls' League for the year of 38-39 were as follows: Mary Lee Bell, President; Peggy Sparks, Vice President; Vivian Berg, Secretary; Margaret Ownbey, Treasurer; Betty Jean Goodpasture, Student Council Representative.

The Girls' League, which is composed of all the high school girls, sponsored a Little Sister Hike near the first of the year. During the Thanksgiving season baskets were prepared by the girls and taken to unfortunate families. The League put on a military march and drill for the All-Hi Revue in the spring.

LETTER "N" CLUB

The Letter "N" Club is made up of those students who have taken an active part in school athletics, consisting of football basketball, and track. The officers for the year of 38-39 were as follows: President, Herb Henke; Vice President, Ernie White; Secretary, Ken Mikkelson; Sergeant at Arms, Tom Henke. Thirteen of the twenty-one members graduate including all club officers. The Letter "N" Club played a basketball game with the town team, held a boxing tournament within the club, and the senior members played a football game with the rest of the squad. Instead of the usual school party, the members attended the State High School Track Meet at Pullman, Washington.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA

The Band and Orchestra have progressed rapidly during the past year. In April they went to Cheney under the direction of Gilmore Stewart, and competed in the Eastern Washington Music Meet.

The Orchestra and Band entered in "C" class, which is classified according to the number of pupils enrolled in the high school. The ratings were as follows: Orchestra, good and Band, fair. There were fifty-one pupils attending this meet.

The band performed over the radio during a "Meet Your Neighbor" program near the first of the year. Mr. Stewart is to be complimented for his excellent work.

ALL-HI REVUE

The annual All-Hi Revue was presented Friday, April 21 in the high school auditorium, under the supervision of Mr. McNeil. Committees were as follows: Stage Manager, Warren Johnson; Assistant Stage Manager, Herb Henke; Business Manager, Margaret Ownbey; Advertising Manager, Betty Jean Goodpasture; Assistant Advertising Manager, Billy Losh. Ken Mikkelson acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The program, with its many varied acts, consisted of the following numbers:

Music — High School Band
"Olie" Yorgenson — Tom Henke
Marching and Formations — Girls' League
Military Tap--Alice Oberg and Arlene Hustead

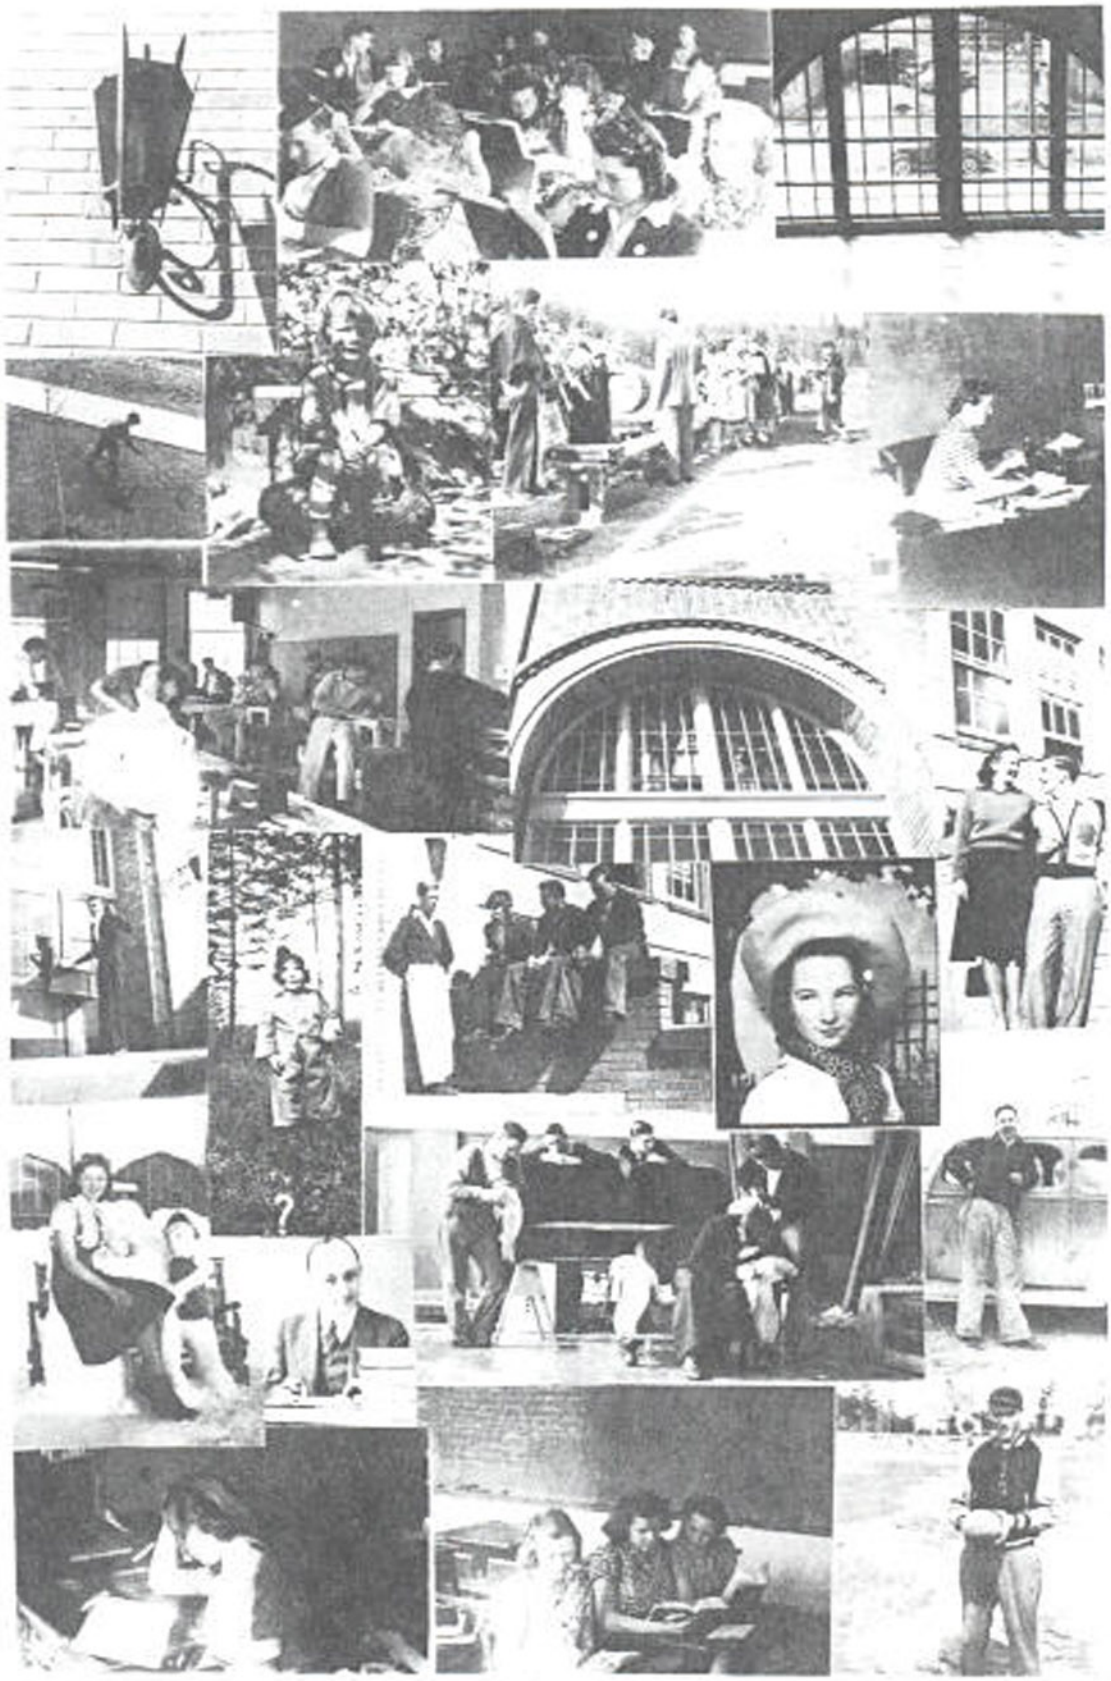

Tumbling — Physical Education Boys
"Can" Cannibal — James Mace
The Great Mystery — Harold Dahlen
Volga Boatmen — Boys' Act
Waiters' Trio — Rich Emery, Albert Elkins and Archie Scholl

P.D.Roosevelt Jones — Art Guscott
"Hair Breadth Harry" Rides Again
A Rollicking Nickelodeon Melodrama

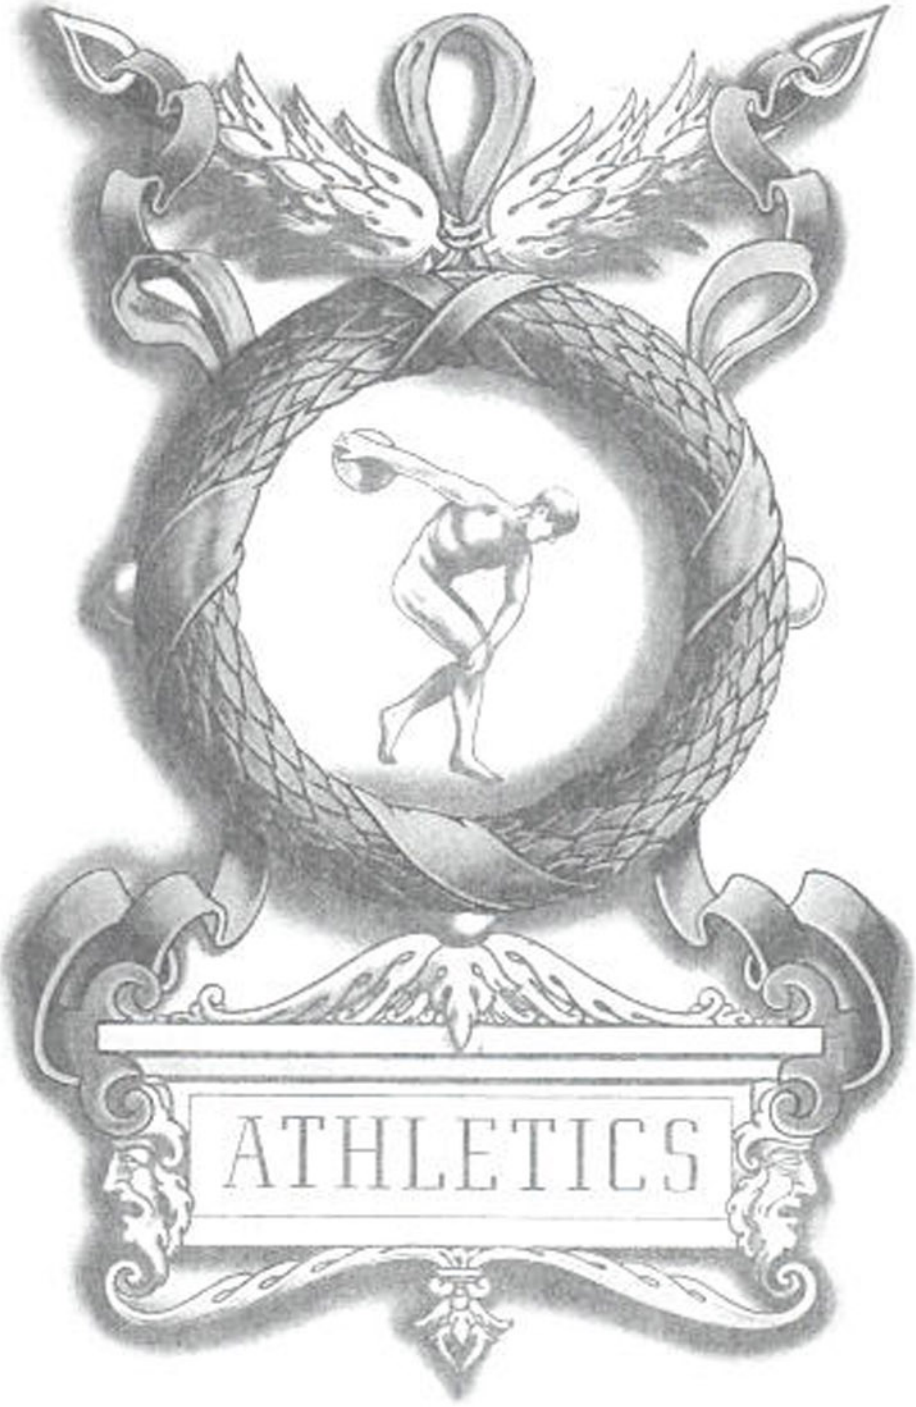

"Chorus Girls" — Sophomore Boys
Tap Dancing — Nancy Barron and Lillian Broten

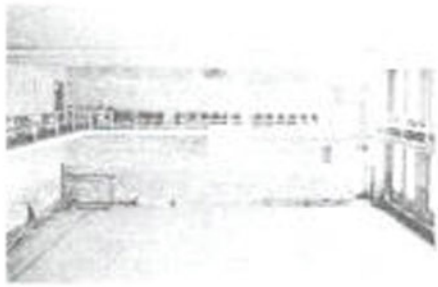

A Dramatic Incident — Speech Class
SALLY SAND — Fan and Bubble Dance
Archie Scholl

The faculty members who aided in making the Revue a big success were: Mr. Wilson, Miss Schultz, Miss Tjerandsen, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Mills, and Mr. McNeil. We wish to thank them for their assistance.

FOOTBALL

When another year of football is summed up we find that the Grizzlies went through the '38 season without once being defeated. This years' team was relatively light when compared to teams of past years. This one had to rely on speed rather than weight. Playing consistently the Grizzlies scored one hundred and fifteen points to their opponents' seven.

The seniors, having been lost by the route of graduation left a large group of sophomores and juniors, from which a prospective and good team will be built for next season. Much credit is given to Coach Mills and Assistant Coach Sanders for their never tiring work.

TRACK

The Newport Track Squad were hosts at three invitational track meets. These were as follows: the Ritzville, Central Valley and Rogers relays. The annual County Track Meet was held at Cusick on May 13. Track men placing first or second at that meet go to the District Meet at Cheney and if win a first place there are given the chance to show their ability at the State Meet at Pullman.

BASKETBALL

Sixteen tilts comprised the Grizzlies' conference and non-conference program. Of this group, they managed to clip nine victories, placing second best in conference competition. They were presented with the Kiwanis Club Trophy.

We again give Coach Mills and Assistant Coach Sanders credit for the successful year.
