Teachers, Parents, and Students – Together for Success

In Kindergarten

Teachers will work with students and their families to support students' success in reading and math. Some of the ways we will accomplish this include:

- Encourage parents to read with their child and ask questions.
- Provide flashcards for parents to practice upper/lowercase sounds & letters, colors, shapes, and numbers 0-100.
- Provide parent resources in math and reading through parent opportunities and the PIRC.
- Provide and send home oral practice work.
- Stay in communication with parents through weekly folders, assessments, Remind, and monthly digital newsletter.

At Home

PES parents worked with staff to develop ideas about how families can support students' success in reading and math at home. Some of the suggestions are:

- Writing first & last names.
- Read to student daily.
- Practice letters, colors, shapes, identify numbers 0-100, and sight words.
- Attend parent opportunities or access information from the events on the school website (online access in the PIRC or at public library).
- Stay informed with monthly parent newsletters in weekly folders, Parent Inv. Remind and available in lobby rack.
- Communicate with teachers through conferences and weekly folders.

Kindergarten Students

A sampling of Pelham Elementary School students were asked their ideas about how they can succeed in Math and Literacy. Students thought of the following ways to make connections between learning at home and school:

- Practice identifying & counting 0 to 100.
- Practice sight words.
- Read with parents daily and ask questions about the story.
- Play math and reading games at home to build skills.
- Identify letters- upper and lower case, shapes, and colors.
- Practice writing first and last name.
