

Whips Notes & Directions

"Whips", also known as "I Have... Who Has...?" is a great tool for developing automaticity in students. Hand out a "Whip" card to each of your students. (Some of these decks are for small groups and some are for whole class.) Choose a student to go first and have him read his card. For example, a card might state "I have 4. Who has triple this number?" The student whose card states "I have 12" is the next student to answer and read the question on his card. The game continues until it "whips" back around to the first cardholder.

I have 6 Who has half of 6? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>	I have 3 Who has triple that? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>
I have 9 Who has 10 more? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>	I have 19 Who has 9 less ? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>
I have 10 Who has double that? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>	I have 20 Who has 15 less? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>
I have 5 Who has 8 more? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>	I have 13 Who has 4 more? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>
I have 17 Who has 3 less? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>	I have 14 Who has half of that? <small>Facts to 20—A</small>