

Grab the Attention

- Read Min's opening paragraph on the front of the card.
- To revise the opening, list questions and details that might help grab the audience's attention. If needed, do research to find an interesting fact to add.
- Write a new opening. Read it to another pair.

You need

- > paper and pen
- > resource books or Internet

Hook the Reader

- Read the opening of Min's report on the front of this card. How can the opening be stronger?
- Write the opening paragraph of a report about a topic in nature. Choose an opening question or sentence to grab the reader's attention. Include details that will keep a reader interested.
- Share the opening with a partner for feedback.

You need

- > paper and pen or pencil
- > resource books or Internet

