

What's the Effect?

- Pick an informational text you have read this week.

- Take turns identifying signal words and phrases to find cause and effect relationships. Read the information aloud.
- Write what you learned from the selection. How do causes and effects help you remember information?

You need

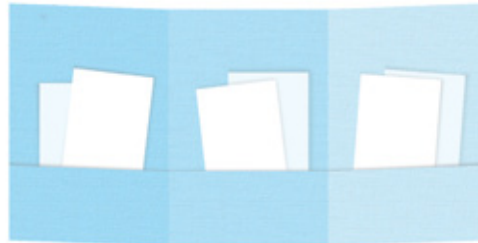

- > informational text
- > paper and pen or pencil

Match the Cause to the Effect

- Select an informational text you have read.
- On each pocket of a Three-Pocket Foldable®, write an effect.

- On cards, write the causes that led to the effects. Discuss each relationship as you place cards into the correct pockets.

You need

- > informational text
- > Three-Pocket Foldable®
- > index cards and pen or pencil