

Zuzanna Buchnajzer voted North Jersey Girls Volleyball Player of the Week for March 16-21

Greg Tartaglia

NorthJersey.com

After four days of voting, Tenafly senior Zuzanna Buchnajzer has been selected as the North Jersey Girls Volleyball Player of the Week.

In three opening-week matches, Buchnajzer totaled 40 kills, 23 digs, 32 service points and six aces. She started with 12 kills and nine digs in a three-set loss to Pascack Valley, then added 14 kills in wins over Dwight-Englewood and Bergenfield.

Here were the other nominees:

Kate Louer

Clifton junior

The Mustangs began 3-0 with Louer leading the team in kills (15), digs (12) and aces (10). She posted seven kills, eight digs and two aces in a 20-25, 25-15, 25-15 victory over Passaic Tech that gave Clifton first place in the Big North Liberty.

Emily Newman

River Dell senior

Newman led the Hawks in kills (26) and aces (6) and was second in digs (18) during a 2-1 week, in which the loss was to powerful NV/Demarest. She had 15 of those kills in wins over Mahwah and Ramsey, which put her team atop the Big North Patriot.