

Request for Review of Dependency Status 2023-2024

When you complete your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA,) you are required to answer questions to determine your dependency status (see "Review Your Dependency Status" on the <https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa> website.) If you are unable to answer "Yes" to any of those questions, and you feel there are extenuating circumstances, you can complete this form and submit it to the Financial Aid Office for review.

Please note the following:

- The following conditions DO NOT, singly or in combination, qualify as extenuating circumstances:
 - The unwillingness of your parent(s) to provide parental data on your FAFSA
 - The unwillingness or inability of your parent(s) to financially support your education
 - Demonstration of your financial independence, including not residing with your parents
- The following circumstances MAY be given consideration:
 - Student's voluntary or involuntary removal from their parent's home due to an extreme situation that threatens the student's health and/or safety
 - Incapacity of parents, such as incarceration, mental or physical illness or the inability of the student to locate their parent(s)
 - Other extenuating circumstances that can be sufficiently documented
- Filing this request for review of dependency status does not guarantee it will be approved or increase your financial aid
- If your request is approved, it is only for the 2023-24 academic year. You will need to submit a new request the following year if you do not meet the FAFSA guidelines for independent status.
