Here are a few ways that you can share QuickStart links:

1. Paste the QuickStart URL into your Google Classroom (Canvas, MyBlackboard, etc.) class description. This will allow your students to self-explore or view content you've shared with them.
(i.e. "Use this link to login to Edge Factor: <https://edgefactor.com/qsi/AqQDd...>")
2. If you find content that you want to use with your students, copy the page URL and paste it into an announcement on Google Classroom.
3. Share it over your school's social media! Don't forget to tag @edgefactorshow so we can retweet you too.
4. Your students can click on the QuickStart link to "bypass" the login. This means they don't need to remember a username or password! After they click on the QuickStart link, they can click on the link in your announcement to view the specific resource that you have shared with them.
5. To track which students have clicked on the link (and have actually completed watching the video) have them send you the answers to these two questions:
  - a. How has this changed your opinion/feelings?
  - b. How this will shape your future?
