Are You Being A Good Citizen? Our Character Trait for May is Citizenship

What is citizenship?

Citizenship means to follow the rules.

It also means that you should treat others and your environment with respect and dignity.

Citizenship is everything that has to do with being a citizen, or full member, of a country. Citizens have rights that are given by the country's government. For example, citizens have the right to be protected by a country's laws. In return, citizens have duties that they owe to the country.

To be a citizen means you get the rights of where you live. It means you are born there or have the rights to live there. You get the vote, and basically a lot of freedom that non-citizens can't. Citizenship isn't by race but by where you're born or if you apply for it.

Citizenship opportunities would mean higher wages for naturalized immigrants immediately and over the long term. Higher wages create more consumer spending. Citizenship also creates certainty in the lives of hard-working immigrants, their families and employers.

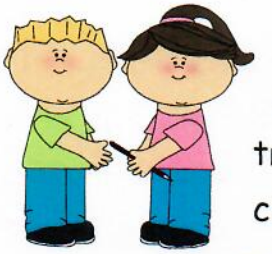

How to be a good citizen right now?

During the quarantine for COVID-19, here are some good citizen suggestions:

- Stay home
- If you do go out, be quick and respectful
- Stay 6 feet away from others (social distancing)
- Listen to your parents and follow their rules
- Do your normal chores (more if your parents request)
- Read and find more information on a subject you haven't had time to work on
- Write a letter to someone, draw them pictures to cheer them up!
- Call someone that you know is alone
- Face time friends so that you are respecting social distancing
