Thank You, InRoads Credit Union and St. Helens Community!

A check for $50,661.15 was presented by Annette Pixley and CEO Nathan Cox of InRoads Credit Union to Superintendent Stockwell and the St. Helens School District Board at the May 24, 2023, board meeting.

Developed by the InRoads Credit Union, the TEAM UP FOR SCHOOLS program started in the fall of the 2017/2018 school year. When members pledge their support for the St. Helens High School Lions, the credit union sends them a special debit card with the St. Helens High School logo. The credit union, in turn, donates 0.05 cents back to the high school every time the debit card is utilized. Since the start of the TEAM UP FOR SCHOOLS program, the community of St. Helens has raised $224,046.65 for St. Helens High School!

The St. Helens School District would like to thank InRoads Credit Union, students, staff, and community members who joined this program for their continued support of St. Helens High School.

ST. HELENS HIGH SCHOOL TECH THEATRE PROJECT

Theatre students from St. Helens High School have been learning about different theatre-related positions. Such as:

- Set Designer
- Costumer
- Prop Master

As part of the prop unit, students made hamburgers from toilet paper and water and then painted them with watercolors.

Community Impact Award recipient . . .

Sherrie Ford

During the May 24th board meeting, the School Board and Superintendent Stockwell awarded Sherrie Ford the Community Impact Award. Sherrie was recognized for her unwavering care of students, staff, and the community through innovative wellness initiatives for the heart, body, and mind.

Sherrie is a can-do type of person that gets things done with a positive attitude, yet most of her work tends to be in the background. Sherrie is a champion for our community. Through her leadership, Columbia Health Services has become the go-to health provider in Columbia County. Sherrie has not only set Sacagawea Health Center up for financial sustainability, but she has also added four additional school-based health centers across Columbia County and, in doing so, has provided access to health care for children, families, and community members across the economic spectrum.

Sherrie is a voracious grant writer and has brought over $5 million in grant funding to support our community. Through her efforts, she has funded a County Wide Suicide Prevention Task Force, Sources of Strength suicide prevention programs in our schools, provided a nurse to support and develop our St. Helens High School Medical CTE program, and is providing multiple social workers for every school district in the county to support the social-emotional wellbeing of our children.

Sherrie Ford is also very active in the ConnectSH work to build a stronger community where everyone feels belonging. She currently has multiple grant applications out and awaiting approval for potentially millions of more dollars to support our students and community.

Sherrie is a passionate advocate for our schools and community, leading the way to support student health and wellness, community development, and risk prevention. She is proud of the fact that she is able to serve a community that raised her and that Columbia Health Services employs a local workforce of people dedicated to our community as much as she is.

Congratulations, Sherrie!

Korrie Scobey is always an important part of our crew. She eagerly looks for proactive ways to bring joy to our school by baking bread for our staff or giving a hug to a student that needs support.

She does not wait to be asked to help. She anticipates a need and quickly volunteers her assistance. She always arrives to school with a smile and is ready to make it a great day for all.

Korrie is 'otterly' amazing and we appreciate her!

Congratulations, Korrie!
