⁶ Named Theater from the 2009 exam.

3. The average grade for an "International Baccalaureate Diploma/Diplome du Baccalauréat International" is calculated in the country in which the certificate is evaluated. The procedure in accordance with the "Agreement on the determination of the overall grade for foreign higher education entrance qualifications" is used. (Resolution of the Conference of Ministers of Education of March 15, 1991 in the applicable version) with the following specific rule related to the IB based on.

When calculating the average grade (N), the total number of points (P) as well as 42 points as the maximum number of points (Pmax) and assumed 24 points as minimum score (Pmin); they will

Any additional points achieved are taken into account, total points between 42 (Pmax) and 45 points (highest possible score of the IB plus the maximum achievable 3 additional points) become the German average grade 1.0 equated.

The conversion is based on the following formula:

N	=	$1 + 3 \frac{P_{\max} - P}{P_{\max} - P_{\min}}$
with
N	=	required grade (average grade)
P	=	Total points shown in the certificate
P max =		42 points (total IB score without additional points)
P min =		24 points (lower benchmark)
N	=	1.0 (for 42 ≤ P ≤ 45)

4. The IBO continuously informs the Conference of Ministers of Education about any Changes to the final exam (requirements, content, organization) and gives the German school supervisory board the opportunity to gain an insight into the work of the schools gain weight. If there is a need for advice or at the request of a country, the Advisory Board examines for the Central Office for Foreign Education (ZAB) whether the requirements for recognition of the IB are still met.
5. This resolution comes into effect on the day of its adoption by the Minister of Education reference in force.
