Families

It is our hope that families of students in our schools can...

- participate in events (like tonight!)
- provide the academic support for their student for success
- communicate with school entity when needs arise
- talk about school with your child regularly
- get involved with the Title I process by providing direct feedback on our policies and family engagement compact.

Reading at Home

Let your children choose books to read.

Read to your children.

Read aloud together.

Talk about what you are reading.

Show your children that you enjoy reading.

Math at Home

Let your child count items,
help measure in recipes, and find patterns.

Play board games that use dice and cards to help with some basic math foundations.

As your child gets older,
talk about math in the world as we use it
(at the gas pump, in the grocery store, etc.)

THANK YOU FOR JOINING US TONIGHT!
