

Raytown Quality Schools

22-23 SCHOOL MEALS

Why aren't meals free for the 22-23 school year?

The USDA made it possible for school nutrition programs to serve all students free breakfast and lunch through "waivers" during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic. Congress did not extend these waivers for the upcoming school year, so the district will be returning to regularly priced meals.

(Lunch full pay $2.25 secondary/$2.05 elementary, reduced $0.40 all grades)

(Breakfast and after school meals are still free for all students!)

Free and reduced priced lunches are available for children in families who qualify based upon household income. You may submit an application during enrollment or online at www.raytownschools.org starting July 1, 2022. You must submit the completed application annually starting this year.

