

Autism Support 2023-2024 Program Profile

Description

The Autism Support classroom program serves students across the broad spectrum of Autism. Intense focus on the core deficit areas of autism - communication, social engagement, self-regulation, and executive functioning – is provided in the context of a variety of models designed to support students with autism. Teachers and related service providers work within an Applied Behavior Analysis framework to provide instruction in academic content and in skill areas related to the core deficits of Autism Spectrum Disorders. Students have access to both general and specialized curricula based on their individual needs. Students' individual needs for Speech Therapy and Occupational Therapy are identified in the IEP. Other related services are also available if needed to implement the IEP. An integrated related services delivery model is used to allow for a high degree of generalization of skills across people, activities and settings.

Placement Criteria

- District and consortium have exhausted LRE possibilities
- Language and functional communication impairments significantly impact behavior
- Student requires intensive interventions related to core deficits of Autism
- Behavior issues and/or mental health issues too severe for level 1 & 2 services
- May require extensive case management, including interagency coordination
- S/L and OT services must be addressed on the IEP for placement

Exit Criteria

IEP Team decision based on: consistently sufficient social skills and communication skills that allow for self-regulation; decreasing maladaptive behaviors; potential placement in alternate or more restrictive setting if progress on IEP goals not being achieved at reasonable pace

Location

Typically District classroom with access to same age peers for inclusion purposes to extent possible
Hill Top Academy may be a classroom site for more behaviorally intensive classes

Staffing

1:3-5:1 (FT) 1 teacher to 3-5 students with 1 full-time paraprofessional
Staffing ratios may vary depending on the needs of the students in the class.
