Hurricanes are saying...

I love being a Hurricane parent because of our community. I've been fortunate enough to work and serve with some of the most giving and kindest parents, students, and Cain staff who truly care about our school and students. They have committed to being a partner during my son's high school journey and have gone above and beyond what a parent could ask.

PARENT

As a student at Klein Cain, I have many opportunities to grow by being involved in extracurriculars, excelling in the classroom, and leading our student body. I love that we as Hurricanes are strong, powerful, united, and can take down any storm!
