March 1918. The war to end all wars. Anxiety builds in Captain Stanhope’s claustrophobic dugout as the threat of an imminent attack looms over the battalion. With nothing to do but wait, a deafening silence fills the air. Based on the author’s own experience of the Front, Journey’s End celebrates humour and courage in the face of certain tragedy. In Remembrance week 2023, the Rattigan Society brings R C Sherriff’s compelling masterpiece to the stage, directed by Adam Cross, Director of Drama.

TIME AND PLACE

Friday 10 November–Friday 8 December

Jeanette's larger works allow the viewer to experience the sense of being enveloped by the movement and atmosphere of the city while at the same time being intrigued by individual details. Her smaller prints, drawn from a range of source material including books, films, photojournalism and direct observation, capture moments of flux and uncertainty.
