One thing I would tell my HS-aged self that I didn't know then, but I know now.

I wish I had learned more about how student loan and credit card debt and credit scores work. College students are targeted with easy access to borrowed $, like many 19 year olds I thought once I graduated and was making 6 figures plus, I'll pay off those loans in no time. Nope-took 15 years! And I majored in finance and still made mistakes. Borrow as little as possible, live frugally and pay your bills on time while in school!
