Student Success

Withdrawal from the University

Temporary Leave of Absence (TLA)

Wingate University recognizes that situations may arise when a student may want to voluntarily interrupt their academic studies. The University is committed to handling reasonable requests for leave in a responsible manner. A Temporary Leave of Absence (TLA) provides students the opportunity to leave during a semester, or to take up to two semesters away, without having to reapply to the University. The TLA is not designed for individual courses or for students planning to enroll elsewhere while away. The TLA allows the student eligibility to register for the upcoming semester's courses during the designated time. Students on a TLA are considered to be matriculating students and still enrolled. If a TLA is initiated and approved within a semester, the student will be granted grades of "W." Students who do not return to Wingate University by the established deadline will automatically be converted to an unenrolled status into the next semester. Students who are granted a temporary leave of absence are subject to all University refund/repayment policies. Questions about Title IV student loan deferment while on a TLA should be addressed to the Office of Financial Planning.

More information on the TLA process can be found in the "Withdrawal from the University" section of Academic Policies and Procedures of the University Catalog.

Medical Leave and/or Leave Due to Mental Health Crisis

Medical leave is an option available to students who, for physical or psychological reasons, are unable to continue at the university. Appropriate medical and/or mental health evaluation is a required part of this process.

More information on the Medical Leave and/or Leave Due to Mental Health Crisis can be found in the "Withdrawal from the University" section of Academic Policies and Procedures of the University Catalog.

Administrative Withdrawal

The university may administratively withdraw a student if the student does not satisfy minimum expectations of academically-related activity and/or is not compliant with federal or state requirements for class attendance. Examples of student behavior that could result in an administrative withdrawal include, but are not limited to:

- Persistent failure to complete classroom assignments

- Habitual class absences
- Mid-semester grade reports indicating failing grades for all courses
- Failure to provide required documentation to meet federal or state regulations (as an example: medical records providing proof of immunizations)

More information on Administrative Withdrawal can be found in the “Withdrawal from the University” section of Academic Policies and Procedures of the University Catalog.

Voluntary Withdrawal

Any student voluntarily leaving the University before the close of the term must withdraw officially. The voluntary withdrawal process is described in the “Withdrawal from the University” section of Academic Policies and Procedures of the University Catalog.

Student Health

Student Health Insurance

Wingate University requires all students to carry health insurance. Wingate University offers an insurance plan students can enroll in if needed. Housing Eligibility

- Undergraduate students wishing to reside in on-campus housing, encompassing both residence halls and apartments, must be at least 17 years of age and not exceed 23 years of age before the first day of classes for the semester in which they intend to enroll. The Office of Residence Life, at their discretion, may make exceptions to this policy on an individual basis upon a showing by the student of special circumstances. Undergraduate students over the age of 24 are eligible for graduate housing, space permitting.
- Students who are deemed as failing academic course work by virtue of their lack of class attendance are eligible for removal from campus housing. Determination of class attendance and ability to gain academic credit will be provided by each individual faculty member.
- The policy of the Board of Trustees of Wingate University states that students who are at least 23 years old (on or before the first day of classes), 9th semester seniors, or living in the principal residence of their parent(s)/guardian(s) have the option of living off campus and must complete the application process. Unless living in the principal residence of a parent/guardian, all scholarship student-athletes are required to live on campus. This housing policy applies to all students, including those who in prior years were granted an exception because of special circumstances. Age and hour standards must be met by the first day of class of the semester for which the appeal is submitted.
- Those living on campus must participate in a University meal plan. In addition, students living in University housing must maintain a full-time academic load (12 credit hours – undergraduate student). Any requests for exceptions or exemptions should be made in writing to The Office of Residence Life and can be supported by documentation approved by the Office of Disability Support Services (see below). Priority for housing is offered to continuing or undergraduate students first, followed by graduate students as space is available.
 - Those having special needs/disabilities impacting housing or the meal plan should contact the Office of Disability Support Services at access@wingate.edu, 704-233-8271, or by visiting <https://www.wingate.edu/academics/student-support/disability-support-services> to submit a request form.
- The University reserves the right to terminate a student's housing assignment under any of the following conditions: the student is no longer registered as a full-time student carrying twelve (12) credit hours, the student's health renders group living unwise, there is evidence of disruptive student behavior that is detrimental to the group living environment, or the student violates University regulations (full payment of the semester charges will remain in effect).

Room Assignments and Room Changes

Room sign-up occurs in the spring semester. Assignments are based on availability and rank order, via the housing sign-up process. During this process, students can choose their designated roommate(s) and then during the assigned sign-up time the student can choose their housing based on what is available. Students who do not designate a roommate will be placed at the end of the process in available spaces. If a designated roommate withdraws or does not return to the University, students may be asked to consolidate. Students must also be registered for class to guarantee a spot in housing.

Designated times for room changes are advertised through the Office of Residence Life each semester. If students experience issues with a roommate that is irresolvable during other times of the year, students will need to contact their Resident Assistant (RA)/Community Assistant (CA), Residence Director (RD), or Assistant Director. The following procedures are in place and must be followed regarding all room changes:

- If an RA/CA or RD is unable to resolve the issue, the student will be referred to a Professional Staff member in the Residence Life Office.
- If the situation persists and the Assistant Director of Residence Life determines that a room change is necessary, the student will be given the available alternative housing options.
- Once the room change has been approved by the Assistant Director of Residence Life, the student will be issued a new key as well as a room condition form to be completed for the new residence. When the student receives the new key, 24 hours are allotted to complete the move, check out of the original room with a member of the Residence Life staff, and return the original issued key.
- Failure to complete the room change process within 24 hours or moving without contacting the Office of Residence Life will result in an improper checkout fee of $100.
- The University also reserves the right to make changes in residence hall assignments when deemed necessary to maintain a positive living-learning atmosphere.

Consolidation Policy

The Office of Residence Life reserves the right to consolidate students who do not have roommates. If a student has a vacancy in their room, they must choose one of the following options:

- Consolidate with another student who is also without a roommate. With this option, it is the decision of the individuals as to who moves.
- Remain in the room with the clear understanding that the Office of Residence Life may move a student into the vacancy at any time, if necessary.
- Any resident who is the only occupant of a double occupancy room must be prepared to receive a roommate at any time. All original University property must be present in the room and all space (closet, bed, dresser and desk) must remain available.
- Inappropriate use of vacant space will be addressed by the Residence Life staff and will be documented through the Community Standards system. The resident can be charged $75 for occupying both sides of the room.
- A resident must not discourage another student from moving into the vacancy. If a resident makes a student feel unwelcome or coerces him or her into living somewhere else, the resident will be documented through the Community Standards system for failing to comply with the consolidation policy. This may include being automatically charged a single occupancy rate prorated from the date of notification.
- In some instances, the student may not be notified in advance if the situation warrants an immediate move. This type of situation is unusual but may occur.
- If there is an empty room in any residence hall or apartment, it will remain locked until it is assigned. Students requesting a room change must fill any existing vacancies before a completely empty room will be assigned.

Service and Assistance Animal Policy

The Service and Assistance Animal Policy is available at

<https://resources.finalseite.net/images/v1596672991/wingateedu/nlw5vf9lioinvxctfp2h/Fall2020SAanimalpacket.pdf>

Students should:

1. Read the policy. If they believe they qualify for an assistance animal in university housing, students should complete the online Residential Living Accommodation Request form located on the Office of Disability Support Services webpage.
2. Complete and submit required documentation/paperwork:

- a. Complete Assistance Animal Verification form then submit the form to their healthcare provider(s) to complete the rest of the form. Neither the student or a family member may complete the documentation form. That form may be faxed to 704-233-8268 or scanned to access@wingate.edu with the name of the student in the heading.
 - b. Student should be able to provide up-to-date veterinary records showing the animal is in good health. Animal must be at least six months old or old enough to have a rabies shot, be spayed or neutered, and be reliably housebroken.

 - d. Permission for Release of Information- Grants the medical provider permission to share information with the appropriate Wingate University offices.
3. Students are required to schedule an intake interview to discuss the accommodation request and documentation with a member of the Disability Support Services staff. Assistance animal requests will be evaluated thirty days before the beginning of the semester. The student will be provided with a written decision.
 4. All requests made are for the upcoming semester. The Office of Disability Support Services should receive all requests at least 30 days prior to the semester. If a student misses the request deadline, the Office of Disability Support Services will review each submitted request on a rolling basis. Students should be aware that such requests may take up to 4 weeks to be reviewed once submitted completely.
 5. If approved, students will need to contact Residence Life. The purpose of this conversation is to talk about the responsibilities, policies and procedures for having an animal on-campus before moving the animal into an apartment or residence hall. Students who bring unapproved animals onto campus are subject to $200/per day fine through the Residence Life office.

Service and Assistance Animal Policy for Students:

It is the policy of Wingate University that individuals are generally prohibited from bringing animals onto University property (other than fish in aquariums not to exceed five gallons, which are permitted in University Housing). However, Wingate welcomes the presence of trained Service Animals assisting people on its campus in areas open to the public consistent with the provisions of this policy and applicable law. Wingate is also pleased to allow Assistance Animals that are necessary to provide individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to use and enjoy University Housing consistent with the provisions of this policy and applicable law. Therefore, individuals with disabilities are permitted to bring Service Animals and Assistance Animals onto University property as provided below.

I. Definitions

A Service Animal as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act is any dog* that has been individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. The work or tasks performed must be directly related to the individual's disability. The potential crime deterrent effects of an animal's presence and the provision of emotional support, well-being, comfort, or companionship do not constitute work or tasks for the purposes of this definition.

*Note, in limited circumstances miniature horses may qualify as Service Animals.

Also note: A service animal being trained has the same rights as a fully trained Service Animal when accompanied by a trainer and the animal wears a collar and leash, harness, or cape that identifies the animal as a service animal in training. Trainers must also adhere to the responsibilities outlined in this policy.

An Assistance Animal as defined by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development is an animal that works, provides assistance, or performs tasks for the benefit of a person with a disability, or provides emotional support that alleviates one or more identified symptoms or effects of a person's disability, in order for the person to have an equal opportunity to use and enjoy the University's housing facilities. Assistance Animals perform many disability-related functions, including but not limited to guiding individuals who are blind or have low vision, alerting individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing to sounds, providing protection or rescue assistance, pulling a wheelchair, fetching items, alerting persons to impending seizures, providing emotional support to persons with disabilities who have a disability-related need for such support.

II. Places of Access

Service Animals are permitted to accompany students with disabilities in all areas of the Wingate University Campus, including University Housing, where members of the public, students, faculty, staff, and invitees, as applicable, are allowed to go.

However, the University may prohibit the use of Service Animals in certain locations where health or safety restrictions prevent their presence, where Service Animals may be in danger, or where the use of Service Animals may cause health issues, for example: research laboratories, mechanical rooms, or areas where protective clothing is necessary. Service Animals may be granted access to restricted areas on a case-by-case basis. Disability Support Services staff and other appropriate individuals will be consulted when determining if the presence of the Service Animal can be allowed. If the animal cannot be present, every effort will be made to provide reasonable accommodations to help the student have equal access to the required tasks.

Approved Assistance Animals are permitted to accompany students with disabilities in (and only in) University Housing. Specifically, Assistance Animals may access only the student's personal residence unit; the common areas of the student's specific residence facility; the hallways, elevators, stairwells, and entryways necessary for the animal's entrance and exit to the student's residence unit; and certain designated outdoor areas appropriate for the animal's natural relief. Approved Assistance

Animals are prohibited from all other University property without prior authorization from Disability Services.

III. Documentation Requirements and Approval

Process Service Animals:

In most cases, no request to bring a Service Animal on campus is required, and no documentation supporting the need for a Service Animal is required.

When the need for a Service Animal is not readily obvious, Wingate University staff may make the following two inquiries of the student:

1. Is the animal required because of a disability?
2. What work or task has the animal been trained to perform?

Students who wish to bring Service Animals to campus are encouraged to voluntarily make that known to the Offices of Residence Life (in the case of residential students) and Disability Support Services. Advance notice can allow for effective communication with University staff and more flexibility in meeting a student's specific needs in University Housing. They may do this by reaching out to the Disability Support Services office.

A Service Animal will not be permitted if it behaves in a way that poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others, has a history of such behavior, or is not under the control of the student (or, if applicable, the handler).

Assistance Animals:

Students must request the use of Assistance Animals through the University's Office of Disability Support Services by completing and submitting (a) a Housing Accommodation Request Form (accessible from the websites of the Disability Support Services and the Residence Life offices), (b) an Assistance Animal Verification Form (accessible from the websites of the Disability Support Services and the Residence Life offices), and (c) an Acknowledgement and Release of Information Consent Form and Permission for Release Forms (appended to the end of this policy). Veterinary documents will also need to be able to be provided upon request demonstrating the good health of the animal, up-to-date vaccinations, and the age to be six months or older. Students should complete such forms at least 30 days prior to the desired move-in date (or, if the need for the Assistance Animal arises after the student's move-in date, then as soon as possible after the need arises) so that Wingate can best accommodate the student and the animal. The Office of Disability Support Services will review requests that are sent during the semester only once per month.

Students must present documentation demonstrating that:

- The student has a disability. (Emotional discomfort resulting from living in University Housing without one's pet or by one's self for the first time does not qualify as a disability. Please see the Assistance Animal Verification Form for further information.)
- The Assistance Animal is necessary for the student to have an equal opportunity to use and enjoy, or to participate in, University Housing.
- There is a relationship or nexus between the student's disability and the assistance the animal provides.

The University will evaluate all requests, on a case-by-case basis and in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, to determine whether the use of an Assistance Animal is a reasonable accommodation. In doing so, Wingate must balance the needs of the student with the impact of animals on other campus patrons. As part of the accommodation review process, the requesting student and the Office of Disability Support Services may engage in further discussions.

The University will consider the following criteria in determining whether the use of an Assistance Animal is a reasonable accommodation:

- The size of the animal in relation to available assigned housing space;
- Whether the animal's presence would force another individual from individual housing (due to, e.g., serious allergies);
- Whether the animal's presence violates other individuals' right to peace and quiet enjoyment;
- Whether the animal's vaccinations are up to date;
- Whether the animal is able to live with other individuals in a reasonable manner.

The use of an Assistance Animal is not reasonable and therefore will not be permitted (irrespective of the consideration of the above-listed factors):

- If allowing the Assistance Animal would impose an undue financial or administrative burden on the University or fundamentally alter the nature of University Housing;
- If the specific animal in question poses a direct threat to the health and safety of others that cannot be reduced or eliminated by another reasonable accommodation;
- If the specific animal in question has caused substantial physical damage to the property of others (beyond reasonable wear and tear) that cannot be reduced or eliminated by another reasonable accommodation.

The University will make a determination regarding the accommodation request as soon as is reasonably practicable following receipt of the request, documentation, and completion of the intake conversation. All requests made are for the upcoming semester. The Office of Disability Support Services should receive all requests at least 30 days prior to the beginning of the semester. If received after that date, assistance animal requests will only be reviewed once per month (during the first week of the month), while the semester is in progress.

Approval for an assistance animal is for one academic year. Students will need to submit updated documentation each academic year to be able to continue to have the animal as an accommodation. If an approved Assistance Animal is no longer needed (or no longer in residence), the student must notify the Office of Disability Support Services.

IV. Rules and Responsibilities Regarding Service and Assistance Animals

All students are responsible for complying with the University's policies, procedures, and Honor Code.

Service Animals:

1. Responsibility for the Animal

The student is fully responsible for:

- the care and supervision of the animal (including toileting, feeding, grooming, veterinary care, and cleaning up after the animal and including any associated costs),
- the well-being of the animal, and
- any damage or injury caused by the animal.

Evidence of mistreatment or abuse may result in immediate removal of the Service Animal and/or discipline for the student.

For the avoidance of doubt, University personnel are not required to provide food or care for a Service Animal, including but not limited to, removing the animal during emergency evacuation events.

2. Animal Health and Hygiene

- Animals must be current on all state and local vaccination requirements.
- Animals must be housebroken (i.e., trained so that, absent illness or accident, the animal controls its waste elimination).

3. Control over the Animal

The student (or, if applicable, a handler) must be in full control of the animal at all times; the animal may not be left unattended at any time, except for animals left in the student's (or, if applicable, the handler's) University residence by the handler, which may be for no longer than a reasonable period of time.

A Service Animal must have a harness, leash, or other tether, unless either the student (or, if applicable, the handler) is unable because of a disability to use a harness, leash, or other tether, or the use of a harness, leash, or other tether would interfere with the Service Animal's safe, effective performance of work or tasks, in which case the Service Animal must be otherwise under the student's (or, if applicable, the handler's) control (e.g., voice control, signals, or other effective means).

4. Identification

It is recommended, but not required, that the animal wear some type of commonly recognized identification symbol indicating the animal is a working animal.

5. Notice to Others

If the animal resides with the student on campus, it may be necessary for Residence Life staff to provide notice to certain members of the campus community living and working in close proximity to the animal (such as potential and/or actual roommate(s)/neighbor(s)). The information shared will be limited to notice about the animal's presence and will not include information about the student's disability or the specific reason that the animal is required.

6. Removal of the Animal

A Service Animal may be removed from campus if it is out of control (e.g. uncontrolled barking, wandering, displaying aggressive behavior) and the student (or, if applicable, a handler) does not take effective action to control it; if it poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others; or if it is not housebroken.

Assistance Animals:

1. Responsibility for the Animal

The student is fully responsible for:

- the care and supervision of the animal (including toileting, feeding, grooming, veterinary care, and cleaning up after the animal and including any associated costs),
- the well-being of the animal,
- any damage or injury caused by the animal,
- providing a crate or space for the animal to safely and comfortably stay that will not damage university property or create a burden for others in housing when the animal and student are not together,
- cooperating with University personnel in meeting the terms of this policy and developing procedures for the care of the animal (e.g., cleaning the animal, feeding/watering the animal, disposing of feces, designating an outdoor relief area, etc.), and
- filing up-to-date veterinary shot records in the DSS office annually.

Evidence of mistreatment or abuse may result in immediate removal of the Assistance Animal and/or discipline for the student.

For the avoidance of doubt, University personnel are not required to provide food or care for an Assistance Animal, including but not limited to, removing the animal during emergency evacuation events.

2. Animal Health and Hygiene

- Animals must be current on all state and local vaccination requirements.
- Animals must be housebroken (i.e., trained so that, absent illness or accident, the animal controls its waste elimination).

Control over the Animal

- The student must be in full control of the animal at all times. The animal may not be left unattended at any time, except for animals left in the student's University residence while the student is attending classes or other activities, which may be for no longer than a reasonable period of time. For the avoidance of doubt, a student may not leave an Assistance Animal overnight in University Housing to be cared for by any individual other than the student.

- When an Assistance Animal is outside the student's personal residence unit, it must be in an animal carrier or controlled by a leash or a harness.
- An Assistance Animal may be removed from campus if it is allowed to run loose or if it is out of control (e.g. uncontrolled barking, wandering, displaying aggressive behavior) and the student does not take effective action to control it.

3. Identification:

It is recommended, but not required, that the animal wear some type of commonly recognized identification symbol indicating the animal is a working animal.

4. Notice to Others:

It may be necessary for Residence Life staff to provide notice to certain members of the campus community living in close proximity to the animal (such as potential and/or actual roommate(s)/neighbor(s)). The information shared will be limited to notice about the animal's presence and will not include information about the student's disability or the specific reason that the animal is required.

5. Removal of the Animal

An Assistance Animal may be removed from campus if the animal's presence results in a fundamental alteration of the nature of University Housing; if the specific animal in question poses a direct threat to the health and safety of others that cannot be reduced or eliminated by another reasonable accommodation; if the specific animal in question has caused substantial physical damage to the property of others (beyond reasonable wear and tear) that cannot be reduced or eliminated by another reasonable accommodation; if the student does not comply with his or her obligations under this policy; or if the animal or its presence creates an unmanageable disturbance or interference with the University community. Should the Assistance Animal be removed from the premises for any reason, the student is expected to fulfill his or her housing obligations for the remainder of the housing contract.

V. Conflicts

Individuals who come into contact with a Service Animal or Assistance Animal regularly and who experience reactions to the animal (for example, as a result of allergies or a fear of dogs) should request accommodations through the Office of Disability Support Services.

VI. Appeals and Grievances

Students dissatisfied by a decision made in accordance with this policy may appeal through the University's Grievance Procedure for Students with Disabilities.

Institutional Integrity: Sexual Harassment Policy

In the case of allegations of Sexual Harassment, unless otherwise stated, the Sexual Harassment Policy posted on the Title IX website supersedes and applies in lieu of all other procedures and policies regarding and references to, sexual misconduct set forth in any other document containing University policies and/or procedures.

Wingate University (“Wingate” or the “University”) is committed to providing and maintaining programs, activities and an educational and work environment founded on civility and respect, where no one is unlawfully excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination in any University program or activity on the basis of gender, sex, sexual orientation, sexual identity, gender identity, or gender expression (“sex discrimination”).

Sexual Harassment, as defined by the Sexual Harassment Policy and which includes gender-based and sexual harassment and sexual violence, is a form of sex discrimination that may deny or limit an individual’s ability to participate in or benefit from University programs or activities.

Sexual Harassment is antithetical to the values and standards of the University community, is incompatible with the safe, healthy environment that the University community expects and deserves, and will not be tolerated. Sexual Harassment and Retaliation, as defined in the Policy, are prohibited. Violations of the Policy may result in the imposition of sanctions up to and including termination, dismissal, or expulsion.

It is the policy of the University to provide educational, preventive and training programs regarding Sexual Harassment; to encourage reporting of incidents of Sexual Harassment; to take appropriate action to prevent incidents of Sexual Harassment from denying or limiting an individual’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s programs; to make available timely services for those who have been affected by Sexual Harassment and to provide prompt and equitable methods of investigation and resolution to stop discrimination, remedy any harm, and prevent its recurrence.

The University is committed to fostering a community that promotes timely and fair resolution of Sexual Harassment cases.

However, not all unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature rises to the level of warranting adjudication and/or discipline pursuant to the Policy. Although the University will engage in inquiry about all allegations of Sexual Harassment and other forms of sexual misconduct, the University will investigate all signed or filed Formal Complaints alleging Sexual Harassment, as defined in Exhibit B, to identify those acts of Sexual Harassment that do warrant adjudication under, and discipline pursuant to, the Policy. Other forms of sexual misconduct may be addressed through the Code of Community Standards, processes administered by Human Resources, or through the court system.

Wingate’s Title IX Coordinator is Dr. Nancy H. Randall. Dr. Randall may be contacted during business hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday) by phone at 704-233-8065 or anytime by email at titleix@wingate.edu or nrandall@wingate.edu.

Institutional Integrity: Community Standards

Bias Incident Reporting

A bias incident is an incident in which an individual or group of individuals demonstrate hate and/or prejudicial behaviors toward another individual or group of individuals based on the following protected categories: race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, age, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, and/or veteran status. If you believe you have witnessed or experienced a bias incident, you may submit the bias incident form found at https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?WingateUniv&layout_id=11

For additional information on the process of reporting a bias incident on campus, go to <https://www.wingate.edu/mygate/students/our-community-standards>.

Procedures for Violations of the Code of Community Standards

Allegations of violations of community standards may be brought by any individual. All reports shall be referred to the Office of Community Standards. Any allegations of disability-related harassment or discrimination should be reported in accordance with, and will be investigated in accordance with, the University's Student Disability Grievance Procedure. Resident Assistants, Community Assistants, Resident Directors, faculty and staff, or members of the WU community will refer all incident reports to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards. These reports will comprehensively detail the nature of the event.

The Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards, as well as the violations, procedures, and sanctions within it or associated with it, applies to both organizations and undergraduate students. Pending an investigation, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee is permitted to temporarily suspend an individual from participating in an organization or temporarily suspend the organization from operating. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards reserves the right to sanction individuals within an organization or organizations as a whole, based on the findings of an investigation.

Any team associated with WU is also considered an organization.

Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards

Wingate University undergraduate students are responsible for knowing the information, policies, and procedures outlined in this section. Wingate University reserves the right to make changes to the University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards as necessary and once those changes have been posted online, they are in effect. Undergraduate students are encouraged to check online [www.wingate.edu/mygate/students/our-community-standards] for the updated versions of all policies and procedures.

Wingate University Community Expectations and Office of Community Standards Philosophy

The Wingate University community is conducive to academic inquiry and intellectual growth, as well as co-curricular learning and a campus life that encourages students to thrive. The Office of Community Standards is committed to an educational and developmental process that considers the interests of individual students as well as those of the Wingate University campus community.

Wingate University is a voluntary association of students, faculty, and staff gathered together for the purpose of teaching and learning. Membership in the Wingate University community exists on the basis of shared values and principles between students, faculty, and staff. At Wingate University, student members of the community are expected to uphold and abide by high standards of performance and conduct that form the basis of the University Honor Code and the Code of Community Standards. These standards are embodied within a set of core values that include community, inclusion, integrity, respect, and responsibility.

Each member of the Wingate University community bears responsibility for their behavior and assumes reasonable responsibility for the behavior of others. When members of the community fail to exemplify these values by engaging in violation of the expectations below, the community standards process is used to uphold the University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards as well as put personal responsibility and integrity into action. The Office of Community Standards strives to resolve allegations of misconduct in a fundamentally fair, timely, and equitable manner, considering the needs of the individual and the University community.

The Community Standards Process at Wingate University is not intended to punish students; rather, it exists to acknowledge the shared values and expectations of our community. Sanctions are intended to help students turn incidents of misconduct into purposeful opportunities for growth and accountability. If a student is unwilling to participate in the community standards process, or its outcome(s), and/or continuously fails to meet the expectations of Wingate University community members, the community standards process may determine that the student should no longer share in the privilege of participating in this community.

Students should be aware that the Community Standards Process is quite different from criminal and civil court proceedings. The Community Standards Process is conducted in a fundamentally fair, timely and equitable manner, but does not include the same protections of due process afforded by the courts. Due process, as defined within these procedures, assures students the rights listed below. No student will be found in violation of Wingate University policy without information showing that it is more likely than not that a policy violation occurred, and any sanctions will be proportionate to the severity of the violation and to the cumulative community standards history of the student.

Rights & Responsibilities of Students as well as Organizations

- The right to a written statement of the alleged policy violations.
- The right to a written notice of the date, time and place of their Educational Conference, hearing, or conflict resolution meeting.
- The right to speak on their own behalf or provide information relative to the incident.
- The right to at least one support person to be present for support at hearings. This includes faculty, staff, administrators or a fellow student. External entities, including but not limited to parents/guardians and/or legal representation are allowed to be present during conflict resolution/hearings, but all parties are required to sign a FERPA release waiver/FERPA waiver before the hearing begins. The support person serves as an observer only, unless a question is directed to them by the hearing officer.
- The responsibility to know their rights and the rules and regulations of the University.
- The responsibility to respect the rights of every other student.
- The responsibility to support the right of Wingate University to establish institutional standards designed to achieve its purpose and goals.

University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards Pledge

Membership in the Wingate University community is a privilege conferred by demonstrated merit and sustained by a continuing commitment to high standards of performance and conduct. The University expects that all members of the community will conduct themselves in a manner reflecting respect for all other members of the community. It is the responsibility of all Wingate University students to report any suspected violations of the University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards.

Wingate University students do not lie, cheat, steal, or plagiarize, nor do they tolerate in their company the presence of one who does. Effective writing, analysis, and idea curation are critical to college coursework and therefore must be completed by the student themselves. The use of artificial intelligence (AI) to write a paper or complete an assignment will be treated as plagiarism, unless the professor clearly states that use of AI is permitted on that assignment, project, or paper. Even then, proper and complete attribution of AI sources is required.

Wingate University students conduct themselves at all times in a manner that is conducive to the maintenance of a strong environment for study and learning. Wingate University students respect the rules and regulations of the University as outlined in the student handbook.

Wingate University students are expected to abide by the following:

I pledge on my honor I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid on this work, and I am unaware of any violation of the Honor Code by others. I understand that the policies and procedures of Wingate University have been developed to ensure the safety and well-being of the Wingate University community. I pledge on my honor I will acknowledge and abide by the policies and procedures of Wingate University.

Scope and Applicability of the University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards

Undergraduate students at Wingate University are provided a copy of the Wingate University Undergraduate Student Handbook annually in the form of a link on the University website. Hard copies are available upon request from the Office of Community Standards. Students are responsible for having read and abiding by the provisions of the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards.

Unless superseded by other University policy, any questions of interpretation regarding process and proceedings of the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards are referred to the Vice President for Institutional Integrity, whose determination is final.

The Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards, as well as the community standards process, applies to the conduct of individual undergraduate students and all registered student organizations, including athletic teams. For the purposes of the Office of Community Standards, the University considers an individual to be an undergraduate student when an admitted individual begins a course or course of study and for as long as the student has a continuing undergraduate educational interest in the University, has not graduated and has enrolled for classes.

The University retains community standards jurisdiction over undergraduate students who choose to take a leave of absence, withdraw, or have graduated for any misconduct that occurred prior to the leave, withdrawal, or graduation. If sanctioned, a hold may be placed on the student's ability to re-enroll and/or obtain official transcripts and/or graduate and all sanctions must be satisfied prior to re-enrollment eligibility.

The Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards applies to behaviors that take place on University property (on-campus, in University-sponsored housing, etc.) as well as off of University property, if the behavior is related to the University's academic, educational, athletic, or extracurricular programs or activities. The Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards may also apply off-campus when the Vice President for Institutional Integrity or Assistant Vice President and Dean of Campus Life determines that the off-campus conduct affects a substantial University interest. A substantial University interest is defined to include:

- Any situation where it appears that the student's conduct may present a danger or threat to the health or safety of themselves or others; and/or
- Any situation that is detrimental to the educational mission and/or interests of Wingate University.

The Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards applies to guests of community members whose hosts may be held accountable for the misconduct of their guests. Visitors to and guests of the University may seek resolution of violations of the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards committed against them by members of the Wingate University community.

There is no time limit on reporting violations of the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards; however, the longer someone waits to report an offense, the harder it becomes for University officials to obtain information and witness statements and to make determinations regarding alleged violations.

Though anonymous complaints are permitted, doing so may limit the University's ability to investigate and respond to a complaint. Those who are aware of misconduct are encouraged to report it as quickly as possible to the Office of Community Standards and/or to Campus Safety.

The University reserves the right to enforce other University policies, procedures or protocols not enumerated in this handbook.

Violations of Federal, State, and Local Law

Alleged violations of federal, state and local laws may be investigated and addressed under the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards. When an offense occurs over which the University has jurisdiction, the Community Standards process will usually go forward notwithstanding any criminal complaint that may arise from the same incident.

University Honor Code

Statement of Academic Integrity

Wingate University is an academic community where people pursue a life of scholarly inquiry and intellectual growth. The foundation of this community is a spirit of personal honesty and mutual trust. To maintain trust between members of the University community, faculty and students must adhere to certain basic ethical principles. Academic dishonesty in any form is a fundamental offense against the integrity of the entire academic community and is always a threat to the standards of the University and to the standing of every student. Students are expected to perform with honor when completing any type of work that could include taking tests and examinations, doing homework, completing laboratory work, writing papers, and other assignments. Wingate University students do not lie or cheat, nor do they tolerate in their company the presence of one who does. Academic integrity includes a commitment to not plagiarize, which includes claiming credit for another person's work product or the work product of artificial intelligence (AI). Submitted work must be original, and proper citing of all sources is required to avoid any instances or appearances of plagiarism.

Honesty within our academic community is not simply a matter of rules and procedures; it is an opportunity to put personal responsibility and integrity into action. When students accept the implicit bonds of trust within an academic community, they liberate themselves to pursue their academic goals in an atmosphere of mutual confidence and respect.

Authority

Under a policy established by the Board of Trustees, the President of the University holds final authority in the administration of this Honor Code. Administrative authority is delegated by the President to the Vice President for Institutional Integrity.

Any member of the University community may report violations against any student for academic violations of the Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code should be reported in writing as soon as possible after the event takes place and directed to the Office of Community Standards, utilizing the Academic Honor Code Incident Report or general reporting form on the Office of Community Standards webpage.

Procedures for Alleged Violations of the Undergraduate Student Academic Honor Code

Step 1: Alleged violation is reported.

- a. If a Wingate University community member suspects that an academic violation of the Honor Code has taken place, they report that belief to the faculty member in connection with whose course the violation is believed to have occurred and provides that faculty member all supporting evidence of the allegation.

- b. If a faculty member suspects that an academic violation of the Honor Code occurred in connection with a course they teach, that faculty member sets up a meeting with the student to discuss the alleged violation and proposed sanction, gathers evidence relating to the incident, and completes the Academic Honor Code Incident Report Form.
- c. If any member of the Wingate University community believes that an academic violation of the Honor Code has taken place, but a course cannot be specified, that staff member, student, or faculty member shall report that belief to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards and shall provide all supporting evidence. If, after a preliminary assessment, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards determines that further investigation is warranted, they will request a private meeting with the alleged student(s).

Step 2: Responsibility is assessed.

- a. During the meeting with the faculty member or the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards, the Academic Honor Code Incident Report Form (which includes a written statement of alleged policy violation(s) and the proposed sanction) is presented to the alleged student(s). The purpose of this meeting is to make sure the alleged student(s) understands the reason for the allegations, the student's rights and responsibilities in the process, and possible sanctions if found responsible.
- b. The student signs the Academic Honor Code Incident Report Form, which includes the alleged policy violations and proposed sanction, and indicates whether they accept or deny responsibility for the policy violations and sanction, or the policy violation only. For avoidance of doubt, denying responsibility is not a separate or independent violation of the Honor Code.
- c. If student accepts responsibility and the proposed sanction, the process continues to step 3.

- d. If student denies responsibility or does not accept the proposed sanction, the process skips to step 4. The process continues through the remaining steps or until the case is closed.

Step 3: Student accepts responsibility and proposed sanctions.

- a. If the student accepts responsibility and the proposed sanction, the faculty member assigns sanctions related to the assignment and/or course. Following the meeting, the faculty member submits Academic Honor Code Incident Report Form to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards. If the student has prior academic violations of the Honor Code, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards will meet with the student to determine, in their sole discretion, whether to impose additional sanctions, including, but not limited to, those listed in the “Sanctions for Academic Violations of the Honor Code” section below.

If a student accepts responsibility for the course violation and the sanction, the sanction cannot be appealed.

- b. If the student accepts responsibility for non-course related violations, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards determines which sanctions to impose.

Step 4: Student denies responsibility or student accepts responsibility but not the proposed sanction.

- a) If the student (1) denies responsibility for the alleged policy violation and the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards determines that there is sufficient evidence to merit a University Honor Council hearing or (2) accepts responsibility but does not agree to the proposed sanction, a University Honor Council hearing will be convened pursuant to the procedures set forth in Wingate University Student Handbook. (See “Procedures” under “Honor Council” for more information about this process.)
- b) In a case where the student accepts responsibility but does not agree to the proposed sanction, the Honor Council will weigh aggravating factors and mitigating factors in recommending a sanction, if any. In considering recommended sanctions, if any, the Honor Council shall consider the acceptance of responsibility to be a mitigating circumstance. The Honor

Council shall prepare and submit to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards a report of their findings with recommended sanctions. In addition, the University Honor Council will forward to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards the sanction that was proposed originally by the faculty member.

- c) If the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards finds that there is not sufficient evidence to merit the convening of a University Honor Council hearing, the case is closed and no sanctions are assigned.
- d) Should the circumstances justify an administrative hearing, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee reserves the right to adjudicate the case. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee reserves the right to require appropriate parties to meet (which may be individually or as a group as determined by the hearing officer) in order to determine responsibility.

Step 5: Sanctions are assigned and incidents are recorded.

- a) The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards reserves the right to accept, reject, or modify the University Honor Council's recommended sanctions and will notify the student and the faculty member of these sanctions through written communication. The sanction applied by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards may differ from the sanction specified in the course syllabus. A copy of the written notification is placed in the student's community standards record.
- b) If the student has prior academic violations of the Honor Code, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards will meet with the student to determine, in their sole discretion, whether to impose additional sanctions, including, but not limited to, those listed in the "Sanctions for Academic Violations of the Honor Code" section below.

Step 6: Student appeals sanctions given by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards.

- a) The student has the right to submit a written appeal to the Vice President for Institutional Integrity within 5 business days of the decision and the sanctions imposed. In the event of a timely appeal, the underlying sanction shall be stayed pending the outcome of the appeal. Grounds for appeals include:

- Presentation of new information that was not reasonably available at the time of the hearing and would likely alter the determination of responsibility and/or sanction(s);
 - The sanction(s) imposed are substantially disproportionate to the policy violation(s); or
 - The existence of one or more procedural errors so substantial that it greatly impacted the determination of responsibility and/or sanction(s).
- b) The Vice President for Institutional Integrity conducts an independent review of the case and determines whether to uphold both the decision of responsibility and sanctions. The student and faculty member will be notified through written communication of the final decision. If the decision and/or sanctions are upheld, a copy of the letter will be placed in the student's community standards record. If the decision is overturned and/or sanctions are altered, the student will be notified in writing and documentation will be adjusted accordingly, if needed.
- c) The decision of the Vice President is final.

The University has discretion regarding the form and breadth of documentation related to any official hearing(s) contemplated herein.

Academic Violations of the University Honor Code appropriately correspond to the nature and severity of the violation. One or more of the following sanctions may be imposed by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee upon any student for any single violation of the Wingate University Honor Code. All sanctions are noted in the student's community standards record.

In all cases, the University reserves the right (except as limited by law) to notify the parents or legal guardians of any student found responsible for violating the Honor Code of such violation(s) and the sanctions imposed.

The University reserves the right to place a “hold” on student records until the Community Standards process is complete, including investigation and a finding of responsibility as well as completion of sanctions. This hold may include withholding of academic transcripts and/or grades, and preventing a student from registering for classes.

- Warning: An official oral or written notice that the student has violated the Wingate University Honor Code. Continuation or repetition of specified policy violations, as well as involvement in other violations may be cause for additional sanctions.

 - Ineligibility to participate in a University-affiliated organization, including teams, or hold a student leadership role or elected or appointed office at the University; or

If a student admits responsibility for a violation and accepts the sanction of a failing grade for the assignment and/or course in question, the sanction cannot be appealed. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards, the Vice President for Institutional Integrity, or designee can also assign failing grades if a student is found responsible for an academic honor code policy violation.

Code of Community Standards

Authority

Administrative authority is delegated by the President to the Vice President for Institutional Integrity. The Vice President for Institutional Integrity or designee will interpret procedures and apply them. The decision of the Vice President for Institutional Integrity is final.

Any member of the University community may report violations against any student for violations of the Code of Community Standards. Violations of the Code of Community Standards should be reported in writing as soon as possible after the event takes place and directed to the Office of Community Standards, utilizing an office specific reporting form or general reporting form on the Office of Community Standards webpage.

Interim Action

Under the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards, the Vice President for Institutional Integrity and/or the Vice President for Campus Life and Operations or designee may impose restrictions and/or separate a student from the community pending the scheduling of a hearing on alleged violation(s) of the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards when a student represents a threat of serious harm to others, is facing allegations of serious criminal activity, to preserve the integrity of an investigation, to preserve University property and/or to prevent disruption of, or interference with, the normal operations of the University.

Interim actions can include separation from the institution or restrictions on participation in the community pending the scheduling of a campus hearing on alleged violation(s) of the Wingate University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards. During an interim suspension, a student may be denied access to University property. As determined appropriate by the Vice President for Campus Life and Operations or designee, the Vice President for Institutional Integrity, or designee, this restriction may include classes and/or all other University activities or privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible. At the discretion of the Vice President for Campus Life and Operations, or designee, the VPPI, or designee and with the approval of, and in collaboration with, the appropriate university officials, alternative coursework options may be pursued to ensure as minimal an impact as possible on the responding student.

Procedures for Violations of the Code of Community Standards

- The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or a designee may conduct an investigation to determine whether the alleged policy violations have merit and/or whether they can be disposed of administratively by mutual consent of the parties involved on an acceptable basis. Such disposition, when approved by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards, is final and there are no subsequent proceedings.
- Assistant Vice President for Community Standards Life or designee will review documentation of the event and assign policy violations as appropriate. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards reserves the right to forward any incident to the University Honor Council for adjudication (protocol for University Honor Council proceeding shall be followed as listed in the section – University Honor Council Procedures).
- If necessary to further clarify information, Hearing Officers (such as staff members within the Office of Community Standards or Office of Residence Life) may be asked to investigate allegations and turn the findings over to the Office of Community Standards.
- The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards reserves the right to contact students directly to dialogue about the incident and thereby determine appropriate policy violations.
- The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards reserves the right to require appropriate parties to meet (which may be individually or as a group as determined by the hearing officer) in order to determine responsibility. Once a decision is rendered, written notification will be issued.
- Once responsibility for policy violations has been determined, the student shall receive notification of the policy violations and consequent sanction(s).
- Any student who contests the decision and/or sanctions, assigned by Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee, may appeal the decision to the Vice President of Campus Life and Operations or their designee within 5 business days of receipt of notification of the outcome. It is understood that after 5 business days the student accepts the charges and sanctions and the decision becomes final. The decision of the Vice President of Campus Life and Operations or their designee is final. Grounds for appeals include:
 - Presentation of new information that would likely alter the determination of responsibility and/or sanction(s) (as new information, this information was not reasonably available at the time of the Educational Conference or hearing);

University Honor Council (UHC)

Composition of University Honor Council

University Honor Council (UHC) hearings are convened by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or their designee to resolve cases as prescribed by the University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards. The UHC Co-Chairs, two students selected to work with the Office of Community Standards and lead the UHC student membership, serve as a non-voting hearing participant by facilitating UHC hearings or serving as the Student Ombudsman. The UHC Hearing Panels are composed of 3-5 members, and include students, faculty and/or staff. A non-voting University representative will be present in all Honor Council hearings. The Student Ombudsman may also be present at UHC hearings.

Students wishing to serve on the University Honor Council (UHC), as a Co-Chair or general member, must submit an application on WUSync through the Office of Community Standards during the appropriate application times. The UHC Co-Chairs, in consultation with Office of Community Standards professional staff, will review the general member applicants and choose the most appropriate candidates to serve as members of the UHC. Office of Community Standards staff members will review applicants for UHC Co-Chair positions and choose the most appropriate candidate.

University Honor Council student members may serve until graduation so long as they maintain continuous enrollment during the academic year, fulfill expectations of the role, and are not removed for cause by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards may remove a member for any violation of the Honor Code. This decision is final.

University Honor Council Hearing Procedures

The purpose of this process is to determine responsibility for alleged policy violations of the University Honor Code and Code of Community Standards. All meetings of Honor Council are conducted according to the following procedures:

- All policy violations shall be presented to the alleged student in writing. A time shall be set for the University Honor Council meeting, preferably not less than two nor more than fifteen calendar days after the alleged student has been notified. These time limits may be extended by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards at their discretion for good and sufficient reason.
- Prior to the formal University Honor Council hearing, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards, or the designated representative, meets with the Honor Council to discuss and clarify procedural issues.
- In University Honor Council hearings involving more than one alleged student, the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards may permit separate hearings.
- The alleged student and reporting party may call witnesses. However, a witness must go through an approval process. This process requires presentation of a legitimate need for the witness in writing to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards in advance of the hearing. The University Honor Council, at the discretion of the UHC Co-Chairs and Assistant Vice President for Community Standards, may accept pertinent records, exhibits and written statements as information for consideration.
- University Honor Council hearings will follow proceedings as outlined. All questions should be directed to the appropriate person, asked in a respectful - manner, and asked if necessary to the outcome of the hearing.

- The University Honor Council hearing panel will discuss the evidence and determine its findings. There is a single verbatim record, such as an audio or video recording, of all University Honor Council hearings. The record is the property of the University. A verbatim record is not required to be kept of the deliberations in executive session. The University Honor Council hearing panel has the right to request either party involved to repeat or provide further statements. A verbatim record is kept of such further discussion.
 - The University Honor Council's determination is made on the basis of whether it is more likely than not that the alleged student violated the University Honor Code or the Code of Community Standards. Additional sanctions may not be applied to a student who failed to appear before a University Honor Council hearing panel (the case will be heard in the student's absence). In all cases, the evidence in support of the policy violation is presented and considered (even in the student's absence). The determination of the University Honor Council is made by majority vote.
 - Upon completion of the University Honor Council hearing, the UHC Co-Chairs report findings and sanction recommendations to the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards (for academic cases) or Assistant Vice President and Dean of Campus Life, or their designee, (for community standards cases).
 - Sanctions for Honor Code Violations will be determined by the Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards reserves the right to accept, reject, or modify the University Honor Council's recommended sanctions. The Assistant Vice President for Community Standards or designee officially informs the alleged student in writing of the findings of the University Honor Council hearing panel and the sanction, if any, to be impose.
 - The student has the right to submit a written appeal to the Vice President for Institutional Integrity (for academic cases) or to the Assistant Vice President and Dean of Campus Life, or their designee (for community standards cases) within 5 business days of the decision and the sanctions imposed. Grounds for appeals include:
 - Presentation of new information that would likely alter the determination of responsibility and/or sanction(s) (as new information, this information was not reasonably available at the time of the Educational Conference or hearing);
 - The sanction(s) imposed are substantially disproportionate to the policy violation(s);
 - Or the existence of procedural errors so substantial that it greatly impacted the determination of responsibility and/or sanction(s).

The Vice President for Institutional Integrity or Assistant Vice President and Dean of Campus Life conducts an independent review of the case and determines whether to uphold the decision of responsibility and sanctions. Students (and, if relevant, the faculty member) will be notified through written communication of the final decision.

If the decision and/or sanctions are upheld, a copy of the letter will be placed in the student's community standards record. If the decision is overturned and/or sanctions are altered, the student will be notified in writing and documentation will be adjusted accordingly, if needed. The decision of the Vice President for Institutional Integrity or Assistant Vice President and Dean of Campus Life, or their designee, is final.

The University has discretion regarding the form and breadth of documentation related to any official hearing(s), including but not limited to conflict resolution meetings, Educational Conferences, administrative hearings, or University Honor Council hearings.

Reporting Unethical, Improper and Illegal Behavior

Any member of the Wingate University community may in good faith report the occurrence of and refuse to engage in any activity or situation they reasonably believe to be unethical, improper, or illegal without fear of dismissal or retaliation of any kind. For purposes of this policy, members of the Wingate University community include current students and members of the Board of Trustees, administration, faculty and staff.

If any student has observed conduct or activities engaged in by any trustee or any member of the administration, faculty, or staff that they reasonably believe to be unethical, improper, or illegal, that student should ordinarily report such conduct or activity to the appropriate Department Chair or, alternatively, to the office of the Dean of Campus Life. Wingate employees should ordinarily report any observed unethical, improper, or illegal behavior in accordance with the University's grievance procedure.

It is anticipated that the vast majority of reports regarding misconduct can be appropriately and quickly addressed through the channels described above. However, if a student or employee believes that the grievance procedure has not adequately addressed or is incapable of adequately addressing their concern, they may report the concern directly to the University's legal counsel. A special telephone number, designated exclusively for this purpose, has been established at (704) 714-2800. This number will direct callers to leave a recording detailing their concerns. Grievance Procedures

Despite best efforts, conflict at times leads to a grievance or formal complaint. This could involve other students, faculty or staff. A formal complaint requires written documentation outlining the area(s) of concern.

An attempt should be made to resolve the conflict individually; however, if that is not possible or presents an uncomfortable, unsafe, or hostile atmosphere, with the exception of matters involving allegations of disability-related harassment or discrimination, which are handled under the Student Disability Grievance Procedure, the following procedures should be followed:

Student to Student:

Students who are unable to resolve concerns with other students should submit a written document to the Office of Community Standards. A Residence Life director or their designee will make every effort to resolve the conflict. If the problem is not adequately addressed a formal appeal may be sent to the Dean of Campus Life. The Dean of Campus Life will evaluate the complaint and notify the appropriate individuals of a plan of resolution. Decisions of the Dean of Campus Life are final.

Student to Faculty:

Students should attempt to address the faculty member directly. If an adequate resolution cannot be reached, the student should submit to the Dean of the school a written statement of the conflict. Deans will attempt to mediate the conflict. If this attempt goes without being resolved, the student may submit a letter of appeal to the Provost for resolution. The outcome and decision of the Provost is final.

Student to Staff:

The student should attempt to address the staff member directly. If an adequate resolution cannot be reached, the student should submit a written statement of the conflict to the individual's direct supervisor. The supervisor should review and make attempts to resolve the issue.

If the conflict cannot be resolved, the student may contact the Human Resources office for assistance by submitting a written request.

If you are unable to resolve a complaint through the institution's grievance procedures, please submit a complaint to:

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, commonly known as the Buckley Amendment, was passed and put into effect in January 1975. The law regulates the use and disclosure of personal information in educational records and permits a student to know what material is maintained in those records. More information about the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) can be found online at: <https://www.wingate.edu/student-services/the-registrar/ferpa-your-student-rights/>.

Tobacco Policy

Wingate University is committed to providing its employees and students a safe and healthy environment. Because we recognize the health hazards caused by exposure to environmental tobacco smoke and use of tobacco products, it shall be the policy of Wingate University to provide a tobacco-free environment for all employees, students and visitors. For the purposes of this policy, tobacco products are defined as both combustible and non-combustible products derived from tobacco or nicotine and intended for human consumption, including, but not limited to, cigarettes, pipe tobacco, tobacco substitutes (e.g., clove cigarettes), chewing tobacco, snuff, cigars, e-cigarettes, and heated tobacco products. This definition excludes any product that has been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration for sale as a tobacco cessation product. Use of tobacco products by Wingate University students should be reported to the Office of Community Standards.

- Smoking and the use of tobacco products, including e-cigarettes, is prohibited by students, staff, faculty, or visitors in all buildings and vehicles and on all outdoor grounds owned, leased, or operated by the University. This prohibition extends to circumstances when the above places are being used for private events.
- The sale or free distribution of tobacco products or tobacco product-related merchandise is prohibited on campus and at school events.
- Student organizations are prohibited from accepting money or gifts from tobacco product companies, including food, beverages, or merchandise.
- Tobacco product advertisements are prohibited in college-run publications and in buildings or on grounds, including athletic facilities, owned or used by the University.

Alcohol and Controlled Substance Abuse Policy

The misuse of alcohol or the use of illegal drugs represents a threat to the well-being and security of University students and could jeopardize student health and risk the safety of others.

Thus, the University shall maintain and enforce a policy which prohibits the use, possession, manufacture and sale of controlled substances (i.e., illegal drugs or narcotics) by any person.

Students are expected to behave in a manner that does not jeopardize the health or safety of others or themselves.

- Students are expected to follow local, state and federal laws regarding the use, possession and distribution of alcohol.

Good Samaritan and Medical Amnesty Policy

The Office of Residence Life and the Office of Community Standards seek to eliminate any barrier that discourages students from helping, or contacting emergency services, in the event that a student or guest requires medical assistance for any reason, including as a result of alcohol poisoning or drug impairment. Any student who calls emergency services on behalf of a student in need of medical attention may not be charged with a formal violation of University policy. The student in need of medical attention may also not be formally charged. However, the University may require the students involved to complete educational programs and meet with University staff members. It is the expectation that all members of the community work to ensure the health and safety of the entire community, and are expected to act accordingly. Students who fail to complete the educational programs required of the Good Samaritan policy, or who demonstrate reckless behavior or a habitual disregard for University policy, their own safety, or the safety of the community may be charged with a formal policy violation. This will be determined on a case by case basis.

Parental Collaboration

The University reserves the right to notify the parents or legal guardians of any issue which may jeopardize the curricular or co-curricular success of students. The University will encourage student decision-making, participation and leadership within their experience in an effort to promote individual growth and development. However, in some instances parental involvement may be necessary. The decision to contact parents will be made on a case by case basis at the sole discretion of the University and in a manner consistent with applicable law.

Legal Consequences of Substance Abuse In NC

Alcohol

Under North Carolina General Statute 18B-302, it is a Class 1 Misdemeanor to aid, abet, sell or give alcoholic beverages to anyone under the age of 21, or to attempt to purchase alcohol under the age of 21. Fines and community service sentences starting at $250 and 25 hours respectively may be imposed for violations of this statute. North Carolina laws allow civil damages of up to $500,000.00 per occurrence for cases resulting in serious injury or death. Felony penalties may also apply depending upon the nature of the violation. More information regarding violation of this statute can be found at:

https://www.ncleg.net/enactedlegislation/statutes/html/bysection/chapter_18b/gs_18b-302.html

Controlled Substances

Legal sanctions for the illegal possession or sale of controlled substances vary depending on the amount of the controlled substance. Information regarding Federal penalties for drug trafficking may be found at:

<http://www.justice.gov/dea/agency/penalties.htm> North Carolina has structured sentencing for the illegal possession or sale of controlled substances, with judges permitted to impose a sentence within a prescribed range, depending on the class of the offense, the number of prior convictions for the individual defendant, and whether there were aggravating or mitigating factors in the circumstances of the offense. Similar to the Federal Controlled Substance Act (1970), the North Carolina Controlled Substances Act (G.S. 90-86) defines controlled substances and places them into one of six categories called "schedules." The placement of a controlled substance into a schedule is determined by a set of defined criteria that evaluate the substance's potential for abuse, medical use, and safety or dependence liabilities. Minimum punishments for violations may also be found in the Act. The Schedules, Controlled Substances and Penalties for Possession chart below describes the schedule system, gives examples of drugs in each schedule and outlines the minimum punishment for possession of any amount of the substance. The punishments for illegally trafficking controlled substances are much more severe than those for possession.

Illegal Trafficking Penalties

The chart below will describe the minimum amount of controlled substance that one must possess to be charged with trafficking. The North Carolina Controlled Substances Act (G.S. 90-86) may be found at:

The North Carolina Felony Punishment Chart & Minimum/Maximum Tables may be found at:

Refund/Repayment Policy and Title IV Funds

Policies governing University refunds and repayment, the Return of Title IV funds, the institutional and student responsibility in regard to the return of Title IV funds can be found in the University Catalog.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Guidelines

As mandated by the HEA, institutions of higher education must establish minimum standards of SAP. WU makes these standards applicable to all Federal, State and Institutional financial aid programs. The intent of this policy is to ensure that students receiving financial aid are making progress towards completion of their declared major. A student's SAP status is determined based on all credit hours, including transfer credits, and all periods of attendance at Wingate University, including periods in which the student did not utilize financial aid. Students must meet the standards outlined below to remain in good SAP standing and maintain their eligibility for financial aid.

Cumulative GPA

A student must achieve and maintain a cumulative GPA as defined for their program of study below.

Degree Program	Earned Hours	Minimum Cumulative GPA
Undergraduate	0-23	1.6
Undergraduate	24-56	1.8
Undergraduate	57 or more	2.0
Doctor of Pharmacy	All students	2.0
All Other Graduate/Professional Degrees	All students	3.0

Completion Rate

All students must pass (earn) at least 67% of their credits attempted. Multiple attempts of the same course will be counted (each attempt) for financial aid purposes. Standard rounding applies when calculating completion rate.

Maximum Time Frame

Students must complete their degree requirements within 150% of the published length of their academic program to remain eligible for Title IV aid. This is the maximum allowable time for receipt of financial aid regardless of whether the student did or did not receive financial aid during any period of his/her enrollment.

Evaluation Period

SAP will be calculated annually at the conclusion of the Spring term for all students. Students who do not meet SAP standards will be placed on Financial Aid Suspension (FAS) and ineligible to receive financial aid for future term(s). The student will receive an email notification detailing the loss of financial aid and options for an appeal. Students are placed on FAS if any of the following are true:

- Failure to meet minimum GPA requirement
- Failure to meet minimum completion rate requirement
- Attempted hours \geq 150% of published program length

Students are notified of their SAP standing by email during the annual review period. Students are responsible for staying informed of WU's SAP standards, to monitor their own progress, and to review their University email account frequently for updates.

Appeals

Students placed on FAS who have extenuating circumstances are eligible to appeal to the FPO Committee. Students are subject to the following maximum approved appeal limits during their academic career:

- Undergraduate: maximum of 2 appeals during their enrollment at WU. A second appeal will not be granted for the same circumstance and must be well documented.
- Graduate/Professional: maximum of 2 appeals during their enrollment at WU. A second appeal will not be granted for the same circumstance and must be well documented.
- Maximum Time Frame: maximum of 1 appeal during their enrollment at WU

Academic Plans

Students who appeal, and subsequently have their appeals approved, will be placed on an Academic Plan. Once the Academic Plan is finalized and signed, the student will regain eligibility and be placed on Financial Aid Probation. Academic Plans are available for up to four semesters, and students placed on an Academic Plan must continually meet the terms of the plan (each semester) as outlined. If a student fails to meet the terms of the Academic Plan for any given period, the student loses financial aid eligibility and will be placed on FAS. Academic Plans must be signed and received by the Financial Planning Office by the last day of the semester Drop/Add period for which the appeal is approved.

Regaining Eligibility

If a student has lost financial aid eligibility due to not meeting the established SAP standards, the student may regain financial aid eligibility for a subsequent term if they meet SAP standards on their own prior to the start of any given term. Students regaining SAP in this manner must request a review at the end of the term once final grades are reported. There is no official SAP check for any term other than the annual Spring checkpoint.

Special Considerations

Student athletes must satisfy the eligibility requirements established by WU and by the NCAA to be eligible for athletically related financial aid.

Programs administered by outside agencies, or states other than North Carolina, may have their own academic standards for students (the student may be eligible if the outside agency does not require the student to meet SAP guidelines). Students are responsible for reviewing the requirements with the agency that is providing funding.

Select Grades & Courses

Withdrawn Courses: Courses the student has withdrawn from and has been given a grade of "W" will count as attempted but not earned credit hours and are not included in the GPA calculation.

Incomplete Courses: Courses the student has not completed and has been given a grade of "I" will count as attempted but not earned credit hours. These courses are counted as a grade of "F" in the cumulative GPA calculation.

Failed Courses: Courses the student failed and has been given a grade of “F” will count as attempted but not earned credit hours. These courses are included in the cumulative GPA calculation.

Passed Courses: Courses that the student has passed and has been given a grade of “P” will count as earned and attempted credit hours. These courses will be calculated as a “C” in the cumulative GPA calculation.

Audit Courses: Courses that the student has audited are not considered in the cumulative GPA or completion rate calculation. Students are not eligible to receive financial aid for courses that are audited.

Repeated Courses: All repeated courses are considered in the cumulative GPA and completion rate calculation. Students are eligible to receive financial aid for a completed course one time after receiving a passing grade (D or higher).

Transfer Credits: Credit hours from another institution that are accepted toward a student’s educational program must count as both attempted and earned hours. Attempted / earned hours also include credits earned through Advanced Placement (AP), College Level Examination Program (CLEP), or other similar testing programs.

Academic Bankruptcy: Credit hours dismissed through academic bankruptcy will be considered as attempted credit hours in the completion rate calculation.

Additional Considerations

- Students required to restart their degree program will have all prior SAP components calculated in their cumulative totals.
- Students who change their major are responsible for maintaining SAP in accordance with the procedures as outlined (all hours attempted and earned at WU will be counted in the SAP calculations).
- Students who are readmitted to WU following a period of non-enrollment must meet WU’s SAP policy in order to regain eligibility for financial aid. The SAP status will be calculated at the time of re-entry.
- A student may change from one degree to another during attendance at WU. Students who change from one major to another are required to maintain SAP and complete the coursework within the maximum timeframe. All attempted hours from a previous major are included in the total attempted hours.
- Students seeking a second degree and students with a double major may reach the maximum time frame standard at an accelerated pace. A student becomes ineligible for federal aid when they complete the degree requirements for their declared major (regardless if the student applies for graduation or accepts the degree at that time).
