

Incoming Freshman Summer Reading Assignment

Due Date: September 5th

This summer, we are asking you to read the book linked below, How to Win Friends and Influence People. This selection will help you be successful at MOT Charter by showing you techniques that boost collaboration, communication, and critical thinking. You can expect to hear many of your teachers and fellow classmates refer to the ideas you will learn while reading it.

Click the link here (How to Win Friends and Influence People) for a PDF copy, check out a copy from your local library, or order a copy online. The edition number will not matter too much.

You will receive your first grade in English 9 for the following assignment, to be completed as you read the book.

The book is broken into four major parts. For each part, you need to submit a reflection. This can be a vlog entry (about a minute in length) or a written paper (about a page in length). Any submissions developed using AI will receive a zero.

Some ideas for how to approach your reflections:

- how and when you might apply his suggestions
- why you think the suggestions might work
- evidence of these ideas you've already encountered
- your overall opinion on the ideas included in that part of the book
- any of your thoughts not included above – these are YOUR reflections after all!

For full credit, you should submit four written pages or four minutes of video. You may switch between the two options if you like.
