

COPYRIGHT COMPLIANCE

It is the policy of Colorado Springs School District 11 (the District) that the District and all of its employees and agents shall respect the intellectual property rights of others, including copyrights, within the course and scope of their employment with the District. Copyrighted materials, whether print or nonprint, shall not be duplicated unless such reproduction meets fair use standards or unless written permission has been received from the copyright holder.

Fair use is defined in 17 U.S.C. § 107. You can find that definition on the District's Learning Resource Services web page under 'Copyright Information'. Unless your use qualifies as fair use under federal copyright law, you may only use text, photographs, videos, and other content that you or the District created, or that you or the District are authorized to use. This means that you must not upload or post any text, photographs, videos, or other content, or use content in your videos that someone else owns the copyright to (such as music tracks, photographs, snippets of text or copyrighted programs, etc.) without obtaining written authorization. This applies to any content used or posted on websites, blogs, and any other forms of social media.

Any District employee or agent who violates copyright law may be held personally liable for copyright infringement and may be subject to disciplinary action, including termination of employment. If you have any questions, or would like more information, please contact the District's Communications Director. Staff may also access a Copyright Fact Sheet, a Libel Tip Sheet, and an Employee Legal and Ethical Handbook by going to the District's Intranet or by contacting the District's Office of Communications.
