The Elementary and Secondary Education Act, also known as "No Child Left Behind", requires schools to provide military recruiters with a list of students' names, addresses and phone numbers or lose federal funding.

However, the law also allows a parent or student (age 18 or over) to request that the student's name and information not to be released, and requires that schools notify parents of this option.

If you DO NOT wish to have your student's name and information included on the list released to military recruiters, you must complete the form below and return it to the Guidance Department by October 2ND, 2023. If you would like your student's information shared with military recruiters, you do not need to do anything; the information will be automatically included.

_____ As a parent, I request that the name, address, telephone number and school records of the student (s) listed below NOT be provided to military recruiters.

_____ As the student listed below, I request that my name, address, telephone numbers and school records NOT be provided to military recruiters.
