Claremont

Senior Madison Salisbury completed the Criminal Justice course at Claremont High School. Criminal Justice is a nine-week course that introduces students to careers in the criminal justice system. Students are also trained in crime scene investigation, criminal procedures, criminal law, and firearms training. With career plans in law enforcement, Madison wanted to jumpstart her career pathway. Madison shared that her most memorable learning topics were about search warrants and probable cause. Mr. Sabolchic added, "Madison is a great student. She completes her assessments on time and is always willing to participate. Madison is a leader among her peers." Madison is passionate about a career in law enforcement. Her dream job is to be an FBI agent in behavioral science. Thank you for sharing this story, Mr. Sabolchic!

Emily shares, "I signed up for an ROP class because I wanted to learn the techniques in photography and see the areas where I can improve and maybe take on this as a career in the future." She acknowledges photography provides "creative freedom in this aspect where I can make amazing images for others to see, that hopefully is liked and offers inspiration." Emily adds, "ROP is important to students because it teaches them something that may come in handy in the future." Emily is confident she will pursue a career in the arts to utilize her creativity and imagination. Thank you for sharing this story, Mr. Alaniz!
